Welcome High School Students

To the High School Visitors:

I am a new pupil here for only one day. A day may stay to vice, and especially to Wooster, is a terrible undertaking. No result of any of these, however, is to be expected. No pupil can now present himself at the front door of his old class and say to his new schoolmates, "I hold good not only for your rough day this September, but for my whole school year."

I have been at Wooster for seven years. You will feel better for me more every day, and in the end Wooster will always maintain that pleasant impression that it is a new pupil.

Parrish Piano Program For Fourth Year

Mr. Charles Parrish of the 어렵면, whom many have seen at the piano in the chapel, will give a recital this evening in the gymnasium. (An evening of music) The program of the evening consists of a selection of songs, "This Little Light of Mine," "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," and "Blessed Assurance," a selection from the book of the Bible, and "Lilly's Haunting." Mr. Parrish will be accompanied by Miss Zander, a violin student. The program will be an opportunity for the school to hear the voice of a fine pianist and a well-known musician of the school.

New Books to Library

Include Foreign Languages

Some recent books received in the Library are the following: "Wings," by John M. Stirling; "The Shadow of the Dove," by Ouida; "The Story of the Englishman," by S. N. Jevon; and "A Treatise on Government," by J. H. Plunkett. The latter is an interesting biography of the Englishman, showing how his novel was influenced by his attachments to the English church. (In the study of his researches on the subject of government, he was a great influence on the political thinkers of the day.

When the opening kickoff for the Wooster game was announced last Sunday, Dana Converse was in a high state of excitement. Although the football season had not yet started, the gesture of recognition from the university toward his senior season, the senior year, was a thrill to him.

Converse's senior year was proclaimed as a season to remember, as a time when he would make a significant impression. The Wooster Band has a tradition of recognizing senior players, and this year, Converse was one of them.

The senior year is significant in a football player's life. It is a time when they are expected to lead by example, to bring their A-game every day, and to display a sense of gratitude for the opportunity to participate in such an important sport.

No player enjoys his senior year more than Dana Converse. He has been a member of the team for four years and has seen many changes in the coaching staff and the players during that time. The senior year is a time when he will be able to leave his mark on the team and the program.

The senior year is also a time when players reflect on their experiences and the lessons they have learned. It is a time to say goodbye to teammates and coaches and to prepare for the next chapter in their lives.

In conclusion, Dana Converse is excited about his senior year at Wooster. He is looking forward to the opportunities that come with it and the challenges that he will face. He is grateful for the opportunity to continue playing football and to make the most of his senior year.
CAST REHEARSALS FOR "HOME SWEET HOME"

Spiral-shaped program is presented in the "Papers of the Dramatic" to be presented to the public.

The college for the last two weeks has been rehearsing scenes in connection with the form and nature of the play. This year's production of the college has been devoted to the study of the American way of life, and its recent development.

The second scene of the day's rehearsal was that of the family living in a small room.

The scene was well presented, and the characters played their parts convincingly.

The college is planning to present this production in the fall of the present year.
