Mr. Craig Plays Lead Role In "Music Master"

The show may have been attended by only 350 people last night at the First Methodist Church, but this was Mr. Craig's show. He was the first to appear on the stage, he was the last to leave, and he was the only one who could have been there.

Mr. Craig plays the lead role in "Music Master," a play about the life of a composer. The play is set in 18th century Russia and follows the composer as he creates his masterpiece, "The Seasons." The performance was directed by Mr. Craig and featured a cast of students from various grades.

Former WAC Teaches Spanish

From Wisconsin and points west, come Maria Anita to our Spanish department this semester. She is originally from Wellington, Kansas, and Maria Anita received her A.B. degree from the University of Kansas, and earned her M.A. from the University of Wisconsin.

After teaching in Wisconsin she returned to her native state for basic training at Ogdensburg, Ga. After Officers’ Candidate school at Fort McPherson, she returned to Ogdensburg to teach. From there she went to West Virginia where she is currently teaching Spanish.

Maria Anita has no special hobby or pastime—except reading. Her outdoor hobby is gardening, especially fruit and vegetable gardens. She has recently followed this same pattern, as she plans to do it all over again at home when she retires.

Board Announces Faculty Changes

Several decisions were made in regard to faculty and administration changes and the proposed suburban site plans at the meeting of the Board of Trustees last week. Mr. Ralph A. Yordy, director of athletics and head of the athletic department has been appointed as professor of arts at Wester and remains as acting head of the department. The post of Professor Edward S. Price has been vacated. Dr. Wendell C. Fess, now serving in the faculty of the Mechanical Engineering Department, will fill the vacancy. Professor Yordy, in turn, will be appointed to fill the vacancy in the Mechanical Engineering Department.

Mrs. W. I. Schreiber Publishes Article On Mrs. Compton's Life

An article dealing with the life of the late Mrs. Olga Compton, widow of Dr. Eliza Compton, will be published in the magazine, "The Atlantic," later this year. The interesting biography of the late Mrs. Olga Compton, published in the magazine, was the result of an interview with Mrs. Compton in February of this year.

Schreiber's appreciation of the unique and interesting biography, which was written by Mrs. Compton, appeared in the February issue of the American Historical Association's "The Atlantic." The biography, which is a unique and interesting biography, is a contribution to the field of women's history and is a valuable addition to the literature on the subject.

"Ban is a Modern World Art"/

"Ban is a Modern World Art" was the title of the art exhibition sponsored by the American Historical Association's "The Atlantic." The exhibition featured works of various artists, including Pablo Picasso, Salvador Dali, and Mark Rothko.

Exposition: Dumbarton Oaks

A prevailing international opinion poll conducted in church several weeks ago disclosed the fact that 48% of the students (80% of the faculty) are in favor of some form of consideration now. More amazing than this is the fact that 44% of these polled felt that they lacked the necessary information on which to base a judgement as to what course of action the students might take. We wish to find out what the 32% who answered the questionnaire did not know what Dumbarton Oaks was!

From out the straits of eternity
They are borne, a mighty host.
From where the mountain of the dead
Mountains have arisen, and the sea
They are smitten, but they are not destroyed.

Shall not a mighty host rise,
To the plains of the world? There is no end to the battle.
It is not the end, but the beginning.

To the plains of the world, a mighty host will come.
They shall go forth and fight, for the Lord is with them.

Shall not a mighty host rise, to the plains of the world?
There is no end to the battle.
It is not the end, but the beginning.

Wooster Tankers Wind Up Season, Dunked by Baldwin-Wallace 47-27

By Ben McDonald

In the last month of the regular season, the Wooster Tankers capped off the year with a 47-27 loss to Baldwin-Wallace squad. With two good Bob Wagner defenders on the squad, Tom Hall and Collister, the Tankers saw their mighty fine performances develop a bit as they continued to grow. Paul Olson developed as fast as any player out there, as the Tankers were able to make up for some of the losses of their seniors. Tom Haney and Harry Haney were the seniors they were missing, though. As to the younger men, the team was able to play without them, but they were still able to go undefeated in the league.

The win was a remarkable one, with the Tankers being able to take the lead back and forth all the way. The Tankers were able to pull ahead and the lead was never more than ten, but the Tankers didn’t give up. They were able to come back and avenge the losses of the seniors. The Tankers were able to win through the patience of their senior leaders, and the younger men were able to learn from the seniors. The Tankers were able to come back and win without the seniors.

The win was a remarkable one, and it was the way the whole team had been playing. The Tankers had no out standing players, but they were still able to come back and take the lead back and forth all the way. The Tankers were able to finish strong and the seniors were able to guide the team to victory. The Tankers were able to come back and win without the seniors.

Da Book Woof Recommends An Exhilarating Change

Unperturbed by the treacherous footing agreed, da book woof cautiously inclines his way from behind the trees to prepare for suggestions for your pleasant mid-winter reading. This high, he says, to grab yourself lighted novel to take away the taste of world war reading and the like.

Starting with the freshly viva, this woof suggests Barbara Wood's novel with Miss Shulan. A scene on American college life, the B.W.O.W. invites you to banish the worry and loneliness that will accompany the reading train and to try-up your book of both reading services and students.

This change will move the commencement date up to May 28. The national, under the chairmanship of Dr. Sharp, will open for the first time in May.

The second term will continue to August 21.

Patricia Von Grepor's $1.49. a day sweater that is a basic of the season. The combination shows a comfortable and easy fit. It is well made and the majority are cordially invited.

Please don't forget to pay your dues as soon as possible, payable to Kay Bush.

Faculty Changes

Several opportunities for faculty members to continue the work in which they are interested, and to continue their already outstanding activities in the Wooster faculty.

In Bishop, as Coollt, the owner of a custom museum, makes here a great-hearted man who shares the others' regard for the music major.

Taken as a whole, the play is entertaining and sincere, as well as humorous. The many amusing incidents relieve the sad and tragically frequently enough to be enjoyed, while Mr. Craig and RW Rowing carry the heat of the dramatic scenes.

This apparently joint production (there were five choices) was on the Sunday of April, the final one being only a show before the First performance.

"The Music Master" carries a blank hope as keen as Kay's most enjoyable contributary.
