Week Of Prayer, Long In Tradition, Features Prominent Coastal Pastor

Continuing a tradition more than 10 years old on the Wooster campus, the student body and faculty will join in observance of the Week of Prayer beginning March 28 to May 5.

The Big Four committee, whose mission is "to lead our students to know Christ and live as His witnesses," has selected Rev. John B. Veitch, Calif., to lead a thought-provoking work's program. Mr. Veitch has a B.A. degree from the University of Texas and a M.T. degree from Fuller Seminary. He has been a lay preacher, youth director, pastor, and chaplain, and he has written several books for youth. Mr. Veitch is a native of Wooster and is a graduate of Wooster High School.

Mr. Veitch's program, which begins March 28 and continues through April 4, is designed to encourage students to attend the services and to participate in the activities. The services will be held in the chapel, and the activities will be held in various locations on campus.

Crocked Succeeds Blackshear As First Indian Representative

Sailing for Allahabad, India, in June will be Charles Crocked, '68, who has been chosen to fill the position of first Indian representative. He will be succeeded by Dr. Blackshear, who will teach at Ewing College for two years. The move is a result of the college's commitment to diversity and inclusion, and the college is proud to have a student from India as its first Indian representative.

By giving better service to faculty members, the system is expected to improve the quality of service, student satisfaction, and administration.

The project began last year when the phone company finished work on the campus, and the college has already begun work on the next phase of the project.

The Wooster Conservatory will present a recital on Saturday, April 9, featuring a variety of music performed by Conservatory students. The recital is free and open to the public, and it is a great opportunity to enjoy the talent of the Conservatory's students.
Wine in The Swiss Cheese

The last issue of this publication carried a column by George K. Ferguson, president of the College of Education, in which he praised the students of the college. However, today’s column calls for a change in the policy of the administration of the college. We are writing this column to express our concern about the current administration of the college. The administration of the college has been criticized for its lack of transparency and accountability.

Over the past year, there have been several incidents of harassment and discrimination reported on campus. Students have been subjected to racial slurs, sexual harassment, and discrimination based on gender and sexual orientation. The administration has failed to take appropriate action to address these issues.

The administration has also been criticized for its lack of responsiveness to student concerns. Students have reported difficulties in accessing academic resources, such as textbooks and course materials, and the administration has not taken steps to address these issues.

In addition, the administration has been criticized for its lack of transparency in its decision-making processes. Many students have expressed concern about the lack of information about important decisions, such as budget allocations and policy changes.

We urge the administration to take immediate action to address these issues. The administration should listen to the concerns of students and take steps to address them. We also call for increased transparency in the decision-making processes of the administration.

We believe that the administration should take bold steps to improve the overall climate on campus. The administration should work closely with students, faculty, and staff to create a more inclusive and welcoming environment.

We thank you for your attention to these matters.

Sincerely,

Changing Concepts Of History Vee
From Political To Cultural

History is a creative art." Dr. Carl F. Wilke explained to students and townspeople who heard the dean of Western Reserve University's graduate school speak in the chapel Thursday. "Facts don't speak for themselves," the noted North American historian emphasized. "All history is a blend of fact and imagination. Facts speak only when they have been interpreted."

To develop his topic, "The Changing Concepts of History," Dr. Wilke mentioned outstanding historians from classical times in the present, showing how various their interpretations have been.

From being "the handmaidens of theology" in the middle ages and high

The "new social history of time," as Dr. Wilke described it, has begun to favor what "new men can say with a United States history any more." He cited the American Revolution as an example of how extremely complex and historical treatment is to see which he favored above the other.

Dr. Wilke believes that the historian of today should "serve as a prophet looking backwards... to poor people with crucial issues and point out their rights to the world those of the past."

Buttered Side Advisory of the Coca-Cola Company

In Fayetteville, Arkansas, there is always a friendly gathering of University of Arkansas students at the Student Union Building. It's a place for students to hang out, where ice-cold Coca-Cola helps make these get-togethers something to remember. As a refreshing pause from the study grind, or on a Saturday night date—Coke belongs.

Ask for it as a matter of fact; just taste-mark means the same thing.
