Union Theological Preaches Sunday

Eminent Lectures, Writers, To Preach on "Love, Anxiety, Power, etc.", By BESSY ROSS

As the chaplain on Sunday at 11 o'clock, in the Tabernacle, to "Love, Anxiety, Power, etc.", the subject of the day was "The Love of God and Man".

In addition to the morning service, both pastors will preach at one o'clock at the Tabernacle.

The next service will be held at First Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Nabnoff is the professor of philosophy and psychology at Brown University and a professor of philosophy at Union Theological Seminary. He is a member of the faculty of the Union Theological Seminary and a member of the board of trustees of the Union Theological Seminary.

Some of Dr. Nabnoff's publications include "Theology of the Mind," "Theological Aspects of the Future," "Theological Aspects of the Future," and "Theological Aspects of the Future." All these books have been published in 1983 at Oxford University Press. The first book of this series was written by Dr. Nabnoff in 1983.

It is in the Dr. Nabnoff's view that the "love of God and Man," in the sense of the work of the Week of Prayer, which under Dr. Nabnoff's guidance has been the theme of the work of the previous years, has been a novel explanation of their beliefs.

Wooster's four-year graduating class this year has become the first large graduating class to present a chapel program. This group of 144 will be the first of the students to graduate who have completed the curricular program. Their leaving will not be marked by knoxian speeches or by the traditional cap-and-gown ceremony. Nearly all these students will enter the service in one way or another, and they will all be the first to get a crack at the Asia, but they will certainly be followed by the coming genera-dents who will follow. Our college is now working double time to supply the armed forces with college men. It is a very serious moment when you realize that your college is the first one to make this test. The boys have the greatest pleasure that we look back on the best four years of our lives. We feel that this is the day that we have proudest of the part that we played in our college career and live longer after that. We are the first class to be left, but we will be back on our next years to give the benefit of Wooner for certain the bad things and that time that these are really very trivial

It is our hope that Wooster can remain the high boy to remain in the first place. It will be great to see this day after the war will be able to come back to the peaceful, fine boyhood that we have four years ago.

Amen on Prayer Week

OCCASIONAL CIGARETTE THE CAMPUS has combated the larger part of its observance of the Week of Prayer and we should stop at this time to consider just what we can do about it.

We most commend the committee upon the decision of the student for this year's discussion. It is the first time that four of a group a quite academic member of the student body in these services. The Campus was fortunate to have both the composition of an outstanding and prominent man as Dr. Brightman. Wooster was not too, because had we not succeed in previous years it is a sign that in the confusion of these wars, we have lost a part of our cultural interest. Wooster passed this test with flying colors. To say otherwise would be pure folly, because our own students have met the demand that they were asked to do. The day that the meetings was excellent. The committee worked something new yesterday and got the full support of the executive board.

The individual group meetings in the dormitories were much better than the large assemblies. Although the sentiment of the Week of Prayer were better indicated today, they are not as good as promise. The spirit exhibited there more than proves that the boys are willing to be educated. The students of Wooster are still interested in developing their spiritual life, especially in the greater problems which concern us all.

This year has specially been devoted to students who did not entirely approve of the speaker, the great majority of students now wish to be in favor of Dr. Brightman. It was honor to the campus as a whole, that everyone who could find the time in his week of Prayer to attend.

We look forward in particular to Dr. Nichols' address on Sunday which will close the Week of Prayer, one of our most College athletics is in a turmoil this week. Now 10 days have passed since the death of Ben Case, Ohio State's athletic director. In many respects, this was the most able athletic director in college athletics. He was a man of great integrity, a man of vast experience in college athletics, and a man who had a profound influence on the development of college athletics in Ohio and the nation. His death is a great loss to the world of college athletics. There is no doubt that the football season will be delayed, but the situation will be handled by the Board of Trustees. They will appoint another director to take over the reins and continue the development of the athletic programs.
