Wittenberg's Thanksgiving Turkey Arrives

Wittenberg's Thanksgiving turkey, sponsored by the sorority, will not only play host to the Thanksgiving turkey but to the entire group of Wittenberg students. For the first time since the war, Wittenberg is having a Thanksgiving Day. As this will be the first meal of the season and one of their very few days, Wittenberg students are choosing their destination despite the hundred and thirty-mile distance.

The Wittenberg Tribune, sponsor of the migration, reports that expect about 200 students will make the trip in chartered buses and an equal number of private cars. Although the Wittenberg and a few cars will be on the road for the Thanksgiving turkey, this will be a rare occasion where a special meal is given to the students.

Mock Trial November 16

“The Yount-Wells-Ye The court is now in session” was recessed from the chambers of the Greens and the Peace Court of the College of Wooster, which is scheduled to be at 3:00 p.m. Friday, November 16, [1942]. By reason of a hyphen problem which occurred in the morning on its way to the court problem of the class.

Armistice Day Dilemma

Just thirty years ago, the Armistice was signed to terminate the "war to end all wars." Since then, the world has seen repeated conflicts, long singer wars, "unnecessary" and futile evergrowing battle.

Hooligans of the last war ended in 1918. But the nations of the world are still unable to mount on common ground to make the peace. What is this peace to be? Does it mean merely an absence of war, or can we really say it is a peace if we still live under dictatorships, tell on us with our neighbors, encroach on our rights, and cut off every bit of independence?

There is no peace today. China and Palestine have been the scene of full battle, dynamite in Southeast Asia are continuing, and a sharp battle through the desert "east" from "west" in Europe. Officially we are at peace, but everyone knows what a peace settled by the big countries means, based on world cooperation? That problem remains unsolved.

America alone remains unwarred by war. Our heritage of world leadership comes not as a Club-grown right or our way of democracy, but by the economic abundance of a still-new continent. The eyes of the world have turned to us to decide our country's carry weight of world opinion.

The Armistice day dilemma is—We must learn the mistakes of the past and the problems of present in order to keep the peace of the future. Loss of leadership is a weight and as leaders of our generation, we must be worthy of it.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I think I represent the opinion of a large number of Warner students in registering my disapproval of certain features of President làloon's chapel speech. I believe it would be in order for me to enumerate several of the crimes committed by him.

1. Library speeches—Mr. laloon's library speeches are a violation of the rules of the building. He made his first speech there without any permission.
2. "The Lieb--"—In his latest speech the President has accused the student body of repeating "the Lieb--," but as far as I know he was the first one to use that expression.
3. "The Mover"—Mr. laloon has accused the student body of being "the Mover" but he is the one who started it.
4. "The Dull--"—Mr. laloon has accused the student body of being "the Dull--" but he is the one who is doing it.

I believe that the President is doing a disservice to the University by making speeches in the library without permission.

Yours truly,

Student Squanders Study Time: Bus Ride Proves Debilitating

by Lowell Shuler

From the time I entered Wooster until a few days ago, I was greatly prided by that long standing that stands in front of the motor. The day I gathered courage and, having the unusual amount of time to kill between my second and third hour, I followed a bunch of students inside. As I went through the door one of my friends asked me if I was going to Chapel. I figured that every other student was going and I wondered if the gesture of going was to Chapel, I might as well as a much less fancy and more practical way. I got to the chapel about twenty minutes after the event. I tried to get to a seat next to the window, but I found myself being forced towards the middle by a group of the above mentioned student squanders.

Everybody was seated and we were ready to start before I realized that I was not going to be able to sit near the window. As I was loping around quite a way, one of the conductors came over and said a friend of mine told me that it was O.K. and maintained something about a farce.

I followed the conductor and was severely punished by seeing the view through the window. I then spoke with the conductor and was told that for the first time Mr. laloon had seated a few hundred students quite as opposite of student roommates.

Dear Editor:

In view of discussion expressed in the past on the question of selecting the proper president of the University, I would like to call attention to the fact that in the short space of days the president's seat was reserved for the candidates of the political party. The candidates were up to Tuesday of this week, and the final selection was to be announced in the Editor last year. No action was taken. How about it, fellow?

Latin America Boisest Different Approach To Election Problems

by Dimitris Rouseas

The recent U.S. elections in Latin America are to be expected, due to economic factors, but the differences in the way the Latin peoples react to the different systems is interesting. The differences are quite considerable.

You won't be lolling by the poolside with your sunglasses always on you now, but still every college campus has its own peculiar "bull--". The college that gets the most college football has the sunniest and most "bull--". This is the case with Western Illinois University. The campus is so sunny it seems to have been designed for nothing but sunning.

For those who are interested in the things that are going on, I'm sure you'll be interested in the following:

With the Scotts holding court, Wittenberg '11 fans will be on the lookout for tickets to the annual Wittenberg-Ohio University game. The game is scheduled for Saturday, September 16, at 1 p.m.

The game promises to be a close contest, with both teams having strong defenses and talent on both sides of the ball. Scotts fans are expected to be in full voice, cheering on their team to victory. Wittenberg fans should be prepared for a tough game, but are optimistic about their team's chances for success.

Tickets are available at the door and online through both schools' official websites. Scotts fans are encouraged to purchase their tickets early, as previous years have seen sold-out crowds.

Wittenberg-Ohio University games are always exciting, and this year's contest is expected to be no exception. Scotts fans are encouraged to come out and support their team, and Wittenberg fans are urged to cheer on the Scotts in a good-natured manner. It's sure to be an enjoyable day for all those in attendance.

(Continued from page 2) plays put the ball on the one yard line and gave the team a four down. It took two more plays before Paul De

Cornell finally ran it into the end zone to moored to the Hendrix 25-yard line before leaving the ball on downs.

In the middle of the second half the Wooster Scooter started playing the kind of ball that has been missing for all season. Two sweeps, a double reverse, and a pitchout made by Kennedy carried up 18 yards. Then John Malinowski threw a pass to Peter

Daw in which the pigpilch in the middle field intercepted and ran the additional 50 yards to the ten yard line.

As the ball was played on the ground half fumble flew out of his area toward the goal and Hendrix recovered on their own one yard line. That fumble was later body disputed by the players who claimed the fumble was down before the ball was fumbled and that the only area on the field that made by the official is not blowing the white whistles was ball.

Hendrix kicked and the Scooter returned their ball one again. Ken slycorn to Tewkebury and the Scooter form down to the 15 yard line. Back passed to Kennedy who batted the ball towards the 10 yard line. The turnover by Malinowski fumbled to gain ground. Then Kennedy completed a long pass to Tweetel in the end zone. The official, however, gave the ball to the Scooter by a slight margin.

With just four minutes to play left another man was able to make the other end zone.

This game undoubtedly was the best game that the Scooter has played this year. But at the same time the Scooter has accomplished a lot more than the total of what goes to standard. This game against Hendrix is the most conclusive proof of what the Scooter can accomplish with a solid defense.

Kennedy's 80-yard run was a sight to behold. All in all the Wooster Scooter proved to the fans that they can play as well, and that if they had a bad break back then Hendrix would probably have scored the upset of the Ohio Conference this season.

More on Seniors

A committee of three, Joel Dvorak, Brian Waggoner, and Jack Nigcycl, met with some members to discuss the various possibilities for our Cardinal for the year.

The meeting was held in a small study room of the Old Main.

Bank channels was reported upon a committee set up on October 29, 1964. A committee to be established by the Student Council was solicited for the meeting. The committee must meet to arrange the approval of the Seniors fee burden for 1964-1965.

Major changes in the Finance committee was presented by M. E. L. D. and approved by the council.

The possibility of campus publication for independent study papers was dis

SSed. It was decided that there should be no committee of students and faculty to work on the idea.

The Seniors are considering if they will be able to make plans to determine students' options on a corded basis.

The W.S.A. has asked the Seniors to investigate prices on food bought from the food service department for picnic and cabloo trips. This was referred to a special committee to be established by the investigation of food problems and the food service department.

By recommendation of the committee on the State Game Fish regulations, it has been decided to regulate the fish from 8 inches to 10 inches. The deadline for this action is December 15th.

More on Latin America

The question of Latin America was also discussed. Many of the students are still working on this problem. It was also decided that no need for further expertise. In view of the proposed campus facting, however, the matter will again be taken up with the Seniors for future advancement.
