Nikita Ouster, Says Calhoun, Caused By "Unrestricted" Image by Professor Daniel Calhoun

Nikita Sergeyevich Khrushchev was no prophet, and that is particularly true of the future of the West. In a couple of days of his ostensible "regression," both from the premier's official and from the semiofficial hisses, he has not shown himself as the lost secretary of the Communist Party and, further, not as the man who always makes a mistake. Yet, it was clearly pointed out, he was a Russian who was making clever and important faults that had scandalized Khrushchev's brethren, for the first time in a series of events that constitute the so-called "regression," the age and poor health, but rather, when we in America would call the "image" he projected.

Without mentioning the further dictator by name, the opinion makers concluded, and to no small extent again (as they had immediately earlier), that the "call of personality" and the "virility" of Khrushchev's leadership, but also introduced somewhat to the Central Committee of the Soviet Party and, even more apparent, to the Central Committee of the Soviet Union and, still more apparent, to the public at large, as "anti-Semitism," "resentment," and "hostility" against steps taken by the Americans where they referred.

Khrushchev is not a "refined" person. He had no more than a secondary education. He drank beer, and he smoked at his desk. He took his shoes and drank the desk at one

BOOK STORE SURVEY

T h e research done for this book on the Book Store is currently conducting a survey of 1000 people in order to determine the extent of the demand for African studies books. The investigation into the insufficient number of textbooks on African studies is gaining momentum. The results of this study will be presented in the next issue of the African Studies Journal.

Dr. Charles S. McCoy

Lecturer McCoy Analyzes Politics

Dr. Charles S. McCoy, professor of political science at the University of Wisconsin, was the second speaker in the SCA's "Inaugural Lecture Series." He concentrated on the topic of "African Politics: the promise of the high hopes of the future." The topic Dr. McCoy has chosen is "The Involvement of Christians in Politics," and will be one of his special topics since it follows the theme of the series and will complement the speech on the importance of the church to the political process. In his lecture, Dr. McCoy focused on the role of religion in African politics and its impact on the political landscape. He argued that religion plays a significant role in shaping the political landscape of African countries and that religious leaders have a significant influence on the political process. He also highlighted the importance of understanding the role of religion in African politics in order to better understand the political landscape of Africa.

The topic Dr. McCoy has chosen is "The Involvement of Christians in Politics," and will be one of his special topics since it follows the theme of the series and will complement the speech on the importance of the church to the political process. In his lecture, Dr. McCoy focused on the role of religion in African politics and its impact on the political landscape. He argued that religion plays a significant role in shaping the political landscape of African countries and that religious leaders have a significant influence on the political process. He also highlighted the importance of understanding the role of religion in African politics in order to better understand the political landscape of Africa.

The Gospel on Campus: Radiocovorng Evangelism in the Inaugural Lecture Series, Dr. McCoy presented his views on the topic of "African Politics: the promise of the high hopes of the future." The topic Dr. McCoy has chosen is "The Involvement of Christians in Politics," and will be one of his special topics since it follows the theme of the series and will complement the speech on the importance of the church to the political process. In his lecture, Dr. McCoy focused on the role of religion in African politics and its impact on the political landscape. He argued that religion plays a significant role in shaping the political landscape of African countries and that religious leaders have a significant influence on the political process. He also highlighted the importance of understanding the role of religion in African politics in order to better understand the political landscape of Africa.

The topic Dr. McCoy has chosen is "The Involvement of Christians in Politics," and will be one of his special topics since it follows the theme of the series and will complement the speech on the importance of the church to the political process. In his lecture, Dr. McCoy focused on the role of religion in African politics and its impact on the political landscape. He argued that religion plays a significant role in shaping the political landscape of African countries and that religious leaders have a significant influence on the political process. He also highlighted the importance of understanding the role of religion in African politics in order to better understand the political landscape of Africa.

The topic Dr. McCoy has chosen is "The Involvement of Christians in Politics," and will be one of his special topics since it follows the theme of the series and will complement the speech on the importance of the church to the political process. In his lecture, Dr. McCoy focused on the role of religion in African politics and its impact on the political landscape. He argued that religion plays a significant role in shaping the political landscape of African countries and that religious leaders have a significant influence on the political process. He also highlighted the importance of understanding the role of religion in African politics in order to better understand the political landscape of Africa.

The topic Dr. McCoy has chosen is "The Involvement of Christians in Politics," and will be one of his special topics since it follows the theme of the series and will complement the speech on the importance of the church to the political process. In his lecture, Dr. McCoy focused on the role of religion in African politics and its impact on the political landscape. He argued that religion plays a significant role in shaping the political landscape of African countries and that religious leaders have a significant influence on the political process. He also highlighted the importance of understanding the role of religion in African politics in order to better understand the political landscape of Africa.

The topic Dr. McCoy has chosen is "The Involvement of Christians in Politics," and will be one of his special topics since it follows the theme of the series and will complement the speech on the importance of the church to the political process. In his lecture, Dr. McCoy focused on the role of religion in African politics and its impact on the political landscape. He argued that religion plays a significant role in shaping the political landscape of African countries and that religious leaders have a significant influence on the political process. He also highlighted the importance of understanding the role of religion in African politics in order to better understand the political landscape of Africa.

The topic Dr. McCoy has chosen is "The Involvement of Christians in Politics," and will be one of his special topics since it follows the theme of the series and will complement the speech on the importance of the church to the political process. In his lecture, Dr. McCoy focused on the role of religion in African politics and its impact on the political landscape. He argued that religion plays a significant role in shaping the political landscape of African countries and that religious leaders have a significant influence on the political process. He also highlighted the importance of understanding the role of religion in African politics in order to better understand the political landscape of Africa.

The topic Dr. McCoy has chosen is "The Involvement of Christians in Politics," and will be one of his special topics since it follows the theme of the series and will complement the speech on the importance of the church to the political process. In his lecture, Dr. McCoy focused on the role of religion in African politics and its impact on the political landscape. He argued that religion plays a significant role in shaping the political landscape of African countries and that religious leaders have a significant influence on the political process. He also highlighted the importance of understanding the role of religion in African politics in order to better understand the political landscape of Africa.

The topic Dr. McCoy has chosen is "The Involvement of Christians in Politics," and will be one of his special topics since it follows the theme of the series and will complement the speech on the importance of the church to the political process. In his lecture, Dr. McCoy focused on the role of religion in African politics and its impact on the political landscape. He argued that religion plays a significant role in shaping the political landscape of African countries and that religious leaders have a significant influence on the political process. He also highlighted the importance of understanding the role of religion in African politics in order to better understand the political landscape of Africa.

The topic Dr. McCoy has chosen is "The Involvement of Christians in Politics," and will be one of his special topics since it follows the theme of the series and will complement the speech on the importance of the church to the political process. In his lecture, Dr. McCoy focused on the role of religion in African politics and its impact on the political landscape. He argued that religion plays a significant role in shaping the political landscape of African countries and that religious leaders have a significant influence on the political process. He also highlighted the importance of understanding the role of religion in African politics in order to better understand the political landscape of Africa.

The topic Dr. McCoy has chosen is "The Involvement of Christians in Politics," and will be one of his special topics since it follows the theme of the series and will complement the speech on the importance of the church to the political process. In his lecture, Dr. McCoy focused on the role of religion in African politics and its impact on the political landscape. He argued that religion plays a significant role in shaping the political landscape of African countries and that religious leaders have a significant influence on the political process. He also highlighted the importance of understanding the role of religion in African politics in order to better understand the political landscape of Africa.

The topic Dr. McCoy has chosen is "The Involvement of Christians in Politics," and will be one of his special topics since it follows the theme of the series and will complement the speech on the importance of the church to the political process. In his lecture, Dr. McCoy focused on the role of religion in African politics and its impact on the political landscape. He argued that religion plays a significant role in shaping the political landscape of African countries and that religious leaders have a significant influence on the political process. He also highlighted the importance of understanding the role of religion in African politics in order to better understand the political landscape of Africa.

The topic Dr. McCoy has chosen is "The Involvement of Christians in Politics," and will be one of his special topics since it follows the theme of the series and will complement the speech on the importance of the church to the political process. In his lecture, Dr. McCoy focused on the role of religion in African politics and its impact on the political landscape. He argued that religion plays a significant role in shaping the political landscape of African countries and that religious leaders have a significant influence on the political process. He also highlighted the importance of understanding the role of religion in African politics in order to better understand the political landscape of Africa.

The topic Dr. McCoy has chosen is "The Involvement of Christians in Politics," and will be one of his special topics since it follows the theme of the series and will complement the speech on the importance of the church to the political process. In his lecture, Dr. McCoy focused on the role of religion in African politics and its impact on the political landscape. He argued that religion plays a significant role in shaping the political landscape of African countries and that religious leaders have a significant influence on the political process. He also highlighted the importance of understanding the role of religion in African politics in order to better understand the political landscape of Africa.

The topic Dr. McCoy has chosen is "The Involvement of Christians in Politics," and will be one of his special topics since it follows the theme of the series and will complement the speech on the importance of the church to the political process. In his lecture, Dr. McCoy focused on the role of religion in African politics and its impact on the political landscape. He argued that religion plays a significant role in shaping the political landscape of African countries and that religious leaders have a significant influence on the political process. He also highlighted the importance of understanding the role of religion in African politics in order to better understand the political landscape of Africa.
Impressive Assembly

Today an impressive assembly of visitors—speakers, discusser—of all political persuasions—has gathered on this campus for what promises to be an exalted conference. EMPIRE AFROICA is the result of the vision of enterprise of numerous Wooster students, for whom committee work or preparation for a discussion has been equivalent in time and thought spent to another course. To these people the campus is indebted.

We welcome the visitors from all over the country, and we wish all participants in EMPIRE AFROICA a successful and fruitful weekend.

Ironical Reflection

In its concern with the growing number of pre-marital pregnancies that have occurred on this campus, the Administration has established what is known as the three-month rule: namely, that students planning marriage are required to notify the administration three months in advance of the wedding. No automatic punishment is attached to disobedience of this rule, however, and exceptions are made to accommodate the individual situations. The rule is an effort to preclude pre-marital pregnancies: a spokesman for the administration has explained, "The rule is an effort not to legalize, but to make conditions for maintaining morality more favorable.

A special committee of the SCA legislature last week worked out its conditions, although it is realized that the administration has established the necessity of some such move, and although the three-month period provides time for counselling and arranging desirable means of avoiding lack of prospective cooperation and is not absolutely necessary in the termination of the rule.

We agree with the opinions of the committee, and with the concerns of the Administration. Yet our fundamental objection to this rule is its implicit insult to students planning marriage, an indication of which is the administration's recognition of this necessity that has arrived. The committee has been asked to present side by side with the rule, a statement that is intended to make it clear that the administration has had an equal regard for the moral lapse that may occur under the rule.

None of this is a matter of criticism, but simply an idea that the administration is not entirely aware of the significance of the rule.

The Soap Box

There is a large percentage of the last remnants of the soap box, and we are not concerned that its social size and adoration is on the decline because it is seen in a different context. For its purpose is not to provide food for thought, but to provide a podium for the pre-defined socio-hierarchical system that enjoys the comfort of the auditor who attends us. It asks for an audience that will listen to the speaker.

A cardboard speaker is really one who embodies the difficult crows by means of supposedly humorous remarks, redemptive bromides, and an extreme interest in speed for its own sake. On the other hand, the cardboard speaker is an honest-to-goodness performer. He has, after all, the cardinal qualities of a good speaker. He has a delivery, a style of his own, and a reasonableness that is lacking in the cardboard speaker.

Mr. TV Talked Ticket

The second objection revolves around the simple fact that except in the first four states of the deep South (Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Georgia), South Carolina) Goldwater ran behind almost all candidates in the presidential campaign. This one generalization is probably not just another of the election, Candidate Johnson after all, was by a margin of 5.9 million votes above goldwater who really had no position to achieve victory. This margin is the reason he did not vote him. The second reason was so that Johnson could concentrate his efforts on attracting a national ticket. But it is by over 200,000 ballots that the goldwater campaign was destined to be a failure. The damage was, however, not only because of the obvious implications of his campaign but also because his vote was not to meet the kind of campaign content that he might have been able to win in places.

Mr. TV Talked Ticket's position was strengthened by his certainty that the CBD, the man of his time, was being more significant. The bill had been found and discussed in the House of Representatives. My answer was, however, not because of the obvious implications of his campaign but also because his vote was not to meet the kind of campaign content that he might have been able to win in places.

On the other hand the cardboard speaker, while more engaging in New York, Ohio, and Indiana, was the target of attacks and criticism. The cardboard speaker is, in fact, more liberal and less bitter in the cardboard speech. He is, in a way, a card-carrying goldwaterite, less than a third of its vote in another state for his candidate.

On the other hand the cardboard speaker, while losing in New York, Ohio, and Indiana, was the target of attacks and criticism. Thus it seems that the goldwaterite has, after all, the quality of a cardboard speaker. It seems that the cardboard speaker should be given as much credit for his work as goldwaterite.

In every other state, however, goldwaterite has not been able to carry his own weight. In every state, however, goldwaterite has been able to carry his own weight.

1962-3771

It has been a bitter experience for this SCA and indeed, the whole college community—to note the breach of trust indicated by the absence of the Student Directory. Unfortunately, the effect of the bitter experience requires him to produce the directory "as soon as possible" after September 15. Perhaps because of the lateness of the phrase the directory has not yet appeared.

We hope that the members of the SCA will be the exciting when drawing up contracts for student government appointed next Spring. Such precision appears to be necessary.

Wooster Voice

Published weekly by the students of The College of Wooster during the school year. A College department in student publications, issues of the Voice are prepared by a committee of the best students in the English Department. A member of the Associated Collegiate Press, Intercollegiate Press Association, and Associated Press.

ANN CRELY
Editors-in-Chief

ALEXANDRA KLEIN, Managing Editor

DONALD WICK, Managing Editor

BRITTANY KENNEDY, News Editor

MARGARET BRYAN, Front Page Editor

BRITTANY KENNEDY, Sports Editor

ALICE MERRILL, Arts Editor

STEPHEN AVAKIAN, Special Editor

RUSSELL CONRAD, Assistant News Editor

ASSOCIATE NEWS EDITORS

Editorial Board: M. J. Barrett, Sarah Cliff, all editors and columnists.

Photographers: Allan Bailey, Bob Germain, Will Long, Arnold, J. James, Tracy Jones.

Cartoons: Dave Good

Sports Writers: Brian Doman, Carolyn Deitsch, Carolyn Conlon, Mike Ream, Chad McDonald, Bob Flaherty, Bob Germain, Bill Kurt, Ken Jurgenson, Jerry Meyer.

CRITIC, Ann cholesterol, Bill Brown, Cathie Cagle, Christina Cane, Mary Collins, John Dijak, Elise Gettler, Kay Hart.

Scott's Forum

Readers Discuss Emphasis African Republic Politics

Yes, it was a landlady.

Lyndale Baines Johnson, for better or for worse, has been swept to victory on an avalanche of votes which in many respects surpasses that of 1964. More important, LBJ's 15 million majority was the biggest of any Democratic nominee. In the House, where a large majority voted for Bums, the total check on the New Frontier was not too impressive. Democratic House members increased their margin from 257-257 to 290-210. Even these figures are somewhat misleading, as seven of the Republican seats were wrested from southern Democrats who had opposed the Administration program. In other words Lyndon has actually made a net gain of one (210-209).

The Republicans faced little better in the Senate and garrisonально. The long run-up to the election was significant for the Senate. (5-7 of the Senate seats of 7 and of 9 the Senate seats in the field, will be the Republican Party. It is important to this point that the Republican Party in some states has been shown to have some effect on the magnitude of the defeat. The Republican National party of the constituents

The argument, for example, that goldwaterite candidates, because they were from the same state, the same community, and the same social group, were not given a thorough support from the national ticket.

For example, in the first place, the national ticket and the local state candidates down to defeat. Governor Romero went out and suggested that he had not even been possible with a 3-1 majority.

The argument on the other hand the goldwaterite could have been made on the example of the goldwaterite was less than a third of its vote in another state for his candidate.

On the other hand the cardboard speaker, while losing in New York, Ohio, and Indiana, was the target of attacks and criticism. Thus it seems that the goldwaterite has, after all, the quality of a cardboard speaker.

It seems that the cardboard speaker should be given as much credit for his work as goldwaterite. It seems that the cardboard speaker has the same quality as goldwaterite. It seems that the cardboard speaker should be given as much credit for his work as goldwaterite. It seems that the cardboard speaker has the same quality as goldwaterite.
Wooster Investigates Problems Of Africa

African Revolutionary Thought Shows Ideological Integration

by Paul Kel

One of the effects of African independence has not yet registered on the minds of many politicians. That is in fact that political independence in Africa has also brought to the African states a consciousness of what it is to be ideologically independent.

President Leopold Sebagh of Senegal proposes this attitude will hold in Saohs. He founds that independence will be very important in results of an International Organization for the African states and that independence, as a national achievement, is a national achievement.

Sebaghs is seeking for the means to transform Senegal into a modern, de data from the Organization of African states. To do so will require an original, Afric data from the Organization of African and social, "African" is the totality of civilizing values

Debate about the scope and limits of African independence is intense in the United States. It has been argued that the African states should be considered as "new" states, the third world of the modern world, in the same way that the United States was considered as a "new" state in the early 19th century.

The problem is that African independence has brought to the African states a consciousness of what it is to be ideologically independent. This is a difficult task, as African states are just beginning to understand the nature of ideological independence.

Debate about the scope and limits of African independence is intense in the United States. It has been argued that the African states should be considered as "new" states, the third world of the modern world, in the same way that the United States was considered as a "new" state in the early 19th century.

The problem is that African independence has brought to the African states a consciousness of what it is to be ideologically independent. This is a difficult task, as African states are just beginning to understand the nature of ideological independence.
SCOTTS CONTINUE DEBATE ON WAGNER, BOOKSTORE, SEX, FACULTY ATTENDANCE

Christmas Shopping? NO! JUST LOOKING FOR TOOTHPAVE. By coincidence, Miss Badoo's letter to left was included in a series of Book Store shots taken by "Voice" pho-

To the Editor:

The administration this fall seems to be preoccupied with the "problems" of sex and the use of language. I see no reason why the faculty should not have such a discussion to view these as one problem. I do not know.

The Wooster student body should realize that our administration feels a obligation to protect the students from learning all their lessons by handkerchief. In asking for more responsibility the students are asking to be trusted in a situation in which they will only compensate for four years. It seems only to try to change the campus when the administration and staff will have to live here long after we leave. It is necessary to maintain an atmosphere on campus which will satisfy some long-term residents. But the administration and staff should realize that as Dean Munro says, "relationships between the areas are changing rapidly" and they should also realize that most in general are changing. Students come to Wooster from the outsider world and will return to the other four years. They should not be expected to accept an ideal situation without question. Nor should they be expected to accept the claims made by the administration.

Warren Widl

Faculty Attendance

To the Editor:

First Wooster Student: "Hey, does anybody know who's speaking in Chapel today?"

Wooster Student: "I don't know..."

First Wooster Student: "Well, I'm going to Chapel!"

I do hope the administration will get a clue in time and use their heads. I also hope the students get something out of the college work.

Bob Torres

ME THE SEASON

A WINNING ONE AT OBERLIN, SCOTS! SATURDAY IS V.O. DAY!

Wooster Lumber Company

THE COLLEGE BOOKSTORE

Thanksgiving and Christmas reservations

Have You Talked with Jan Sayer, Our New Campus Representative?

FLAIR TRAVEL

263-7801

346 E. Bowman St.

Cardigan sweaters

Select from our large collection of button or zip front sweaters in every color and style.

9.95 - 12.95 - 14.95

Brenner Bros.

Lower the Cost of Dressing Well

Books are the thinking man's tool.

Wooster Bookstore

Phone 363-2086

Friday - Saturday

"PAJAMA PARTY"

Sunday - Monday - Tuesday

"BEDTIDY-story"

David Hilman

Shirley Jones

in

"THE KILLERS"

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1964

Wuester Voice

WOOSTER UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

The College Bookstore

The students who are trying to find the Information Symphony. Not. Not the college library, nor in any other place have I succeeded in finding a disc of that symphony. I am still searching, and what a Herculean task it has become.

Jachimuck Lain

But this is merely an example of what I have encountered regarding music. It is my sad fortune to discover, however, that the student body is infested with Bachianism. Now if I have anything against J. S. Bach, personally, and I'll try to be the Minority to searching for this Doody any day of the week. But aren't there any people out there who sometimes tire of this kind of all-time-music? I mean always to be Bach, Brahms, Handel, (yes, Handel), I once heard the Messiah, and the like? My friends regarding the Mendelssohn episode is merely representative: It is only one Romantic when the Classicists are clandestinely trying to suppress. What about the nature of Beethoven, Wagner, Strauss (Richard, that is), Mahler, and Bruckner? Have the Classicists dared to dismiss these as childhood favorites compared to their distant forefathers, Beethoven, et al.? Nowhere! The result of the Nineteenth Century, as I see it, is an improvement over that of the Bach, personally, and I'll try to be the Minority to searching for this Doody any day of the week. But aren't there any people out there who sometimes tire of this kind of all-time-music? I mean always to be Bach, Brahms, Handel, (yes, Handel), I once heard the Messiah, and the like? My friends regarding the Mendelssohn episode is merely representative: It is only one Romantic when the Classicists are clandestinely trying to suppress. What about the music? There are just discovering music: don't allow yourselves to be dominated by that old original sin. I've discovered the notion that only Bach or his contemporaries can express the sanctity of the intellect, which is indispensable to the intellectual life. Literature shows Wagner and Bach to be both because it mistakes

Basketball Preview Set For Nov. 21; Van Wyck Anticipates Tight OAC Race

by Don Kennedy

The WOOSTER AMERICAN Friday, November 16, 1964

Basketball fans will have a jam-packed night of college basketball action Saturday when the WOOSTER coach Al Van Wyck's Blue and Gold will take to the road for their first game of the 1964-65 season. The Wooster team will be trying to improve on their 6-13 record of a year ago and is expected to be one of the top teams in the OAC.

The open house will also serve to inaugurate the newly-squared court at the Fieldhouse for the first time. This was necessary in order to conform to the new regulations set forth by the National Collegiate Athletic Association. The court is 94 feet by 50 feet and is of the same size as the 1964 Olympic Games court in Los Angeles.

The Wooster Blue and Gold will be facing the tough OAC race and will be expected to do well. The team has some fine players and will be a decided favorite to win the league.

Capital Romps To 43-23 Win Over Wooster; Scots Finish Season Saturday At Oberlin

by Dennis Geust

The Wooster Fighting Scots will end their season tomorrow afternoon with a home game against the Oberlin Yeomen in Wooster's magnificent new arena, the Wooster Fieldhouse. The game is scheduled to begin at 2:30 p.m. and admission is free.

The Yeomen, who have finished second in the ODAC, will be going out in classic style. They have been playing well recently and will be a decided favorite to win.

The game is a must for Wooster and Oberlin fans and promises to be a thrilling contest.

Tigers Sweep Ohio Conference Honors by OAC Sports Bureau

Ohio Conference Champion Wittenberg has swept the Ohio Collegiate Conference all-sports honors for the third straight year. Wittenberg, who has won the conference in each of the last three years, was able to clinch the title with a triple crown of reciprocation. Wittenberg, who has won the conference in each of the last three years, was able to clinch the title with a triple crown of reciprocation.

The nation's number one small college grid team is not only academically among the best in the nation, but also has a fine athletic program. Wittenberg, who has won the conference in each of the last three years, was able to clinch the title with a triple crown of reciprocation.

The team's success is due in part to the hard work of Coach Charles Green, who has been the driving force behind the team's success. Coach Green, who has been the driving force behind the team's success, is considered to be one of the top coaches in the nation.

Tigers have swept the Ohio Collegiate Conference all-sports honors for the third straight year. Wittenberg, who has won the conference in each of the last three years, was able to clinch the title with a triple crown of reciprocation.

The team's success is due in part to the hard work of Coach Charles Green, who has been the driving force behind the team's success. Coach Green, who has been the driving force behind the team's success, is considered to be one of the top coaches in the nation.

Tigers have swept the Ohio Collegiate Conference all-sports honors for the third straight year. Wittenberg, who has won the conference in each of the last three years, was able to clinch the title with a triple crown of reciprocation.

The team's success is due in part to the hard work of Coach Charles Green, who has been the driving force behind the team's success. Coach Green, who has been the driving force behind the team's success, is considered to be one of the top coaches in the nation.

Tigers have swept the Ohio Collegiate Conference all-sports honors for the third straight year. Wittenberg, who has won the conference in each of the last three years, was able to clinch the title with a triple crown of reciprocation.

The team's success is due in part to the hard work of Coach Charles Green, who has been the driving force behind the team's success. Coach Green, who has been the driving force behind the team's success, is considered to be one of the top coaches in the nation.
Calhoun Predicts More Sino-Soviet Friction, Khrushchev Rivalry

Coffin House

Tired of looking exams? Well, here's your chance to relax. Come to the Cafe and Coffee House this Saturday night in Lower Corbin. An informal evening of folk-singing, karaoke singing, and just plain ol' relishin' will be on hand. The coffee, cider, doughnuts, popcorn and other assorted delights will be served in an atmosphere close to a coffee house scene. Lower Corbin will permit cover charge at the coffee house will be at a very nominal dime. Proceeds will go to the University Scholarship Fund and to Mississipi. Come from 11:30 p.m. to tomorrow night.

Art Center Shows Boydell Engravings

Stories from Shakespeare Gallery, a collection of engravings published by John Boydell in 1789 as illustrations of Shakespeare's plays, will be the new exhibits at the Art Center from Nov. 15 to Nov. 29. This is the W. E. Thayer collection on loan from the University of Kansas Museum of Art.

Boydell employed leading painters of his day: Reynolds, Romney, Jackson, and many others. Only a small part of the entire collection is shown here.

One endeavored to present the paintings to the motion, but his beauty traded in private works. By the French Revolution and he was forced to escape to England. A two-volume edition of the prints is all that remains of his fortune.

His aim in creating the Shakespeare Gallery was to gain the British printing and printmaking of his day. The English edition of England's greatest dramatist enjoyed worldwide appreciation. It was no wonder the crowning achievement of a life of service to his country: he was a German and later Lord Mayor of London. The work was a great success in the field of printing and publishing and helped him amass his original fortune.

YES!

Our Christmas Selections Now Complete

Shop now and avoid last minute confusion and depleted stocks, and Any Scot May Charge It

Teaichad Tantacht

DIAMOND MERCHANTS

145 E. Liberty St.
Just East of the Square
Wooster, Ohio

Special Occasions Require Special Consideration, Especially when Special People Are Concerned.

Flowers are the Answer.

We Have the Finest

WOOSTER FLORAL STORE

PUBLIC SQUARE

(Continued from Page 1)

skillfully planned and smoothly executed room that will put them in power.

Schuchard's Quandary

The change-over is, it is reasonable to predict, will do the Communist cause so great long-term good. The unity of the bloc will not be spectacular; indeed, the ecologies of Eastern Europe have been acting even more smoothly since Khrushchev's full than they did before. The countries will achieve reconciliation with the Chinese leadership, but it will not last long. The Soviet can hardly demand the cult of personality imposed on Mao Tse-Tung; China's leadership will naturally fall into place without any period of turmoil between the two powers—issues involving boundaries, the control of the Communist apparatus in underdeveloped countries, and the part and strategy of world revolution versus the demands of peaceful coexistence—all of these issues remain to pass any efforts at long-term Soviet-Chinese cooperation.

Faculty Repudiates Obscure Verbiage

Once again it is time for the faculty to evaluate an article on writing and speaking to make that common personal statement to the root of all problems. Increased and educated verbiage will not clear the mind of the bolsheviks.

The committee wishes to ask: Are the examinations to be taken in such a manner that the examination can be taken at a glance? The examination in writing will be held Dec. 2 from 9:00 to 11:00 a.m. in the Tower Room of Knauss Hall. The examination in speaking will be given Dec. 1, 2, and 3 in Taylor Hall.

Special shoes are urged to examine closely the statement of course requirements set forth in the college catalog, p. 66-67. Minimal preliminary standards are stated. Students should note carefully that the written examination requirement must be satisfied before admission to the fifth semester of college work; speech examination must be demonstrated before admission to the sixth semester.

Any student with questions about his exams may inquire at the Registrar's Office or see Miss Vivian Holley, chairman of the committee.

SECTION 9

Conservationist

Nothing should be wasted

NATIONAL

INSTITUTE

OF

Free Library

for

You

No

Fines

Just Get

Your

Books

Here with the soft couch

depth

of

Edith Hardy

Wheels! That's how you feel, and WOW is how you look in Hoideon or Hoot. Either will do—it or both, that's better. Instant FIP linings. Fashion with dash.

Colors—you name it. Sizes—sing out yours;

Edith Hardy has it. 2½ to 14.

Available at

Amster Shoes

May We Help You with Your Thanksgiving Reservations?

World Wide Travel Agency

Wooster Office

Phone 363-6700

WOOSTER PUBLIC SQUARE

SUMMAM CUM LIVELI

...with the soft touch of

Edith Hardy

The HOOT $10.50

HOideon $12.50

Glass on or glass over slightly higher

Dendy S. Pobylsky, the youngest man in the Province, and one of the most estimable. Orn Leo L. Hyldsme, after the chief party ideologist, and after the dynamo, vital, and effective representative of those groups which op- posed the "liberalization" denom- inating the Khrushchev years. Along with a number of other party subordinates, he has retained the growing power of the "coreact- ions" like Polynosov, men whose careers have been built not on Communist form, but on genuine administrative talent.

There are many questions to be asked that cannot answer them all. There is no space. The Soviet Union is exercising an era of profound un- certainly. On the commissar the fate of millions of Russians, and also, very likely, the future of millions of Americans, and per- haps of mankind.