Possibilities For Incoming Cabinet

Barbara McConnell and Jean Anne Cotton were nominated by the Y. W. C. A. cabinet Tuesday, Mar. 18, for president of Y. W. C. A. Jean Stratton, and Marjorie Thomas were nominated for vice-president while Jane Elliott and Phyllis Van Duzer were nominated for secretary. Jane Menold and Dorothy Rickards were the nominees selected for treasurer. The election of the new officers will take place tomorrow in chapel.

A committee made up of the seniors on the Y. W. cabinet and three noncabinet members representing other classes had charge of these nominations. Senior members on the cabinet are Doris Bennett, Ruth Gensbigler, Mary Young, Marian Smith, Mary Elizabeth Johnston, and Jean Jacobson, while those representing the other classes were: junior, Louise Stewart; sophomore, Carol Scott; and fresh man, Helen Hibbs.

Platforms of the nominees are follows:

Through the Columbia Artists ser ies, the Federation has succeeded in securing the well-known Metropolitan soprano, Rose Bampton; the Busch string quartet; and the pianist, Mieczyslaw Mumz. These three artists. along with two concerts by the local symphony orchestra, will comprise the Wooster Cooperative Concert series for the coming year. The selections were made with an attempt to fit the popular appeal and to give representations in varied fields of music. The string quartet, especially, is being brought here at the request of numerous members for this type of music. The Busch ensemble is considered one of the best on the concert stage. Feature of the series is Rose Bampton, who has gained popularity and fame as a star of the New York Metropolitan Opera. The soprano will be singing in Cleveland with the Metropolitan in April, appearing in Wagner's "Die Walkuere".

Nominations for the judicial and administrative presidents of next year's W.S.G.A. have been closed, and the following girls have been nominated: administrative president, Martha Mc-Creight and Lois Grove; judicial president, Erdine Maxwell, Lorna Strawn, and Celia Retzler.

All of the nominees have worked out programs for next year.

Lois Grove was brief. "If I'm elected I will try to do my best to bring about a more informal relationship between Women's Self-Government and student, and to make self-government as progressive and fair as possible."

Martha McCreight states as her aims: "As the needs of people arise, the government of the people should cope with each need. My program for the W.S.G.A. would follow this principle. As changes are needed, the program would shift slightly to comply with these needs. I would try to follow the progressive system already set forth in the administrative government and keep the wheels of the machinery of government oiled."

Erdine Maxwell said, "If I were elected, I would do all I could to administer fairness to the girls and to maintain at the same time the ideals of the College of Wooster."

Celia Retzler adds a concluding word. "Rules aren't the pleasantest thing to have but they are a necessity in a college like Wooster. Since they are a necessary evil, I believe that they should be carried out in the fairest way possible."

Lorna Strawn's ideas on self-gov day, Mar. 27, at 1:20 p.m. under the ment were expressed thus: "Women's auspices of the history department. Self-Government at Wooster is some-Another motion picture, "Rebuilding thing of which we can all be proud the Indian Country", will be presentand, were I elected judicial president, ed on Friday, Mar. 28, at 9 a.m. and I would strive to maintain the ideals of fairness and honor which characterize it now."

Students Help Select Prayer Week Guest

William Barr, chairman of the Week of Prayer committee for the year 1941-42, announced today that any student or faculty member wishing to suggest a speaker for that week may do so through any member of his committee. This should preferably be done before spring vacation. Bill emphasized the fact that this would provide for a much more democratic way of selecting the speaker.

Dorms Cooperate To Increase Roll

Some of the men's dormitory sections on the campus have been cooperating with Coach Munson of the athletic department in a plan whereby prospective college students may be encouraged to attend Wooster.

Each section is being asked to list the high school from which their members graduated. This list will be handed to a central committee which will sort out all duplications and return the lists to the sections. The sections will then write the high school principals for lists of prospective college students. In this way, the college admissions office is expected to add 5000 names to its prospective student list. First section has already secured over

Many of the schools, in sending the names of prospective students, also list the student's qualifications and his or her extra-curricular activities. This is of much assistance to the admissions office in that it makes it easier to sort out and find the type of student that Wooster wants.

The plan, first suggested by Mr. Munson and begun under his advisorship in First section, is still in a youthful stage. All the sections and the freshmen living in Douglass hall are being asked to give their support to the scheme.

It has been charged that the Voice does not adequately represent student opinion; that it is one-sided in its presentation of international problems. These columns have already pointed out that the political stand of the paper, though possibly not constituting the attitude of the mass of students, represents at least a strong majority. And moreover, the mention has been made that all are free to air their views and opinions through communications to the editor. Any student in his right mind may state any arguments he wishes in the Voice. We would like to suggest a comparison. Even as the Voice is the student body's medium for the expression of campus opinion, so the chapel service is the medium of the administration for the same purpose. Yet, are both sides of the world's problems freely discussed here? Do we not hear rather a constant reiteration of administration views? Why not an equable statement of both sides of current controversies, in chapel as well as in the Voice?

The Voice Goes To The Parties By Jean Smeltz

The signs of spring that we heralded last week, birds and section formals, are very disillusioning as the wind whistles past our ears, the snow persists, and the trees creak with the cold-but the day will come when cold will be an unpleasant memory-

This week the mirrors were overworked as each junior girl looked for potential May Queen qualities in herself. Most of us turned away, however, and settled down to nominate five others. The reigning beauties are Eleanor Rogers, Margaret Sherrard, Peg Bamford, Ruth Lamborn, and Jean Anne Cotton. The list looks pretty promising with three blonds, a dark-haired beauty, and a red-head.

But to get away from the aesthetic-The week-end looks to be one of those typical spring week ends with three section formals on Friday, Mar. 21. Not to be partial, we'll take them in numerical order.

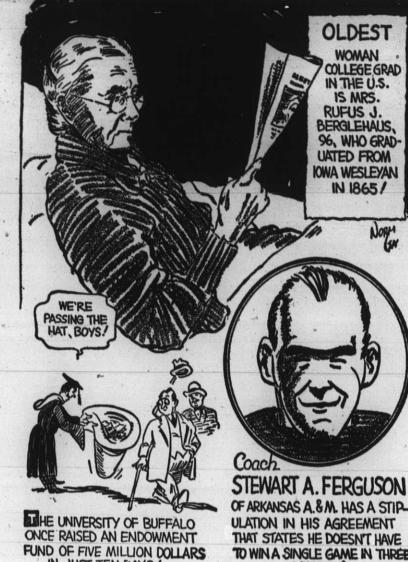

What's this? The Waldorf-Astoria with its dinner-dance crowd. No, it's SECOND SEC-TION and their dates, formally attired, going into Hotel Ohio to eat before proceeding to Galpin to dance. Dinner will be served at 6 p.m. and'the suave strains of Larry Grayson will open the dancing at 8. Howard Van Noate refuses to divulge the mystery of the decorations, but many meetings and much looking at the dance floor show that fertile minds are at work.

After Second, comes THIRD SECTION whose boast is that their formal dinner-dance is full of the Wooster spirit since they will not stir from the campus from 6 to 12 p.m. The dinner will be served in Hoover cottage and the dance will be in Douglass. Our old favorite, Tommy Van, is with us again to play for the inmates of the synagogue and their dates. "It is to be an extravagant and magnificent undertaking," quote Jimmy Vitella, program chairman. But nary a word about the theme falls from these sealed lips.

A big jump brings us to EIGHTH and NINTH SECTIONS, whose members will also bring the dress suits from the mothballs and have their tux shirts dry cleaned. They will occupy Babcock from 8 to 12 p.m. Ah, but here's a joy to a social columnist's heart. A new band will appear. Gar Wood's band from Dayton will play, and that's not all. To disprove what was said last Sunday, part of the band will fly down from Dayton to Wooster in order to participate. Your columnist quizzed Murray Somers hopefully to gain a hint as to the theme of this dance, but the aspect of Babcock will remain a secret until Friday night-

On Saturday night, the gym will indeed be a beautiful sight to us frail clinging vines as from 8 to 11 p.m. the "W" men, each with

Draft Will Cut College Enrollment As Defense Program Gets Under Way

Colleges and universities over the nation will lose 11 per cent of their male students to Uncle Sam's defense program this summer, if these students today accurately prognosticate their future, student opinion surveys of America disclosed in the results of a national sampling. Projected against the total enrollment in colleges today, this figure suggests that more than 80,000 college men believe they will either be called by their local draft boards or else they will volunteer for their year's service instead of returning to school in the fall.

Because of the selective service act provision permitting deferment until June 1 for all men 21 or over enrolled in school, very few undergraduates have already entered into their TO WIN A SINGLE GAME IN THREE YEARS!

volunteer. Nearly four-fifths of the students now in school believe they will return for at least one more year's study. This study should not be interpreted to mean that college enrollments will be depleted by 11 per cent. This figure is merely an indication as to how much the defense program is liable to affect the college male.

The exact percentages, as found by the surveys through interviews taken on the scores of campuses participating in the poll, are as follows: Will volunteer or be drafted.....11.2%

Will do neither

Place Fritz Thysson in Concentration After Helping Hitler Become Power

By BOB RICKSECKER

The newspapers show the present problem in the light of dictatorship vs. democracy, or force vs. ballot. Let us investigate beneath the surface.

Socialist Germany

Hitler gained power mainly through the help of Fritz Thysson who needed a strong man to regain the ore mines across the border from his steel mills. In the '20's and early '30's the National Socialist regime put its emphasis on the nationalism, but today Fritz Thysson is in a concentration camp. American newspapers may portray Hitler as a throw-back to extinct absolutism, but in reality the German state is socialistic. The rationing card has only so many points, and, regardless of wealth, you are permitted only that much. A fur coat takes 80 points, a pair of stockings 10. The bourgeoisie is rapidly becoming nonexistent, but the proletariat still supports Hitler. Germany may be a dictatorship, but the strength of that regime exists in socialistic practices.

Already in 1935 Mussolini was boasting that capitalism would be suppressed in Fascist Italy. Since the Ethiopian war there has been no capital earning in that country.

Russia, the one country which lagged till the 20th century in its revolution, completely skipped over the interim of middle class rule. The small business man never lived in Russia-because he was already dying throughout the world when her oppressive rule was overthrown. Russia leapt from serfdom to big business, and the result was a regime of the proletriat.

Roosevelt Switches

In our own country, Franklin Roosevelt gained office the first time on a platform opposing dole, public works, spending for recovery, government borrowing, and government centralization. Yet in spite of this Mr. Roosevelt became convinced of the necessity of reversing himself on every one of these counts; because he recognized the potency of a new force-the lower classes.

From our chapel platform we heard that Bevin is the second most important man in England, because he keeps labor pacified.

The leaders of these nations have felt an explosive force, and utilized it. For the first time in history, these nations are being ruled with an eye to the lower classes.

Today there are thirty strikes in this country. The University of Chicago round table disclosed the fact that there are three times as many strikes occurring in this month of March as in January.

Labor today is entrenching itself for the strife after the war. A solution must be found now, or labor will find its own in socialism.

War Not the Answer

To all this there can be but one conclusion. War is not and can not be the answer. A policy short of war such as the country is following disrupts the economy so much that it merely serves to aggravate the situation

Let us take off the cloak of the knight errant and tend to our own problems instead of lining up for the defeat of a single crazed expansionist -a conqueror who already has spread himself too thin and is bound to collapse.

QUESTION: DO YOU BELIEVE THAT THE HOOVER PLAN FOR FEEDING SMALL, DEMOCRACIES SHOULD BE PUT INTO EFFECT?

Dean Mordhorst, Sr.: Though I am a hopeless Anglophile, I do not see how the Hoover plan will impair the efficiency of the British blockade or benefit Hitler. Starving people are often apathetic and unreasonable; how do we know that they won't blame England for their plight? How do we know they care who wins unless they have food? Catastrophe must be averted if possible.

Walter Krumm, Soph .: We should by all means give the Hoover plan a fair chance. An experiment over two or three months would reveal much. If successful, fine and dandy. If not, we would at least have tried to save these millions of people.

Students have asked for this in the contributors' columns of the paper. "Why not let thoughts and facts and figures be aired in healthy fashion?"

Last week's inquiring reporter found a number of students anxious to hear unprejudiced discussions of all phases of timely questions. At present the chapel service might be compared to a publication with a strictly disciplined political policy ,and no room for "letters to the editor."—J. L.

a date, trip the light fantastic. As if seeing these muscle men weren't enough, the coaches and their wives will be the chaps. It's an exclusive affair, open only to those who have a W on their manly chests. Larry Grayson and his band will form the musical background. Kid Kate, prexy of the organization, promises a successful formal dance.

For those who wear plain sweaters, there will be a jitterbug contest to build up resistance and wind. In Babcock, to the tune of the vic, all those who love twinkling toes can prove their stuff. An added incentive of a prize will be offered to the best couple. If you can't jitter-bug, come for the show. It ought to be good.

Exhausted after the last note of "Beat Me Daddy, Eight to the Bar" dies away, Wooster settles on its foundations and sleep creeps over the campus. Another week-end has come and gone.

In its column "From other Campuses" the Mount Union "Dynamo" writes of an incident which if you study carefully you might recognize. "Professor Vergilius Sure Anselm of Wooster, accidentally hit upon a new method of keeping students awake in classes. Monday, Mar. 3, Professor Anselm came to his classes wearing one brown shoe and one black shoe." -Nice going, Mount Onion!

The parents of a Wooster student were much surprised when the draft board sent them his draft classification. He had evidently been keeping something from the folks. The board put him in class 3-A which is the class for those who are married and have dependants.

The American University at Cairo in its propaganda to entice students to teach in Egypt, states that it will consider only Protestant Christians with proven interest in Christian activities. They also mention that only those draftees in class 4-F will be accepted. Curious Voice reporters anxious to get a scoop called the draft board to find out what class 4.F was. They were told that it was the class for the mentally unfit and morally degenerate.

Alumni Notes . . .

By DOT RICKARDS

From the March issue of the Wooster Alumni Bulletin comes more news of the '39 and '40 classes.

Paul Millard is teaching vocal and instrumental music at Butler, O., and is handling two English classes besides. He says that his teaching schedule is taking quite a bit of his time, but that he gets back to the campus now and then.

Peg Magee writes from Wellesley, Mass., that she hopes to acquire her M.A. in June and that she sees Jean Enfield and Eleanor Roddy in Cambridge occasionally.

Colonel Welch, class of '40, is working with the Prudential Insurance Co. and has enrolled in the night school of the University of Louisville for additional work in French. Perhaps he plans to sell life insurance to the French people; who know. Bob Hewitt has been signed up by the Chemical Bank and Trust Co. in cation association has summarized the results of an enlightening survey of the public's attitude toward education.

New York City. Kay Wick Pancoast and Jack have moved from Atlanta to Berwick, Pa., and are planning to come to Wooster for Color day.

In presenting the survey summary, Frank W. Hubbard, director of research for the National Education association, points out that lack of public support is responsible for the fact that "plans for improving education so frequently remain between the protective covers of reports." The present survey, he continues, is one of the first national polls of public attitudes with regard to youth and education. Among the highlights of the survey is: Should youth discuss issues? Seventy-two per cent think that young people should discuss controversial subjects among themselves; 18 per cent are opposed; and 10 per cent have no opinion .- A.C.P.

Exactly one year previous 80 per cent of the college men declared they would not volunteer if the U.S. went to war for reasons other than the defense of the country, but in October 1939, only 58 per cent said they would not volunteer if the U.S. went to war against Germany to protect England and France.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor of the Voice:

The false impression is rapidly growing that the majority of students on our campus lean strongly toward an isolationist point of view. Continuous and intensive publicity has tended to over-emphasize the support behind the isolationist movement. On the other hand, a quiescent majority has failed to make its position clear. To fearful danger of socialism. start a general expression of sentiment in regard to the policy of American isolation, we present a month our position.

We believe that the United States is not an isolated unit of civilization; inherent in the strength of our country lies a great responsibility to aid in establishing "a just and lasting peace" among all nations. We believe that the situation which we face is of immediate concern. We urge drastic measures to combat the threat of the totalitarian philosophy, particularly as it appears in Nazism and Fascism.

There are those who have cherished ideals of love and brotherhood and tried to aid in establishing a world free from aggression. Perhaps these are not called upon to participate in military action. But those people who have not hitherto assumed responsibility to create a world-wide fraternity and cooperation among nations must now choose between cowardly inaction and actual support of forces at present fighting the evils of totalitarianism. In Germany this has taken queer shape. The mixture of a revenge spirit and socialistic practice has resulted in military expansion of revolutionary ferver. But this expansion has already over-reached itself. Murmurings are heard from the conquered provinces. The fall of Hitler is coming, Germany will contract-but the movement will go on!

Socialism The Force

This is the dynamic energy in the world today which democracy must recognize if it is to survive.

"Defense" appropriations already amount to a debt of $53 for every man, woman and child in the United States. Peacetime production of goods is being stopped as rapidly as possible. When government buying stops there will be a crash making 1929 look like prosperity. Any attempt to return to the old laissez faire will be met with revolution. Even with attempts to pacify the workers, our country stands in Martha Milburn, Jr.: I think that the Hoover plan would be a good idea if the food reaches the right people and if it is worked out as well as in the last war.

Katherine Sommerlatte, Sr.: I support the Hoover plan on humanitarian grounds. I do not think that the American people can hold themselves aloof, as a chosen nation, from this war. The Hoover plan is so constructed as to offer a maximum of aid to starving peoples and a minimum of offense to the British government.

Phil Hofmann, Soph.: A nation with a belly full of food is more apt to appreciate and fight for democracy than a starving one.

Stan Coates, Jr .: I'm willing to be convinced, but I feel now that all lands under Nazi control are integrated into the Nazi system. Therefore, any aid to a part is an aid to the system.

HAILSTONES

Kent State university's Student Council has forbidden the creation of any more honorary "queenships". It appears that too many classes and organizations have been putting forward campus queens to represent them. The straw which broke the camel's back was the desire of the freshman class to have a king and queen to rule over the class dance.

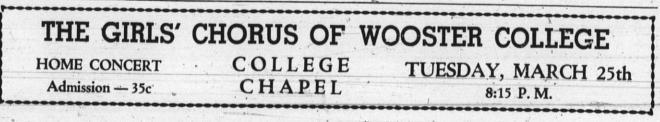

Informal sailing instruction is being given to students of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Sigma Delta Chi fraternity at Valparaiso university, Indiana, took in their freshmen pledges just in time. After graduation in June, there will be only one upperclassman in the fraternity. It will be the first time in the history of Valparaiso university that the yearlings will have control of a fraternity.

Here's a hard luck story about Lylene Garner, a freshman at Eastern New Mexico college. On the first day of school she fell down stairs and suffered minor bruises. Later, she got appendicitis and had to have an operation. Next, she was accidentally hit by a friend and sported a black eye. Now, Lylene has a broken nose, acquired when she tried to walk through a closed door.

Denison university has opened a financial drive to raise $2,402,500. This amount will be used for endowment and building funds.

All's quiet on the sport front preparatory to warming up to the spring athletic program. Stiff, smelly basketball togs have been peeled off their users, crated, and shipped to the cleaners for some lucky freshmen next season. The swimmers' total wardrobe has been tucked in a shoe box and will undoubtedly keep the moths out of breadlines until next October. Intramural issues have been settled until the advent of baseball; and the only voluntary exercise the athletes will be participating in is the annual boogie woogie avec femmes come Saturday night. At present the "W" association administration is trying to build a defense against the usual financial loss incurred by this function. Since it is the only social ballet the musclemen toss each year, it seems that full cooperation should be expected by every member. The trouble lies in the fact that those fellows who think nothing of banging into a 200 pound tackle on the gridiron shirk from leading interference for a little 110 pound damsel around a dance floor. The finder of a solution to this situation is entitled to one free pass.

Just how well does local swimming talent stack up against the reputed cream of this region's crop. Clothing not fit to send overseas will be sold at a rummage sale to be held on Mar. 27 and 28 in an empty building next to Annat's on the south side of the square. The clothing not disposed of will be turned over to the Salvation Army.

Besides the knitting program under way in the dorms no other definite plans will be made until late spring.
