Craig Will Join Speech Faculty Next Semester

Dr. Wharton has announced that Prof. William C. Craig, present head of the Speech department at Carnegie, will resign the end of this semester. The new department head will be given his present duties of teaching and directing the department.

Dr. Craig has been teaching at Carnegie for the past year and has taken charge of the Speech department.

Theological Educated Ferm President At Last Meeting

At a recent meeting of the American Church in America, Professor Firth of the Philadelphia Theological Seminary was elected president of this organization.

During the meeting, Mr. Firth was asked to write a letter to the president of the university, stating that he was the most suitable man for the office, and that he would accept the position. Mr. Firth accepted the position and wrote a letter to the president, stating that he was the most suitable man for the office.

You have heard it said that there is never a beginning which has no end. Just so, here below and you will see that in Wooster's Corner there is never an end without a new beginning.

Dr. and Mrs. Scherzer have offered to open their home at 437 Cleveland Street for the benevolent Wooster Man club picnic. The dining room will be the site of a hearty and special dinner for over 275. Election of new officers will be held at 7:30 on Monday, April 16.

Big Four Electors, Makes Plans for Year

Alice Rogers was elected vice-president of the Big Four, Margaret Green was re-elected secretary, and Edna Stover was chosen editor of the Big Four. The election took place on April 16.

Mark Tetenyi and Donald Conger, members of the Board of Directors, have been chosen as candidates for the presidency of the college. The election will be held on April 17.

Psychology Prof Retires in May

After twenty-nine years of service at Wooster, Professor Martin Remp is retiring. Head of the psychology department, Professor Remp is a graduate of Wooster, where he has taught on the Hill since 1915.

Graduate Wives of Prison Life

Dean Bruer received a letter last week from Mrs. R. J. Mc Carthy, 42, a prisoner in the German prison. His family has recently received two letters from her, one dated December 23, and the other on December 26. These letters are sent to only one of the numerous prisoners here.

In the upper right corner of the prison the following can be read: "Prison Post." In the upper left, the name and address of the sender, "Prison Post," is given on the flap. In the lower right corner, the name and address of the recipient, "Prison Post," is given in the flap.

An amendment was also passed at the last meeting to allow the right of appeal to the board of control.

At the same meeting, Miss Shaved was elected president of the G. O. N., and Miss Shaved was re-elected president of the G. O. N. She is the first woman to be elected to the position.

Other officers elected were: vice-president, William Good; secretary, Margaret Green; and treasurer, Edna Stover.

One of the highlights of the meeting was the presentation of awards at the banquet on Saturday night. The awards were presented to the most outstanding students in each of the three divisions.

The program is as follows:
1. Introduction by Dr. Thomas McElvain
2. Invocation by Rev. Dr. Ralph McElvain
3. Address by Dr. John McElvain
4. Presentation of awards by the faculty
5. Supper and entertainment

How Charming Is Claudia?

CLAUDIA” has lost its charm as a puppy, aClaudia, the lovable, laughable child-beige, is losing her appeal and is growing mature.

The play was chosen as the senior class play because it was light and airy—something new. The class realized that observer passages would have to be cut, but it did not realize that all parts mentioning act as she or a he would be considereed unfit for the stage of the Little Theater.

Both stage production and the movie have been enjoyed by thousands all over the country. The lines are well-known. If this expurgated edition now being practiced by the cast is given, it should be recognized as a fitting tribute to the original for its omission rather than admittance. But the cut portions of this play will gain the spotlight which is being voided too.

College students who study Caulfield and Freud certainly will not be hypnotized by the charming "Claudia".

They’re Either Too Hard or Too Soft

GRIPPING is the proverbial rights of college students, yet we feel in this genre which is heard so many balls seasons is worst of consideration.

We feel we would Wooster to obtain an education, and it is true, because it will take years of study and a final study in the human's glee and pathways of the student to college. Undergraduates do not want to be namby-pamby about studying while others in the world are working harder than ever. So we must work as hard as we can. It will power to do if we can get along without it. Extra-curricula and social functions often acquire disproportionately amount of a time as a result.

On the other hand we must add that some courses are concealed to be beyond the scope of the pupils. Subjects on which we are aiming to get higher learning should not be made difficult since the material itself is often used by those who are entering to make of the uninformative to all the members of the classes. The grudge is not personal, but it is a problem of the common good.

In every department some of the courses do not contain comprehen- sive information which is essential in the intelligence of our students to college. Well, spring has maybe at last hit Wooster, and the big news today is the beginning of the major leagues! The time this hits the press there will be three games playing on the major leagues third field for a wartime season. The outcome of this season is still a major issue, and will remain one until the final out is made in the World Series next fall. It all is terribly important to our winning.

The coming season can be dismissed with a toss of the head or in one eloquent gesture. With the broken in, the St. Louis Cardinals are 3 to 5 favorites to take the National League flag, while in the American League it looks like a toss-up, with the World Champions Yankees holding the upper hand by precedence. The dark cloud that hangs over the baseball league this year is what the old Uncle Sammy will do, he will have the final say in all matters.

You're Remembered by the Way You Handle Merchandise

The way you handle merchandise is very important. Merchandise is very hard to get and must be remembered when looking through dresses. Wet clothing and dirty gloves and hands are the most injurious things to clothing. When you handle merchandise, whether it be formulas, dresses, or sweaters, your lipstick should be removed or lip-sticks used.

Your help will be greatly appreciated, and remember . . .
