Benno Rabineh, Famed Violinist, Plays in Chapel

Wooster will be fortunate next week in playing host to Benno Rabineh, world famous violinist. Mr. Rabineh is on USO tour and is visiting various campuses, but through the auspices of the local Kinnick Union, he has agreed to come to Wooster, where he will play here Tuesday, Nov. 2, at which time he will play on the main stage of the Union and give a concert in the high school auditorium that evening.

Born in New York’s lower East Side, Rabineh began to study the violin at the age of three, coached by rather inadequate teachers, but he made such progress sufficiently through the years that he was able, at the age of 25, to find himself the violinist who has named him one of the most gifted of his American peers.

Rabineh made his debut in Carnegie Hall in 1927 with the New York Philharmonic conducted by Lorado Little, and since then he has faithfully completed the rendition of concertos by Elgar and Tchaikovsky, and in his interpretation of the latter, a tune which is dear to his heart, he has given an observation of detail. He has made many tours throughout Europe and Europe, establishing his fine reputation. Old Downes on once wrote: “There seems to be no ex- cept of violin playing that plays out less than he does. Each of his interpretations are carefully considered and realized, one would say, precisely.”

Tall and well built, Rabineh has a manner of playing that is both physically and spiritually swimming and diving, and he has several championships as a runner.

Club Corner

We know just exactly what you have been going through in the matter of those rude awakeners which, at 7 a.m. on Sunday mornings, pleasantly arouse you from a life of fun and foibles! However, the advent of college life, for the most part, has kept this down, and indeed, like all bad things, these must come to an end and we feel that we should take the time to say a few words in the way of a “farewars-see-over” let down feeling is to spend even one hour in a favorite club. Why not try this mild, easy-to-take remedy? We guarantee that it is good for what ails you.

German Club: The regular Mon- day night meeting of the German club has been cancelled in favor of a “Dinner Party” to be held Friday evening, Nov. 9. The dance is open to everyone and there will be a charge of 17 cents. Walzer cards, and acquaintances—no saying of refreshments—will be enjoyed by all who come. Sorry fellows, but no dates allowed.

French Club: Last Tuesday two members of the French club enjoyed an evening of songs, games, and a fine meal at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan. The care and planning of Mr. Pat Cooper.

Postage Interrupted: It is possible that it has accepted the following forthcoming payments: Edna Hatt, Carroll Reed, C. B. Grace, Mary Lubke, David Williams, and others will be initiated at the next meeting of the club. The meeting is to be held at 7 o’clock on Nov. 4, in Backus.

Classes Elect New Officer Year For Year

Returns from the recent class of election reveals that the usual form of election was the one to which you can add 'college of fine and applied arts. The various positions are to be filled at the Hotel Statler and at Allen Memorial, the location of the school. There will be a historical exhibit featured at the Cleveland Health Museum on the school’s work.

The various addresses to give votes include “Blood Plasma Project” by George H. Whipple of the University of Rochester, “The Matrix of Medicine” by Alan Gregg of the Rockefeller Foundation, and “The Crisis Threat” by Regional Firms from Harvard University.

This medical school was formerly a part of Wooster College, as the continuation of the Charity Hospital Medical College in 1875. It was then transferred to the Medical Department of Ohio Wesleyan in 1896, where it merged with Western Reserve in 1910.

Sunday Evening Forum

Have you been wondering why you have to exist in three times, and do you have a theory of your own on the subject? In either case, come to the next meeting of the Sunday Evening Forum, and take part in the discussion on “Practice or Preaching” led by Betty Lou Dickens.

Forum meets every Sunday evening, 9 p.m., at Taylor Hall.

Yoder; stage man- ager, Bill Shafer; stage chairman, Anne Winder.

Big Four Makes Financial Appeal

Johnston Joins Speech Faculty. Succeeds Miller

Miss Marilyn Johnston of Woos- ter has been appointed instructor in the Speech department, taking over all of the duties formerly held by the late Professor Emerson Miller, according to the announcement made recently by the Administra- tion. She will also take charge of the Freshman Apprenticeship, an under- derclass dramatic organization, and will greatly add to the direction of future dramatic activities of the Little Theatre.

Miss Johnston received her B.A. degree at Wooster College in 1941 and her Master’s degree from Northwestern University in 1943. A na- tive of Illinois, Miss Johnston is a native of Speech and English, graduating in both fields.

In 1941 Miss Johnston was win- ner in the orations and reading contest, also in dramatics. Two years later, she was president of the Kansas State. At Kansas State, she served as president of the Interna- tional Relations Club and was a member of Senior Debate and Glee Club. Among her various social positions, she was a member of the Neither, a girls’ social club composed of town girls which was formerly here on the campus.

Men To Continue Frosh Fledging

To continue pleading sections of this year in spite of the scarcity of men and the fact that unfortunately there is no impul- sively voted in a special meeting of men after chapel Turn- ing is so official in that the Executive Committee has voted to hold it in accordance with the section presidents and advisors, which has been voted by the M.S.G.A. and the opportunity to vote on it was pre- sumed to be a small and that these might be left out. However, the fraternities are trying to see if the advantages gained by sections can be balanced because of the disadvantages.

Calisthenics Become Order of the Day

Ordinarily, I am not the athletic type. I have tried bowling, but I am always too clever to take many runs out of the holes when I will call down the alley; and the pin- boys say they don’t mind setting up the pins the bowler knocks down, but when it comes to set- ting up the bowler as well, they say, Tenes. Tennis is a game I always confuse with baseball, and that would be a pity to have on a terminal. There is no reason why they should have to chase these boys around all the courses. As far as golf, it is a sport which I have never tried; I shouldn’t even know how to hold the club. There is one course in physical education this year, however, which suits me perfectly. It also stinks, pain, wrinkles, and crippling me, but that is all part of the sacrifice to the great god, Muscle. I am speak- ing of football, of course. There is another famous course familiarly known as Men’s gym class, Miss Alex’s athletic class. If professors have the ability to see that the students are heard all over the classroom at the end of the period when the professor has dropped the end of a string, they may have wondered why the sight of girls making their way up and down twenty streets, may not rest assured that it is not club initiation any more. We must go to the gymnasium on the campus now: “To be or not to be”—it is a question of muscle!”

Dickens Heads Committee To Solicit Students And Faculty

The annual financial appeal of the Big Four this year will be made during the week of Oct. 31-Nov. 6. The drive will be officially opened in chapel on Friday, Oct. 29, with a short address by Dr. Wil- liam I. Schenber, but all solicitation will be carried on thereafter. The fac- ulty will be solicited on Monday, and the students throughout the entire week. Betty Lou Dickens will be in charge, and the head of the committee for this drive will be Miss Johnston.

The Big Four is composed of four organizations on the campus: the Y.W.C.A, and Y.M.C.A., the Sunday Evening Discussion Group, and the Sunday Morning Worship Group. The goal set this year for the Big Four is $1000. As many tentatively bid $3000, two thirds of this money will be for the Woolworth and the m u c h of this will be used for the Y.W.C.A. and the D American soldiers in India.

Confused Times

“Today has been a turn upside down with confusion at the helm,” says Dick Green, Vice-President of the Board of Students. “Many of us have brothers, fathers, and uncles in the armed forces, while we in Wooster College are stone cold. There is no particular place in this large city in which we live to which we may have been organized and which we have kept up. Let us live for you some organizations which have been established for the college students, that help students during their college lives.”

Y.W.C.A. has done much to provide for the men on the campus and the only one for women is the Christian Women’s Y.W.C.A. The Y.W.C.A. has decided the club will have on women. The organization, of course, will be made up of women, and the question of women who are organized will be left out of this. The club has, therefore, no other organization which would be established for the college students, that help students during their college lives. Dean Interprets Russian Policies

By JANIE HOWE

Mrs. Vera Mitchell Dean held on audience of students and towns- people spotlighted for over two hours last Tuesday night in the high school auditorium, while she explained Russian policies a d d. The topic of discussion was "The Great Moscow Conference and the growing realization of the ne- cessity of our cooperation with Russia, Mrs. Dean’s plans for under- standing, by whatever method, particularly timely and worthwhile.

Continuing authority as Research Director of the Foreign Policy Association, Mrs. Dean has traveled extensively to world affairs. In the beginning she worked for the Foreign Service, but would be her own personal con- victions, but as she is known as a world affairs authority, she was given the task of organizing the authoritative Russian, her convictions were for the committee.

Background of Politics

In 1917 the political cleavage was the historical a d ideological background of Russian politics to- day. After a long and con- tinuing two continents, Russia has been free from foreign domination. The coming of the Red and East in search of the sea, and her people have de- veloped, which is very interesting.

Opportunities and Responsibilities

WOMEN are doing men’s jobs all over the world. Farmers, plant and harvest the crops; WAVES man radio stations; nurses treat the wounded in the hospital in Vietnam. And all night.

In campus activities the women have a majority in the organizations. The choir, Big Four, Student Nationalist Movement, and others have more women than men and others have shown the increased power of women. Women are capable of assuming the responsibilities and are handling the positions as well as their predecessors. Sometimes we wonder, however, if they realize the opportunity which is afforded by the altered conditions.

From the beginning of history, women have had to have an equal standing with men. Now they have their chance. By maintaining and supporting every bit of the organization they can prove to themselves, to the men, and to the world how much women have advanced. If they are not doing a job very well you wouldn’t be away, and it could be even better if you were doing it.

The increased interest derived from actively participating in an organization is a valuable experience for them. More women and interest is obtained from working in an organization. Knowledge of their own power and, with it, the power of women, is an awareness of unconsidered fields results from directing a program. So women, you see that we may broaden our own personalities and raise the status of women in the country by respecting our rights and giving our best to our individual responsibilities.

Are You Listening?

FOR a long time, the obvious instance during chapel programs has been the voices of the men. Some of these groups of men who have heard the speakers have been featured; but not only is it annoying to the students who have listened to it but, on the other hand, to the students who are actually attending services. People can also be scorching

In contrast, the women’s voices are almost nonexistent. While the men are the ones who are featured, it is also important to listen to the women. More open letters and letters to the editor are being addressed to this issue.

What has happened to the church community in which a woman is an integral part of the church? Many students have concluded with the people who are scheduled to appear before the assembly—are they making it any easier for them? Is it definitely discouraging to face an audience that is making no apparent attempt to listen, if it was said,

"Well, you’ve got me now, try and interest me. Just try!"

That is distinctly not the attitude to take. Much time and effort is expended in the church on a weekly basis. More open letters and letters to the editor are needed to address this issue.

The past situation cannot continue. Common courtesy is a tradition in Wooster which should not go out the window as many Wooster traditions have done in the past month. What do you intend to do about it?

Just a Suggestion

PORTRAIT sketches by Prof. Theodore Benson, a display on naval subjects, and pamphlets on international question comes exhibit a collection of International Affairs Council. These groups of men, art, books, and articles are carefully and thoughtfully arranged at regular intervals to give students the opportunity to see at a glance the library’s particular interest in a specific subject. The library is open seven days a week.

The women’s presence is increasing in the world and what the people in the campus have attempted to accomplish in the past. The women are manifesting an interest in their environment. Each shows things of outstanding interest in its field. By glancing at them our curiosity may be aroused to read further on contemporary and historical subjects.

The women have accomplished, in rustling pedoes.

Oberlin Rolls Over Wooster, 46-0

By Jim Hickey

A still unbeaten Oberlin eleven invaded the Severance Stadium last Saturday and left the rubber of the worst defeat in 27 years. The final score read, Oberlin, 46; Wooster, 0.

The game started out to be a real battle between the two teams, but toward the end of the first quarter, the Yeomen really purred it on and seemed to score every time they got their hands on the ball. During the first few minutes of the game, Oberlin started a touchdown march, but was stopped by a mid-field fumble.

Wooster defense really held the Yeomen to a minimum, as it was in the last half of the game that the Yeomen scored most of their points.

Oberlin's first score was made by Waters, who, after a sustained masterful drive, kicked the ball through the goalposts. It was the third place with calidad, and by then the Yeomen had dominated the game. It was the Yeomen's only score of the game, but it was a significant one.

In the third period, Oberlin received the kickoff, returning the ball to the 39 yard line, and then kicked on going. Harry Waters was over from the yard line to score his second touchdown of the day. A short punt by Pete Poppovitch gave the Yeomen the ball only 3½ yards away from paydirt, and this Al Zepk carried over it for another 6 points, but it was the last points scored by the Yeomen on the game. Oberlin's punt was blocked in the end zone for two more points.

In the second half, the Yeomen were stopped from getting any yards by the Wooster defense and were forced to punt. They had four punts in the second half, all of which were returned by the Yeomen. The Yeomen had three punts, all of which were returned by the Yeomen.

Statistics really tell the story of the game, and it was simply a matter of point scoring. Oberlin gained 221 yards, while Wooster gained 70. Oberlin's punt average was 30 yards, while Wooster's was 15. Oberlin's punt return average was 30 yards, while Wooster's was 15.

The Yeomen were clearly the better team, and they dominated the game from start to finish. The Yeomen's defense was strong, and they held Wooster to a minimum of yards. The Yeomen's offense was also strong, and they were able to score four touchdowns in the game.
