Is It Worth It?

Tonight, most of the College community will gather in the Chapel for the Annual Men's Serenade Contest. The Serenade has become something of a tradition at Wooster, a tradition which means a great deal to many of the people on campus. Since the first of the year, several sections have been practicing regularly in preparation for the contest. Since spring vacation, all of the sections have been singing nearly five nights a week in order to get ready for tonight.

When the evening is over, each section will have performed for about 10 minutes. One section will have "won." The others, regardless of their position at the finish, will be disappointed and unsatisfied. At the same time, each section can be proud of the fact that they have worked hard to achieve a goal. Each director can feel that sense of pride as he stands before his group and hears the results of the long hours of practice. Each member of the listening audience can sit back and enjoy an evening of good music, much of which borders on professional quality. There is no question but that the Serenade Contest is, in itself, a good thing.

But, and this is an important but. Is it not possible that the Serenade Contest has become distorted and out of proportion? Is it not possible that what should be an easy-going, enjoyable competition has become a fight to the finish, no-holds-barred type of activity? It is not possible that we as men in the sections have placed a tremendous amount of unjustified emphasis on what was conceived to be an enjoyable event?

Add up, if you will, the man hours that have gone into the preparation of one of these serenades. Consider, then, what other activities of any kind receive an equal amount of effort.

There is little doubt but that the pressures on each section to produce an outstanding performance are tremendous. In many cases it is impossible for a section to repeat high quality music each year, and yet the pressures remain. The Contest has evolved into a do-or-die affair which becomes a burden rather than an enjoyable activity to the section members. Many times, the work in producing the serenade has encouraged squabbles and bickering among the men rather than drawing them together.

Consider, also the sacrifices that most men have to make to get to serenade rehearsals regularly, to say nothing of the tremendous amount of time spent by the section leaders. Consider too, the fact that, at this point, most sections have had to resort to a compulsory attendance rule in order to maintain rehearsal attendance. In passing, we might suggest that this fact be kept in mind the next time there is complaining about compulsory class and church attendance rules.

There is no question, but that the Serenade Contest is a valuable thing. We have tried to point this out in the opening paragraphs. We do feel, however, that the present overemphasis on winning has destroyed much of the intrinsic value. It is our contention that the men on campus need to do a little honest re-evaluating, and we would propose that the MA consider passage of rules which would limit the length of time that a section could practice in preparation for the Contest.

Once again, we do not advocate the elimination of the Serenade Contest. We do advocate a proper perspective on the subject. It is our contention that we now have too much of a good thing.

Senators Gather For Weekly Meeting? Discussion Ranges Under Prexy Bailey

by Stu Awbrey

Amidst the cries of "Where is everybody?" the Center Kauke crowd came together at 7:25 p.m. on April 29. The erstwhile secretary, Ann Gurney, rushed into the Senate Chamber and breathlessly uttered an extensive reading of the Senate record for the last meeting. President "Beetle" Bailey welcomed new members Bob Brinkert (Junior class) and Nancy Reed (SCA) and also some of the old members who had returned to Center Kauke for old Home Week—like alumni back to the college campus. A tentative committee was appointed to determine a career for all of next year's Woosterians through the chairmanship of the Career Week.

Discussion centered around nominations for the Academic Board (board designed to keep students from being bored and in school), but the matter was referred to a sub-committee under Beetle Bailey. Dick Spies was appointed Frosh Mixer Chairman. He will work with Carol Andrews and YWCA. He will look with mixed feelings into the mixer program and report to the body. The Class of '61 is getting "had" already, with greedy senators standing on the steps of Kauke ready to exploit the untired mass of unsuspecting newcomers.

Election Report

Ann Gurney read the election report submitted by ex-senator Graham and all the new electees had their ego inflated by the results. Greed was rampant as new senators hastily placed their fingers into the Senate Pie. Center Kauke is indispensable!

Oh, where? Oh, where? Oh student body! When will you wake up? One positive note: there was no evidence of ballot

BAWLS OF IVY

by Sheldon Levy

The College of Wooster does not have academic freedom. Because of this it fails in its major purpose as an educational institution, which is to present the truth.

The College's rule, limiting faculty membership to Evangelical Christians in good standing, robs the student of his right to learn and the faculty members of their right to teach the truth as they see it. For by this rule the college limits what opinions may be presented and, therefore, what truths may be taught. And partial truth is only propaganda.

Presentation of All Opinions

Of course, the college proclaims that any and all opinions may be presented here. This is a delusion, for only Evangelical Christians are allowed to present the views, and non-Evangelical Christian views presented from the Evangelical viewpoint are not really being presented at all. Moreover, the rule makes it impossible for a faculty member to have complete intellectual freedom. For if he should decide that he no longer wishes to hold the Evangelical viewpoint, he becomes a member of that group not allowed to teach here. Thus a change of mind qualifies him for dismissal. With this threat hanging over his head a faculty member can hardly be expected always to present the truth as he sees it.

Non-Evangelical Points of View

Even the argument that the college could not allow non-Evangelical points of view in certain departments doesn't stand the test. If the purpose of the college is indoctrination, or if the college is so narrow-minded that it thinks the truth may be found in only one place, then, of course, only Protestants should be allowed in those departments. But if the purpose of the college is to allow all viewpoints to be presented, to allow students to come to their own decisions through contact with all information and ideas available anywhere, then why the limitation even here? In fact, what could be more stimulating than an Old Testament course taught by a Protestant, Catholic, and Jew, each lecturing to the same class once a week?

Freedom of Thought

If freedom of thought and presentation of all truth is not contrary to Christianity, then having alternative and even opposing viewpoints taught should not be contrary to a Christian College. And, if denying freedom of thought and maintaining indoctrination through the slanted presentation of partial truth is contrary to Christianity, then perhaps the College of Wooster and Christianity haven't yet really met.

box stuffing. Honesty is the best policy! The report was accepted unanimously.

The all-efficient vice president gave the Social Board report. Students are dating once in a while.

Beetle announced that the Senate will grab the Frosh at one of the administration orientation lectures (required). At this meeting the poor Frosh will hear about anything that is anything on the campus. Kay Demmon was elected to head a sub-committee to submit proposals for this program.

New Mailbox

Beetle gave his report. Dogmatic Dale hollered about the new mailbox and said that the senators should pick up their mail. Last year's Serenade records were put on sale for $1 in the Senate room under Moneybags Lomicka. Senators were hired to be maintenance crews to clean out the Senate Chambers. The prexy's salary will be put into the form of a scholarship (in order to cover up more apparent graft). A Pinkerton detective reported that muckrakers were on the move against certain senators. Senate demolition crews were assigned to blast out Lower Galpin presses. Dale expressed a possible plan for Senate-reorganization. This was referred to the next meeting.

Winning Record

The golf team had just one match last week end emerged victorious in that engagement. Last Friday they traveled to Alliance to take on the Mt. Union swingers and in a match that started in the rain but then was completed on a sun-swept course they downed their opponents by a 13½ to 2½ margin.

Pacing the Scots once again was Bill Zufall, who had a hot

This was the fifth win in six matches for the Scot golfers. Yesterday they journeyed to Tiffin to take on Heidelberg and Oberlin in a triangular match. Next week will see three big events as the team will go to Wittenberg on Tuesday, then meet Muskingum and Akron on Thursday and Saturday, respectively, at home. The Akron match on Color Day should be a real test for the Scots as they get ready for the Conference championship in a few weeks.

The Scot spring sport squads are well along into their respective seasons and are now approaching some big contests of the year.

Beginning this afternoon the track squad will be up to its neck in meets. Capital was the opponent today, and following in quick succession will be Hiram on Monday, Oberlin on Wednesday, and Akron is to be met on Color Day afternoon. There will be no time for rest as Mt. Union and Denison will be met in tough encounters after the Color Day meeting, and then on Saturday, May 25, the team will be traveling to Delaware to compete in the Conference meet.

The baseball team, trying to get out of a losing streak after a fine start, will go to Western Reserve tomorrow and then have three home contests next week. On Monday Hiram will be the opposition, followed by Kenyon on Thursday and Akron on Color Day at Severance Stadium.

Netmen Busy

The tennis team has a full schedule this week. Tomorrow there will be a tough match with Denison at home, then next week will show three more home matches. Ohio Wesleyan will be here on Wednesday, Otterbein on Friday, and once again Akron will be the opposition on Color Day.

The golf team has just four matches remaining in its season (Continued on Page Four) Sticklers are simple riddles with two-word rhyming answers. Both words must have the same number of syllables. (No drawings, please!) We'll shell out $25 for all we use—and for hundreds that never see print. So send stacks of 'em with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mount Vernon, N. Y.

MILLIONAIRES: do your friends yawn at yachts? Do they think diamonds are dreary? Here's a present that would make even a banker hanker: introduce him to Luckies! While you're at it, be a sport: give him a whole Startin' Carton! A Lucky is all cigarette . . . nothing but fine tobacco—mild, good-tasting tobacco that's TOASTED to taste even better. Invest in a carton yourself. You'll say Luckies are the best-tasting cigarette you ever smoked!
