Janet Lea Directs Two Performances Of 'Simon Big Ears'

by Jo Bruce

This afternoon in Scott Auditorium, the curtain rose on the first performance of Simon Big Ears, which will be presented again tomorrow, Saturday, March 12, at 10 a.m. The only children's play that will be given this year, it is full of fun and laughter. It is good entertainment, not only for the young in age but also for the young in spirit. All of the cast from Simple Simon to the costume crew have worked hard to make it a big success.

The plot, which in addition to numerous funny lines, includes many excellent morals, centers around Simple Simon, a stranger in a make-believe country of long ago. No one there is allowed to do a thing without the permission of the queen, not even to shave or to speak or even to think. Simon finds it hard to comply with these rules, and as a result, is put into prison. Many humorous events lead to Simon's release and to the Queen's realization of the value of personal freedom for her people.

The actors are as follows: Bud Campbell as Simon, Sally Anthony as the Queen, Don Shonting as the King, Al Haskell as the Executioner, Lynette Jackson as the Princess, Sue Stewart as the Washer Woman, Bob Calhoun as the Herald, Dave Kuebbeler as the Attendant, Dick Roeder as the Pie-man, Anna Mae Lovell as the Captain of the Guards, Judy Keller, Pat Campbell, and Fay Dunlap as the First, Second, and Third Guards, Jan Ackerly as Dress, Selma Hokanson as Underwear, and Jo Bruce as Nightshirt.

This production is a part of Janet Lea's Independent Study. Janet, a Senior speech major from Fredericksburg, Ohio, volunteered to direct the children's play. After reading many plays, she decided upon Simon Big Ears because of its humor and good morals. She chose the cast and has directed the production, aided by her advisor, Mr. Craig, and Miss Thomas, technical advisor.

Red Cross Drives To Enlist Support

Dick Morey and Peg McClelland are in charge of the Red Cross campaign for the Wooster campus, scheduled for March 11 through 13. It is hoped that students will enroll as members of the Red Cross by paying an amount designated by the organization. However, any donations are welcome, and these will assist in supporting Wooster's contribution to the material distributed by the American Red Cross.

The money which the Red Cross obtains will be used to benefit the armed forces and veterans. The Red Cross also supports the Blood Program. Our local chapter contributes $4 for each pint of blood processed. Funds serve to alleviate conditions in the disaster areas of floods, tornadoes, and hurricanes. First aid and water safety expenses are met through the funds of the Red Cross.

Paul Douglas, Senator From Illinois, Lectures In Chapel, Sunday Night

This Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m., under the joint sponsorship of United Christian Fellowship and the Institute of Politics, Paul Douglas, Democratic Senator of Illinois, will give a lecture in the Chapel. Senator Douglas' lecture will be the fifth in UCF's series called "Your Christian Faith and Modern Society." His subject will be concerned with ethics in politics.

A graduate of Bowdoin College, Senator Douglas did his graduate work at Columbia University, where he received his M.A. in 1915, and his Ph.D. in 1921. He has been given the honorary degree of L.L.D. from several institutions, and the degree of Litt. D. from Rollins College. A member of Phi Beta Kappa, Senator Douglas has taught both economics and industrial relations on the college level. His writings include many magazine articles and contributions to books.

In a poll of political scientists over the country, taken in 1952, Senator Douglas was rated as first of the 96 Senators. Also in 1951 in a poll taken of the political correspondents in Washington he was rated first. He has in his

CLASS OF '17 LECTURESHIP SPONSORS DR. E. H. HARBISON

By Sheldon Levy

"Western Thoughts About Freedom" will be discussed by Dr. E. Harris Harbison, Professor of History at Princeton University, on Wednesday, March 16, at 8:15 p.m., in Scott Auditorium. He is sponsored by the 1917 Lectureship.

Professor Harbison, who annually appears on the unofficial "Faculty Honor Rolls" compiled by undergraduate publications, is an established writer in the field of history. One of his best known works is Rival Ambassadors at the Court of Queen Mary, which, in 1942, won the Adams Prize of the American Historical Association, an honor bestowed annually upon the author of an outstanding study in the sphere of European history. He is also author of a section of Religious Perspective in College Teaching.

SFRC Discusses Music On Sunday

The possibility of having music in the Student Union on Sunday afternoons was discussed by the Student-Faculty Relations Committee last Monday night. It was recommended that the SFRC Steering Committee investigate the possibility of using the old juke box equipment on Sundays to play music of a different type from that usually heard on the juke box. It was felt by some members of the Committee that Sunday evening in the Union should be different from other nights and that music of a pleasant, but not strictly classical, type be played. Others felt that use of the new juke box would attract more students and be the simplest method of providing the music desired by many students. Since the Union is a business enterprise of the College, the SFRC cannot determine its policy, but it can make recommendations.

SCC Makes Plans For Easter Service

At the SCC meeting of March 1, the main topics of discussion were a proposed Easter sunrise service and the need for a special organization in which more deeply religious people could participate.

The SCC has decided to sponsor a sunrise service on Easter Sunday morning. As yet, the location for the gathering has not been decided upon, according to the committee.

The plans for Holy Week have undergone a few minor changes in that the special Good Friday service will take place in the morning, and not during fifth hour as originally planned. This means that 10 minutes will be taken off each morning class, and the service will be held from 9:25 a.m. to 10:25 a.m., or approximately chapel time.

Another suggestion was made that there be quiet organ music on Mondays during chapel period. During this time students could spend a few minutes in private meditation if they so desired. Such a plan would be completely voluntary.

The remainder of the meeting was devoted to a discussion of the need for a better way for students to express their Christian beliefs. It was felt that, here at Wooster, the mere act of belonging to and attending religious organizations is not always meaningful.

He was a member of the committee of six educators whose report on General Education in School and College was published in 1953 by the Harvard University Press. The report included a plan for integrating the work of the last two years of school and the first two years of college and urged full encouragement to the able student to break out of the academic lockstep and push forward at his pace in fields of special interest and competence.

Education Study

Active in both the instructional and extra-curricular phases of university life, Dr. Harbison, during the war years, was a member of the Princeton faculty committee that drafted the University's Divisional Program of Study. He has since served as chairman of the President's Committee on Student-Faculty Relations and as a member of the Executive Committee of the Study of Education at Princeton, a long-range project made possible by a grant of $200,000 from the Carnegie Corporation of New York.

The Princeton Study of Education, described by President Harold W. Doods as an "experiment in self-appraisal," is believed to be a unique venture in the field of higher education in that it is a systematic and critical analysis of student development and educational procedures and, in its later stages, calls for the active participation of alumni as well as students and faculty.

A member of the Princeton Class of 1928, Professor Harbison completed his undergraduate studies with Phi Beta Kappa honors, and took his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees at Harvard in 1932.

Students Assist Mission Project

For the past three years, Wooster students have been going to Colcord, West Virginia to assist in a mission project in the coal-mining area. Because the mines have been shutting down in recent years, the people have extremely poor living conditions.

The members of the work camps undertake such projects as painting churches, building fences, bridges, backstops, racing fields and worship centers, cutting and distributing cheese, and leading worship services and young people's groups.

There is a list posted in Center Kauke for all to sign who would like to go on the work camp during this spring vacation. The camp will be held from March 25 to March 30.

SCOTTS TAPE

by SHEILA McISAAC

There is one thing about being a columnist that eventually hits one, and that is we columnists are a dispensable bunch. Whenever little things like not enough space or a four-page paper come up it's "Where is Sheila? Good old Sheila, heh, heh. Funny thing, but there just isn't quite as much space as we thought." Long pause. "We knew you wouldn't mind." Now, if you feel slighted about your organization not getting in the news, think how slighted I feel! Of course I feel pretty good when I'm told ahead of time that I only need to dispense with a few words; it's the cutting of the finished product that hurts!

Tonight the Imps and Sphinx will hold their joint formal in Lower Babcock. The decorations will be built around a Cinderella Ball theme. In case any of you fellows who are going happen to read this, cake and punch will be served, and you will be expected to exchange at least five dances. There's an innovation!

Trumps and Echoes held their formal last Friday night, also in Lower Babcock. To carry out their theme, "Penthouse Serenade," the clubs had a cocktail party, Wooster style, before the dance. There was ample opportunity for club members, dates, and chaperones to become better acquainted over ginger ale with maraschino cherries and canapes.

Pyramid pledges gave the actives their annual party last Saturday. Snitching things from all the actives' rooms, the pledges managed to accumulate a prize for a treasure hunt. The refreshments took the usual fattening form—coke, potato chips, and crackers.

The newly organized Sailing Club held its second meeting Sunday, with Coach Shipe speaking. Members learned how to tie knots and talked over future plans.

Congressional Club met last night. Bob McQuilken and Bob Hull delivered affirmative and negative theses on "Resolved that the Eisenhower Formosa Policy Is in the Best Interests of the Nation."

YWCA will meet March 16. "Are You Glad You're a Woman?" I didn't have any choice in the matter, but I guess I am anyway. At any rate, the Social Responsibility Area of the YW is going to discuss that particular question at the meeting.

One more word—Senator Paul Douglas is speaking to UCF Sunday night. There will be a houseful, so you'd better get there early.

Generations Come And Go

Dear College of Wooster,

For a long time I've been intending to write you a bread-and-butter letter, but each time the idea came, I pushed it aside for another day. Since you have witnessed generations of college students come and go, you probably realize by now that procrastination is a characteristic of the species. We have lots of other characteristics too—gripping—for one, and doubting and searching, and falling in and out of love, and wishing we were somewhere else, and joining too many organizations or too few, and blaming our mistakes on somebody else or something else, and eating between meals, and running out of money, and talking a night away, and getting too little sleep, and—but the list is endless. And I don't need to tell you, anyway. For you have seen more generations of college students come and go than I have. Styles change; slang expressions change; interests change; names change and yes, faces too (although I imagine some of the names and some of the faces repeat themselves quite often). But I am willing to bet you a dollar that the fundamental characteristics of students were the same yesterday as today.

The Fifth Year Will Be the Hardest

I'm writing this letter to tell you that my four years here have meant a lot to me. Don't think I'm getting a premature case of alumni nostalgia. I'm still a student here, remember. Still adding my voice to the cries of the grippers. Still rebelling against the rule of eight, an over-glorification of the mind, and any rigid conformity. I've loved this place and have felt waves of overwhelming loyalty. I've hated this place and have called it a stifling prison. Even now, when I can see so much that is good here, even now, when I know in my bones that the fifth year will be the hardest, I am looking forward to graduation. I've been here long enough. I must go forward to something new.

But Wooster will always be a good memory. With time the rough edges—the ugly moments—will rub smooth, and the good moments will become even brighter. We graduates looking back will remember concerts and plays and lectures—Mr. Peters—serenades—weather and buildings—the band—days hallowed by tradition, like Homecoming and Color Day—teas, the Wooster version of the cocktail party—friends with whom we have laughed and cried and talked—activities—special days and nights—little things that make a whirling music in the memory.

Robert Shaw Was a High Point

One high point stands out in my own mind: Robert Shaw and the performance of the Brahms' "Requiem"—blossoms under a street lamp, joy, sadness, death, rebirth, all of life caught in music. Someone told me that Robert Shaw said to the choir, "I'm glad that it rained today. That's the kind of weather for planting people."

Memories of chapel speeches will linger too. Many of the best ones are only hazy recollections now, and yet their textures will remain. Some of the fragments that come to me now: a sentence of Santayana quoted by a professor: "It is not wisdom to be only wise—but it is wisdom to believe the heart." Another: "Know yourself, accept yourself, control yourself, give yourself." And still another: "Everywhere I go, I go too and spoil everything."

I think too about the advice which I have received during my college years from people here, as well as from my parents. One of the best suggestions came from Dr. Lowry in a speech which he gave to the class of '55 when we were still wearing our beanies. He said that each of us should try to have some time to himself every day. He said that we would need it. Experience has taught me how right he was. The other words of advice that I remember especially are not so much advice as they are words of inspiration, meaningful to me because of the circumstances behind them: "What woman has done, woman can do." "Anyone who wants to write must live largely."

Rufus Jones once said, "It is the teacher who discovers the hidden self in us and who sets it free, with its inherent capacities thrown into play that matters most to us as we look back over the receding years." I suppose that I will remember all my professors—the mediocre as well as the good ones, but it will be the latter who will have lit the candles in me. After all, it is the people—the students and teachers—that make a college. All teachers transmit knowledge, but along with knowledge, the great teachers transmit spirit, a spirit that kindles and transforms. I have felt this spirit here. It is the spirit of people who live as well as think, who give not only their knowledge but themselves. I think this spirit is the finest gift which you, College of Wooster, give to your graduates.

It's very late now. I'd better bring this letter to a close. There's much that I have left unsaid; there's much that I have not said well. But I hope at least that I have expressed something of what I feel. Thank you, College of Wooster.

Sincerely,

—J. H.

Across The Counter

To the Editor:

Out of curiosity I sat in at the Student Senate meeting of February 22, the one held in the dark. Among the new business brought up was the problem of inefficient service at the Student Union.

The students have made their complaints known, at least to the extent that the people behind the counter know about it. But many of the students, on the other hand, do not know what the people from behind the counter have to say on the subject. I should like to present some of their comments and suggestions.

Some of the students, they feel, do not go to the part of the counter from which they want service. For example, there are some students who go to the coke machine to get an orange or a root beer. Others go to the orange machine to order a coke or a box of Ritz crackers. Most people go to the part of the counter from which they want service, but there are others who do not do this and that cuts down efficiency. Of course, if someone has two orders—a coke and an orange—then it is hard to be at two places at once, but there are other times when this is not true.

Another comment that the Student "U" help has to make is that there are usually a few students who come in with large take-out orders when it is crowded. This holds up the service for the many people who only want one or two orders. They feel that if the ones with the large take-out orders could wait until the people with the single, double, or triple orders are filled, it would save time and cut down on the inefficiency.

A third suggestion that the people behind the counter make is that the students have their minds made up when they are asked for their orders, especially when it is crowded.

Some of the inefficiency is due to the arrangement of the appliances and facilities. Even many of the students can see that it gets congested when three people are trying to fill an order for two cokes and a milkshake all at the same time in such a crowded space. A rearrangement of some of the appliances might help, but a new Student Union would really solve that problem (hint, hint!)

The people behind the counter actually enjoy working there whether we realize it or not. If they didn't enjoy it they wouldn't be putting in a full day for 29 to 30 days out of the month. However, the Student Union help tells me that they do try to do their best in serving the students.

As to other suggestions, many people on both sides of the counter feel that if more reliable students could be employed the problem of inefficient service might be solved. This was done after the Band Concert last Sunday night, and it helped immensely.

Sincerely yours,

Lee H. Lybarger

Kenarden All-Stars Trounce Scot JV's

Last Saturday night in the gym, the Kenarden All-Stars blasted the Wooster JV's in an upset victory 60-49. The All-Stars, favorites of the large crowd in attendance at the game, outshot the junior varsity from the foul line and from the field.

The over-confident JV's, leading all the way through the first half, fell far behind with the opening of the second period. They led at the halfway mark by a score of 27-23. Bob Tignor sank a half-court shot for the All-Stars at the gun to close the gap to four points.

Different Game

In the second period of play, it was entirely a different story. The All-Stars knotted the count at 33-all and then pulled into the lead, never to be headed again. With the end of the third quarter, the Kenarden team led 45-38.

The junior varsity managed to pull into a tie with three minutes to play but Dick Stevic of the All-Stars, hitting with deadly accuracy all night, sunk two free throws. The winners then pulled far out in front as they increased their margin of victory to 11 points.

Hit 44 Per Cent

The All-Star squad hit on 44 per cent of their shots throughout the game as they tallied on 23 of 55 attempts. The losers did not fare quite as well as the records only show 18 scores for 61 shots. From the charity line, the JV's made 13 of 21 on 13 All-Star personals. The junior varsity was whistled 11 times and the winners sank 14 of 19 tosses here.

Stevic led the All-Stars in the marker-making department by hooping six goals and six foul shots for 16 points while Bob Rafos and Ted Hole each netted 14 points. Rafos was also a pillar of power under the board for the All-Stars in addition to his point-producing efforts. Tom Justice, pacing the JV's with his fine floor play and shooting, scored nine times from the floor and six times from the charity line as he totaled 24 points.

Win Nine

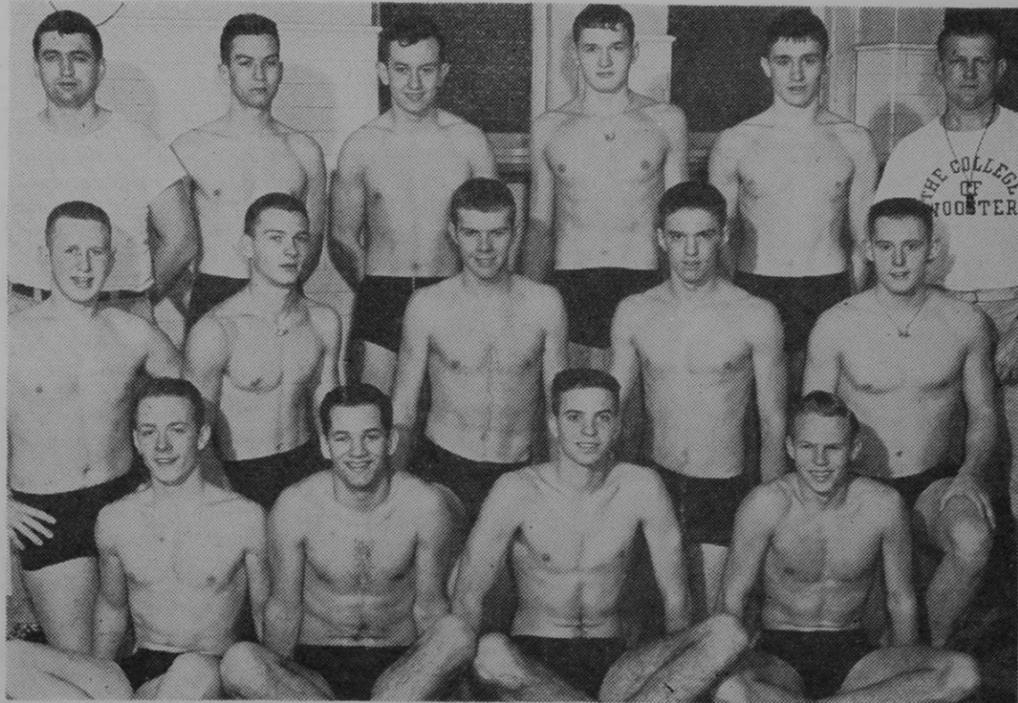

Jack Behringer's team has now closed the season of play with a final mark of 12 wins in 16 contests. They finished nine and one in the Ohio Conference.

This meet was won by Kenyon, scoring 98 points, with Oberlin following up with 71, Ohio Wesleyan with 38, Wooster with 26, Akron University with 20, and Wittenburg with two points.

Nine Firsts

Kenyon compiled its impressive total with first places in every event but the diving and the 200 yard breaststroke, both of which events were captured by Oberlin. Kenyon took both first and second places in three events, the 220 yard freestyle, the 100 yard freestyle, and the 200 yard backstroke. The only other sweep was made by Oberlin, which took first and second in the diving.

The Scots tallied in all but three events. Dick Evans, Warren Crain, and Bruce Hunt placed fifth in the opening event, the medley relay. Bob Watson took sixth place in the 50 yard freestyle and fourth place in the diving. Dave Dungan placed fourth in the 100 yard freestyle and second in the 150 yard individual medley with a time of 1:38.1, 4.4 seconds better than the old conference record. Captain Warren Crain placed second in a hard fought 200 yard breaststroke race. Wooster's freestyle relay team of Bruce Hunt, Bob Watson, Dave Swanson, and Dave Dungan captured fourth place in the final relay to bring the total for Wooster to 26 points.

Five New Records

The 1955 Conference meet saw five new Conference records set and two new Kenyon pool records set. Ted Fitzsimons of Kenyon set two Conference records with a 23.9 in the 50 yard freestyle and a 53.1 in the 100 yard freestyle. Skip Kurrus of Kenyon broke the 220 yard freestyle Conference record with a time of 2:17.9. Dan Ray from Kenyon set a new Conference record in the individual medley with a time of 1:35.9. A fifth Kenyon contestant, Phil Payton, set both Conference and pool records with his time of 2:19.0 in the 200 yard backstroke. The previous Conference record in this event was held by Wooster's Larry Price in 1952. The only record not set by a Kenyon swimmer was a new pool record in the 200 yard breaststroke of 2:44.2 set by Robert Huenefeld of Oberlin.

Swimmers Sink Case Tech 51-33

by Ned Wolfe

On Saturday, February 26, the Scot tankers defeated Case Tech 51-33 in the Wooster pool in the last dual meet of the season.

Wooster started off the meet with a win in the medley relay, gaining the lead and never losing it. Bruce Dilg in the backstroke, Warren Crain swimming breaststroke, and Sam Hunt swimming freestyle set a time of 3:19.3 for the medley.

Triple Winner

The next event, the 200-yard freestyle, saw the only triple winner in the meet, Morris of Case, take first place in a time of 2:06.2, only 0.2 seconds short of the pool record. Dave Swanson and Ned Wolfe followed through with second and third, respectively.

The Scots got their first individual win in the 50 yard freestyle with Bob Watson taking first in a time of 25.6 seconds. Second and third places went to Case.

Dave Dungan once again set a new pool record in the individual medley by winning it in a time of 1:36.1. Second place went to Ferguson of Case and third to Steve Taylor from Wooster.

First In Diving

Case Tech earned one of its four first places in the fancy diving, which was won by Tromblee. Bob Watson from Wooster took second, and third place went to Ned Wolfe.

First and third places went to the Scots in the 100 yard freestyle, bringing the running score to 30-20 in favor of Wooster. Dave Dungan won this event in a time of 56.4 seconds, with Longee of Case taking second and Bruce Hunt third.

In the 200 yard backstroke, Case narrowed the Scot lead down to seven points with a first place by Morris in a time of 2:38.6 and a third by Ferguson. Dick Evans copped second place for Wooster.

Crains Win

The Crain brothers swept the 200 yard breaststroke with Warren Crain taking first in 2:39.8, followed up by Al Crain in the second spot. Case's Kagan took third, giving the Scots a total of 41 points to 27 for Case.

Morris of Case got his third first place of the meet in the 400 yard freestyle with a time of 4:52.8. Ned Wolfe placed second for Wooster and Michota, third for Case.

The final event, the freestyle relay, was taken easily by the Scot team of Bob Hunt, Bob Watson, Dave Swanson, and Dave Dungan in a time of 3:51.9 which brought the final score to 51-33 in favor of Wooster.

Football Clinic Here

Head football coach Phil Shipe has announced that 10 high school coaches, seven regulation and three for six-man football, will appear on the program for the fifth annual Football Clinic at Wooster College on March 19.

Included in the talks will be sessions concerning the single wing attack, short punt offense, the "ride" series and the "spread offense." Two of the state's top football coaches are included in the program. They are Tom Harp of Massillon and Jim Scullion of Lakewood.

Three sessions are planned for the day, starting with registration at nine in the morning with doughnuts and coffee served. In the evening, following the fish fry, the coaches will see the movies of the Barberton-Alliance and Massillon-Canton McKinley games of last season and highlights of Wooster's 1954 season.

Davis Breaks Record

Mark "Buzzy" Davis became the first Ohio Conference player to score 600 points in one season as he pumped in 31 points against Hiram last week. His four-year total of points is now 1625.

Marietta has also become the first team to complete two Ohio Conference seasons in a row undefeated. The Pioneers have compiled 11-0 records two years in a row and have won the league title each time. They also have a conference winning streak of 24 games.

SPALDING SETS THE PACE IN SPORTS

Bud Barta

Bud Barta, a senior from Lakewood, Ohio, draws most of the credit for putting the Scots in second place in the Ohio Conference these last two years. One of Mose Hole's biggest problems next year will be the job of filling the husky guard's shoes.

Barta, a pre-medical student, has also lettered for two years in baseball where he plays second base for the Scots. The bespectacled former Lakewood High School student has been one of the most popular players on the hardwoods for many years at the college. We pay tribute to an athlete and a student of whom Wooster can well be proud.

Waynedale Picks Riebe As Coach

One of the all-time greats in the professional basketball world, Mel Riebe, will become the first man to coach the Waynedale Golden Bears.

Riebe, thirty-nine, has been appointed football and basketball coach with the appointment effective next fall. Riebe graduated from Wooster at the end of the first semester this year. He coached the Scot swimming squad which finished fourth in the Ohio Conference last week at Kenyon.

Mel, a native of Cleveland, replaced John Swigart on the coaching staff this last fall when the latter took a year's leave of absence.

Blood Drive Begins

Scheduling for the Blood Drive of the Wooster Chapter of the Red Cross will be held on April 6 and 7 from 7:30 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. in the Student Union.

Wooster Scots Trounce Slippery Rock; Smith Leads Scorers With 20 Markers

by Paul Martin

Closing the season with a fine 18-4 mark was a wonderful dream. But after the first period of play, most of the fans in the packed stands of Severance Gym last Saturday night wondered whether or not that dream would ever come to realization. For here indeed was one of the finest teams that the Scots have met for a long time.

Slippery Rock had a very unimpressive record, six wins and 11 losses. To Wooster however, this was unimportant because last year they had suffered a severe 93-62 loss at the hands of the Rockets and the Scots were well aware of their scoring punch.

Zone Defense

Both coaches stuck to a zone defense throughout most of the game. Slippery Rock, as Art Murray commented during the game, "had one of the finest zones and one of the tightest defenses that we've seen at Wooster."

Mose Hole started his four seniors, Captain Tom Gustin, Bud Barta, George Kim and By Morris along with Gerry Smith. Wooster pulled out in front by a score of 12-6 but Kim, with three fouls, was replaced by Dick Barrett.

The Scots managed to stay a few points in the lead until with about 12 minutes to play, the Rockets went ahead, 29-28. Wooster then fell behind, 33-30, and 39-36. With seconds to go in the first half, buckets by Garcia and Barta left Wooster trailing by one point at the gun, 47-46.

Score Tied

After the start of the second half, the count was knotted at 52-all, again at 62 and then 69. Kim returned to the lineup and promptly tallied six points which put the Scots in the lead. With three minutes remaining and Wooster leading 78-71, the Rockets called time out.

Late Rally Trips Ohio Wesleyan; Cagers Gain 11th In Conference

by Paul Martin

Heart failure was a good word for it as the Ohio Wesleyan cagers fought back in the second half and pushed Mose Hole's boys into overtime last week. After leading all the way through the first half, the Scots suddenly found themselves floundering as the Bishops tied the score after 12 minutes in the second period.

Wooster led at the end of the first half 45-34, and it looked like a shoo-in for the black and gold. But right after the whistle and the beginning of the second half, the roof fell in. With Wesleyan hitting from the center and the outside, it was a tough go.

Gustin Gets 25

Captain Tom Gustin, playing one of the better games of his college career, scored 25 points and snared 29 rebounds from the boards as he led his roommates to a 84-78 victory. Jerry Smith tallied 10 field goals to be high in that department, while he also added four foul shots.

Wooster's edge in the rebound department was 61-56. The Scots also hit better from the field as they scored on 35 of 91 shots, the Bishops tallied on 31 of 85. On 13 Wooster personals, the home team scored 16 markers. The Scots netted 14 of 24 shots.

Strong Bench

The biggest asset to Wesleyan's cause was the shooting of Don Didcoat and Hugh Stockstill, who came off the bench late in the first period to score 12 and 14 points respectively and pose the real threat to the Scots. Three other cagers hit the double figures for the losers.

The black and gold pulled away to an early 8-0 lead but then had that margin cut to 10-8. Wooster then moved out in front again, 18-10. The Scots held a big lead throughout the first half and with three minutes remaining, were in

When play was again resumed, Slippery Rock had given up their zone defense and switched to man to man. After this change the game broke wide open and it was here that the Scots really rolled up the score. Barrett and Barta scored 10 points between them to ice the game and make the final score 90-73.

Wooster's 18th

This was Wooster's 18th win in 22 games. Slippery Rock dropped their 12th game in 18 starts. Bill Beatty was high man for the game as he tallied 23 markers. Duffy was right behind him with 22 points. For Wooster, Gerry Smith led the scorers with 20 points, Barta and Barrett each garnered 18.

Captain Tom Gustin led his teammates to victory via the rebound route as he pulled 26 off the boards to give him a three-year total of 1,020. Tom finished his three years of college basketball with 821 points.

Seniors Leave

With this game, Wooster fans bid adieu to three other Scots. These seniors, winning their second year varsity awards are Bud Barta, By Morris, and George Kim. In conclusion, also a tribute to one of the finest coaches in Ohio Conference history. Mose Hole, now completing his 29th season as the Scots' mentor, holds a gratifying record of 373 wins and only 157 losses in intercollegiate competition.

front 41-26. Martin for the Bishops hit for 10 points and the score read 45-34 at the half.

Freeze Ball

With the opening of the second period, the home cagers whittled away at the lead until they knotted the count at 62-all. They tied the score four more times as Wooster tried to pull out in front. With three minutes to play in the game, Wesleyan froze the ball. After two minutes of this they called time out. When play was resumed, they waited for the one shot that would win the game. Chet Welty of the Scots fouled Martin, and he put two straight shots through the hoop to give the home team a lead of two points. There were 15 seconds to play when Wooster brought the ball down-court. A pass to Jerry Smith from Dick Barrett under the bucket was good for two points and the score was tied at the gun. With the start of the overtime period, the home cagers took an early four-point lead but then fell behind on several foul shots by the Scots, and felders by Dick Barrett, Tom Gustin and Jerry Smith then tallied six points to put Wooster in front and give them the win.

18 Wins

With this victory, the Scots held a mark of 11 wins and two losses in conference play and a season's record of 17 and four. Ohio Wesleyan ended their season of play with a record of seven and 14. In the Ohio Conference, they were seven and 11.

Scot JV's Topple Wesleyan 71-58

With Tom Justice hitting the hoops for 36 points, the Wooster College JV's swamped Ohio Wesleyan's junior varsity by a score of 71-58.

Wooster took an early lead in the rout and pulled out in front by 15 points at the midway marker. Opening the second half, with the score 34-29 in the Scots' favor, Wesleyan rallied and cut the margin to 57-51. The Scots pulled out in front once more and led 67-56 with two minutes to play in the ball game.

The JV's scored 15 points out of 24 shots from the Bishops' 13 personals, while the losers made eight of 14 on the eight whistles for the Scots.

Jack Behringer's squad of freshmen now has a record of nine wins out of 10 contests in the Ohio Conference and a mark of 12 and 15 for the season.

Wrestlers Finish Fourth At Akron

Fighting Doc Stefanek bulled his way past three opponents to gain a victory in the heavyweight division of the Ohio Conference wrestling championships. The meet, held in Akron's new Memorial Hall, was won for the second year in a row by the Zips.

The Scots won a fourth place which speaks very well of them considering the fact that they had no previous intercollegiate matches in which to prepare for the championship meet. This was the second straight year that Wooster has come up with a champion in the meet. John Heller won the light heavyweight crown last year.

Young Democrats, there will be a meeting with Senator Paul H. Douglas of Illinois this Sunday, March 13, at 4 p.m. in the Douglass Lounge.

Akron Takes First

Akron, finishing in first place after a close struggle with Hiram, closed with 27 points. The Terriers had 24 points. Third place in the meet was taken by Oberlin with 11 points.

John Heller, drawing a tough opponent in Grover Miller of Akron, who eventually won the light heavyweight division, lost his decision on points.

Stefanek, by far, took the roughest road to victory. He whipped Crawford of Kenyon who was seeded, 2-0 in the first match. He then downed Davidson of Ohio Wesleyan 4-0. His final victory came over Allen of Hiram who entered the meet with a 5-1 record. The score of this match was 9-2.

Other Scots Lose

Jay Burroughs, wrestling for the Scots in the 130 pound class, lost to the eventual winner, Servis of Hiram, in his first bout. Tony Cardwell also lost in the first round as Hudson of Hiram slipped by him on points.

Pete Pay, the only other Scot entrant, was downed by Johnston of Akron on points.

Ford Foundation Sponsors Survey

Supported by a grant of $29,400 from the Ford Foundation, the National Student Association (NSA) has announced its plans to conduct a nation-wide survey of student participation in college policy making. The study, believed to be the most exhaustive of its kind, has been sent in the form of questionnaires to Wooster and to every other accredited senior college in the United States.

The Association is dedicated to the improvement of all forms of student self-government on campus.

Results of the survey, to be published this fall, seek to determine the formal and informal powers accorded students, faculty, administration, trustees and alumni with major emphasis being placed on the position of student government organization on campus.

SFRC Meets

The committee approved a set of by-laws providing for the Wooster Student Aid Fund, Inc. (WSAF). The purpose of this organization is to manage those funds at the disposal of the SFRC which have been reserved for the purpose of creating an endowment fund. The income of this fund is to be used (as stated in the by-laws), "to defray all or part of the expenses of a foreign student." The WSAF, Inc., will not only aid worthy and needy students but will also help educate economics students at the College. "in the principles of investment management through actual practice in the investment of the company's funds." This organization was formerly called the Investment Management Council.

Faculty-Parent Contact

In a report from the Communications Committee, the addition of faculty-parent conferences to the Dad's Day program was mentioned for this year. Methods of increasing this and other opportunities for contact between faculty, students, and parents were discussed. The committee felt that there was a need for greater publicity of the Dad's Day program, so that students, especially Freshmen, and their parents would become more aware of it. A motion was passed asking the Student Senate to give its views on this subject to the Communications Committee. It was also felt that there is a need for the faculty to meet the students socially, and an all-college coffee hour was suggested.

Spring Vacation

The misunderstanding about the date for spring vacation was raised, and it was stated that the date is set in order to reduce tension on campus by having the recess near the middle of the semester. In addition, a calendar pattern for the school year was set up a few years ago with the intention of saving work for the calendar coordinator. This pattern ignored the changing dates of Easter; consequently, the three year series of Easters on campus resulted. This is not expected to be a permanent occurrence, however.

Holiday Fines

In answer to a question about fines on days before and after holidays, it was stated that if a person misses a class on such a day but goes to the Deans' office on the same day to report his absence, his fine may be reduced to $1 per class.

Student Recalls Tour In Europe

by Betty Smyth

To go to Europe is an experience never to be forgotten. But few students can go abroad during their college years either because funds or opportunity are lacking. This year, the College of Wooster is sponsoring a tour abroad which is not too expensive and will allow the student to continue his college education.

All Aboard!

The trip over on board ship is one exciting moment after another. With orientation classes, the young tourist begins to feel the excitement of actually taking a trip to foreign countries. Meeting many students who are doing the same thing, helping one another in and out of the confusing maze of a life jacket and sipping hot chocolate at 10 o'clock make nine days on the Atlantic seem almost like a dream. (Some people's stomachs may feel it is more like a nightmare, however.) After sailing up the river to Rotterdam, disembarkation continues normally in spite of the partial eclipse of the sun.

Paris at Last

By way of Amsterdam and England, the group arrives in Paris. From the compartment of the train the traveler sees the Eiffel tower long before he reaches the train station, La Gare St. Lazare. At once a foreigner feels his complete inability to understand the porters, the loudspeakers, and the workmen. But at last the bus comes, and the group and baggage are counted once more before the travelers leave for the hotel. Having deposited the baggage in the hotel rooms; they choose a walk around Paris as the most appropriate pastime for the moment. Destination: the puppet show in the Luxembourg Gardens where the little French children play merrily with their sailboats on the pond.

Melting Pot

Enrolling at the Alliance Francaise is the next important item on the agenda. There, one can meet students from Norway, Germany, Switzerland, Sweden, China, Armenia, Spain, and a few from the United States. The courses are given entirely in French in different classrooms, each of which have one tiny blackboard and long tables just wide enough to hold a book. The seats are long benches with no backs.

Night Life

At La Maison des Etudiantes, studying is usually completed in the afternoon, for the artificial lighting is not as efficient as an American might expect. Also, there are too many exciting things to do in the evening. For instance, there are all kinds of American and foreign films, operas or ballets at the Opera House, plays at the Comedie Francaise, entertainment at the Follies Bergeres, a night visit at the Louvre where revolving lights accentuate the shadows, or sidewalk cafes where all of Paris walks past.

Afternoon Life, Too

In order that studying may not interfere with a liberal education, afternoon trips to the top of the Eiffel tower, Fontainebleau, Mal Maison, and Versailles are planned.

Dr. Guille, Leader

This tour, under the leadership of Dr. Frances Guille, is primarily designed for college students who have had at least one year of college French or its equivalent, who are interested in improving their linguistic ability, and who are interested in French contributions to Western culture. A successful completion of this work gives the student four hours of college credit.
