1943, and spent his 21st birthday in London city. In that year, or, as he says, "lighting a fire in the living room of the hotel," Roy is also a 1st sergeant (I am not sure on this one or for all these advertisements) and his only job is to be a clerk in a dormitory for civilians.

Several veterans are on the list to enter at mid-term, and promises indicate that they will enter the army in the next few months. With the exception of a few men now occupying spots on these two sections returned to the college in September, it is contemplated that these students will be used by these new students rather than those who have already been in the service.

Many students are on the list for the winter quarter. They are not at liberty to say if these students will return to the college in September. Roy is sure that these promising students will return.

Upon his return from the service, it is stated that the following students have been discharged: Ken R. Anderson, Wayne Deegan, R. H. Miller, Harry E. Johnson, George H. Kuczyack, and Roy E. Roy.

After leaving the service, the following students will be on the campus: Ken R. Anderson, Wayne Deegan, R. H. Miller, Harry E. Johnson, George H. Kuczyack, and Roy E. Roy.

The Women's March of Champions.

By Anne Ferguson

The Wooster Women's March of Champions lost to Capital 21-8 in the first game. It was the first time Wooster had played the Capital team in the past 3 years. This is a far better game than was played by the two teams last season.

It was an unperformed and unexpectedly well-fed woman's team. It was a game that would have been won if Capital had not been kept in the game. The game was lost because of the inexperience of some of the girls that hadn't been playing for a year. It was a game that was lost because of a few good players being kept on the sidelines.

In the game with Baldwin-Wallace on Tuesday night the game was played up to the game best played. It was a game that could have been won if the team had been kept in the game. In the second quarter Linsky had a shot at passing but was intercepted by the Baldwin-Wallace line. Baldwin-Wallace was then down 14-0. Capital played a good game in the second quarter and narrowed the lead to 14-7 at half time.

In the second half Capital went on the offensive and played a good game. They were down 14-7 but came back to tie the game at 7-7. Capital played a good game in the second half and narrowed the lead to 14-7 at half time.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I am writing to express my concern about the situation in your city. It seems that the city is facing a number of problems, and I feel that something needs to be done.

Firstly, there is the issue of traffic congestion. With the growing population and increasing number of vehicles, traffic jams are becoming more and more common. This not only causes delays and frustration for drivers, but also leads to increased carbon emissions and air pollution. It is time that the local authorities take measures to address this issue.

Secondly, there is the problem of pollution. The city is experiencing a significant increase in pollution levels, particularly in the industrial areas. This is not only harmful to the health of the residents, but also has a negative impact on the environment. Once again, it is time that the authorities take decisive action.

Lastly, there is the issue of crime. The city has seen a rise in crime rates in recent years, with an increase in incidents of both burglary and theft. This is a serious concern, and it is time that the police force and other law enforcement agencies step up their efforts to ensure the safety and security of the residents.

In conclusion, I urge the authorities to take immediate action to address these issues. It is only through collective effort that we can create a safer, cleaner, and more comfortable environment for all.

Sincerely yours,

John Doe

City Resident
