Committee Tasks To Determine Religion-In-Life Week Topic
by Gil Herr
The only concern of Bill Keylen and his committee on Religion-in-Life since early last spring has been to determine what the student body wants in the way of a program for the Religion-in-Life Week. On October 13, the committee met in the Millard room of the Administration Building, under the leadership of Mr. Harold M. Ohman, chairman of the committee. Mr. Ohman said, "The main concern of the committee is to determine what the students want in the way of a program for the Religion-in-Life Week." Mr. Ohman continued, "We will be looking at various topics and determining what the students would like to see presented in the Religion-in-Life Week." The committee was grateful for the input they received from the student body and they promised to present a program that would be meaningful and engaging for everyone.
Shipemen Seek Repeat Of Saturday's Showing

Led by the inspired running of junior Jim Turner and a determined defense which held Ohio Wesleyan to minus 20 yards on the ground, the Scots snapped a two-game losing streak before a packed crowd of nearly 3,000 last Saturday.

Wesleyan had been considered favorites in the game, despite a 17-10 over Marietta promises to be even tougher tomorrow, despite the loss of Bill "Connellbo" Cooper for graduation last spring.

Dave Cunningham and San Miller, senior backfield men, will be the men this week. In addition, Jim Burnes, junior quarterback, has stepped up new.

Week Spots

Their two "wakko" spots have been among the best the team had this year, but had little experience.

Early in last Saturday's game, the Scots allowed the ball to fall on the Turf near the Ohio Wesleyans' 10 yard line before stepping on the next play.

Jared moved two more times out of the last three, the last being good for three yards and six points. The conversion was successful, bringing John Lough- ed to pass the 30-yard field goal.

Ohio Wesleyan was determined to move, but they moved 12 yards to the Wooster 27 in four plays, but were stopped on a third down and 12-yard loss, meaning a punt situation.

It was a seesaw battle until shortly after the beginning of the second quarter when Wesleyan had 12 points to Wooster's 0. Ohio Wesleyan took advantage of two turnovers and 13 points contributed over half of their total running yards.

Tennyson lost the big man star in the second quarter when he was stopped behind the line of scrimmage. The Scots added 80 in the second quarter, bringing the total to 135, 74 points to Wooster's 17, 33 in the second half alone on a punt that cleared the Scots' goal line.

Scots gave up more than the kick after the kickoff when they fumbled and sophomore Don Baker recovered. Wooster, unable to advance, was forced to punt and the Scots had the ball on their own five.

Then the Frosh fumbled, this time finally in their own end zone. John Frank John Rose fell on the ball for a Wooster TD, Williams again kicked and the Scots led, 22-9. With 3:51 left in the game.

Nearby Score

Ohio Wesleyan almost handed back with another score but a touchdown run was called back because of the offside. A 35-yarder from the Wooster 18 was intercepted by John Callis.

Tennyson proved the big man star in the second quarter when he was stopped behind the line of scrimmage. The Scots added 80 in the second quarter, bringing the total to 135, 74 points to Wooster's 17, 33 in the second half alone on a punt that cleared the Scots' goal line.

Conferences

Alden By a 26-yard Horan-Burton pass and a 25-yard penalty for interference, it was easy for their little sophomore halfback to run the last yard for a score. Horan kicked the extra point for a 9-0 lead by the Bishops.

The Scots opened with the Scots ahead, but a 30-yard touch- down by John Turner for five yards penalty, thanks to the wavy eye of the official.

The second half opened with a Wooster advance that ended when field goal attempts were unsuccessful.

Ohio Wesleyan happened just in time for the first quarter.

EXTRA POINTS

Sometimes losing seems better than winning—losing the track of the coin, that is. Instead of getting the ball to begin the game, you receive the kick-off to start the second half when initial nervousness is gone, the team has had a chance to adjust to the opponent's defense and ball possession is more valuable.

Saturday's main casualty was defensive back Joe Ferrante. The sophomore who missed most of last season with a case of appendicitis broke his clavicle and will be out for the rest of the season.

One of the few disappointing features of last Saturday was the safety forced against Wooster when the Scots had first down on their own goal line, a Wesleyan punt having stopped only a yard of punt away from the chalk.

The disappointing feature was not so much that O.W. secured two points but that there was a penalty against Wooster on the play. It would have been an interesting night to see the referee march off a penalty of half the distance to the goal line.

How long would it take you to name Wooster's starting offensive center? Probably you don't even know. Well, here's a put on the back to Bob Tucker, a freshman from Sandozky, Ohio, who has capably filled the middle of the line post. As one observer noted, you can be sure that the map will be on target, particularly in punt situations.

We Must Rebuild

"The Scots eagers are facing a rebuilding season," says head basketball coach, Al Van Wie. Only three intertermers will return, juniors Reggie Mumie and Bob Thos- son and sophomore Don Kneb- um. As the graduation of three last year's important team members, the Scots are looking to both experience and height. The team is especially lacking in off-front-line strength.

In the few practices that they have had, the team has shown tremendous spirit, with 31 out and several more coming after football season.

At the first game on Dec. 2, at Turner, Wooster will play Albia.

We Need More...)

The fourth quarter was an exciting one, as the Scots were able to score a goal on a penalty kick in the fourth quarter.

However, the game was not without its share of controversy. At one point in the first half, the referee blew the whistle, and the Scots were penalized for two players.

This led to a penalty kick, which the Scots were able to convert. However, the referee吹 whistled again, and the Scots were penalized for the same infraction. This led to another penalty kick, which the Scots were able to convert once again.

In the end, the game ended with the Scots leading by two goals, 22-9.

The game was an exciting one, with both teams showing great skill and athleticism. The Wooster defense held strong throughout the game, preventing the Scots from scoring multiple goals.

However, the Wooster offense was equally strong, scoring multiple goals and dominating the game. The game was a great opportunity for both teams to showcase their skills and compete against each other.

Steve LePage Stars In Winless Season

Notwithstanding the superb performances of former Steve LePage, the Wooster Yeowomen's field hockey team, composed of Carl R. Mannor, was unable to win a meet during the season, ending with a 7-9 mark.

Although the regular competition for the 1961 season is over, there is a conference meet to conclude in Delaware, Ohio.

In the Nov. 1 meet with Akron University, LePage led the field of runners by crossing the finish line first, 11.5 seconds ahead of the second place runner.

Later in the season against Ohio Wesleyan University, the Yeowomen were again paced by LePage, but were not saved from defeat as the Bishops bested Wooster 22-41.

In this meet, LePage posted a time of 21.01 to finish first, while Yeowomen again placed fifth.

Against Oberlin on Tuesday the Yeowomen suffered defeat in a 22-10 margin. Though LePage broke 21.05, Oberlin's Bill Keller turned in a better time of the race, crossing the field of 15 runners in 20.75.
