Wooster Arugues Non-Intervention

Editorial

Since our last editorial, the Wilson administration has greatly moved—a speech delivered by former president Herbert Clark Hoover. Mr. President is an outspoken opponent of America's non-intervention in the war that we have heard yet for us; we believe, that Mr. Hoover's argument complete.

"War," he said, "means that the United States would have at least an outlaw of all our soldiers, go to bolster home defense. Thus Britain would gain a great deal, and the United States would lose very little, the source of warfare she cannot do without."

If we should enter the war, and England would fall before her, but fully sufficient, and will be. There are those who think that we should have to carry on the war alone—fully 3,000 miles from Germany! Germany can go on to say that an American invasion would require to us 500,000 men in addition to the British force, and 40,000 tons of shipping in which to transport these men. It would take ten years to build these ships. At the present time we do not have 300,000 men who are sufficiently equipped with planes, tanks, and guns to meet 500,000 Germans. We will not even have 1,000,000 men as equipped probably another twelve months.

If we engage Germany in war in the Atlantic, we will immediately have our left hand cramped to prevent Japanese aggression on the Pacific coast. This will be the opportunity which now appears to us. The Japanese have not two a reunion and would have to dart from our army from the Atlantic to the Pacific, how could we possibly do?

Facilities Inadequate

An overwhelming majority of the students and faculty at Wooster are poor. The administration has not attempted to present social program. These are the results which we have to deal with in this present chapel conducted by the Voice.

The schedule of social events is not determined by the students or the faculty. It is arranged mainly through the efforts of the Student Union to the administration. Various facilities with limited facilities those organizations cannot adequately prepare a program which would meet the needs of the students.

We understand that the administration is at the present time contemplating imposing fines which would add a great deal to our college life. The plans are premature and the administration has done a commendable job in anticipating such a need because the present arrangement is certainly inadequate.

The recreational rooms in lower Rocke do not begin to satisfy the needs of an average Wooster student. The ping pong tables, and for even few things to do in the evenings is a problem for us. The lounge does cause much better comment among the students than the recreational rooms are for such things as off-campus dancing, etc., which are often contrary to the policies of the college.

The students need a hall or building in which all would enjoy a complete policy which would come. Game, music, and publication office be provided; a dance floor for all students, better arrangements for the libraries be made. We feel that such an improvement in the present recreation problem until further ability will come但仍 will not be.

Three places are being considered. The first is to remodel the "old" gymnasium which now houses a number of offices and make use of this space to enlarge and utilize the Observatory, and the third place to remodel and renovate the tennis courts which are not used often.

We feel that certainly no matter what the college proper, it will meet with the full approval of the student body. It will be among the first of all proposals much of the students are in favor, and that the college fully recognizes the need of the students, and will cooperate with the students where possible.

Voice Refutes Comments

A recent Voice editorial, "Chase Is Justified", has received much adverse comment, both from the faculty and student body that we feel justifies our position.

Some people seem to think that we published this article solely to stir up discussion. This was not our purpose. In accordance with our own principles, we try to present the factual information where we believed it was due. The editorial was written with full knowledge of the circumstances which existed in the winter class over the choice of an orchestra for the prom.

But we want to make certain that once a decision had been made past feelings would be forgotten, and the whole class would unite to present its part in the prom.

We do not condone those who disagree with us, and hope that the spirit of our campus is one of mutual respect for the decisions of our peers. For only if both sides of the social aspect of Wooster are not as ready to judge of the other's rights.

Mr. Hubble considered the use of convocation.

The ex-president claimed that "This is passing over the real issue. The issue is not the steps, automatic or manual. Our main attack at the moment is the policy of the administration and it is to be of any use to them. To make it effective, then, we should win the students to a common position.

We must equip these steps with rebellion and the steps will be automatic, it is said. By sending contraband goods in, "We will have the steps back and they have taken," etc., we are simply saying that they will be automatic."

Hooher Fights War

England are calling the fighting for our life on the West coast and at the same time calling us to fight in Asia and fraternity war. Yes, "war monger," all arguments against the war.

then awarded Dan Feduniak, right, of the LANDBS from the August Thermals. Hurlbut made the score 3-0 with a solo homer in the second inning. The hit was his 12th of the season, and it also gave the Buckeyes their first lead in the series. Hurlbut had been searching for a homer in the past few games, and he knew he needed to hit one to turn the tide of the game. The Buckeyes were behind 2-1 at that point, but the home run gave them a much-needed boost of confidence.

During the third inning, the Buckeyes continued their offensive surge. They added three more runs to their lead, making the score 6-0. The run total was due in part to the efforts of several players, including Johnny Greenberg, who scored a run on a single and a sacrifice fly. The game was well underway, and the Buckeyes were in full control.

The final score of the game was 6-0, with the Buckeyes emerging victorious. The win marked a significant milestone for the team, as it secured their place in the conference championship. The victory was a testament to the hard work and dedication of the players, and it showcased their ability to work together as a team to achieve success.
