Seniors Nominate Queen Candidates

Plans for the approaching Homecoming festivities got under way Tuesday night as the Student Senate and the Student Council met in separate sessions. Seniors, who are elected chairman of the junior class, are expected to contribute toward the continued success of the Homecoming festivities, however, the seniors have been informed that they will be not be selected candidates for Homecoming Queen or King if they are present at chapel or chapel time to nominate the candidates. The selection of the five leading candidates will be made in the Voice on Friday, the Sept. 29 edition. Nomination of the five leaders will be made in the Voice on Thursday, the Sept. 28 edition. Nomination will be restricted to seniors only.

Actors Prepare For Homecoming

Casting for the first dramatic proscenium play presented by the Student Council was announced Friday by Ethel Verhoef for Robert E. McNair's "The Whistle." Auditions have been called over the past few weeks by Verhoef. Auditions will be held Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday evening.

Migration Plans in Middle East

Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Oskam, Jr., present their two sons at the Middle East under sponsorship of the Sigma Delta Chi Foundation. The sons, Christiansen, are scheduled to begin their studies next fall in the Middle East. The Oskams, who have been visiting the Middle East for over two years, are scheduled to return in the spring.

New Staff Increases Faculty; Largest Ever To Face Students

There seems to be a new acting department head among the large number of new faculty members on campus this fall. Assistant professor of English, Stuart Underwood, who was the head of the English department at Pennsylvania College for Women when he worked in the field of religious education, will teach English at Ohio State. Dr. Adams is a graduate of Penn College and has taught English at Ohio State. Dr. Adams is a graduate of Penn College and has taught English at Ohio State. In the Office of the President's Executive Secretary, Monday afternoon for the official opening of the 81st year of instruction at the College of Wooster.

Freshman Index Due Mid-October

The Freshman Index for the class of 1954 will be available on the second week in October, according to the information from Miss Martha Oxford, this year's editor. In general, it will be similar to last year's. One change in the information the new booklets will present is in the method of listing the individual names of the seniors in the school. It will list the activities in which each senior is involved and give the number of seniors who would like to participate at Wooster.

The Student Directory is also scheduled to come out in the second week of October, and with a few more changes, will appear much the same as it did in last year's edition.

Big Four is Renamed SCC; Proposes Personal Approach

By action taken last spring, the Big Four decided to rename themselves the "Count Christ-busters." The new name is an attempt to increase the desirability of the group. The Big Four is a group of four students who are interested in improving the campus. The group is composed of four seniors: Robert E. McNair, Robert O. Lowry, Robert L. Leichty, and Robert G. R. Lowry. The group was organized last spring and has been active since that time.

Griddler Spirit Remains High In First scrimmage

The Wooster College Sons had their first intercollegiate game of the season Saturday, and showed remarkable improvement over the previous year. The results of wind springs, collisions and hard skill were evident everywhere. The Swettai were called for passing and running in blocking.

The opening practice session of the season was well attended, the team without the services of two veterans, John Eick and Jesse Melesinski, but both were back at the end of the week. An old-time injury forced Bill Backlund out of the game for a time; possibly the entire season. Jack Haywood was switched from the line to fill up the logs for Brabant's injury. Jim Slay has another casualty of practice sessions, being forced to rest awhile after suffering an old injury.

The second team the club will travel to Hiram College for a scrimmage meet against the Tarins Saturday the 9th of the date of the opening. The 1946 season, when the fries met Kalmaron College in Cleveland, was the first real test of the new men, and the second game a close encounter in the game off the line backfield, while head coach Backlund can spend his time covering the important areas. The whole team is in a favorable spot in the lead golden age of the team. The second team is not yet forming, neither is the senior high school coach Phil Shipe in the Wooster backfield. The senior practice team has been too early repeating his football team in the aspiring backfield of the 1946 squad. The fine practice field he stands out with his black pants, large white jersey, and gray irish.

Gene started playing football at Belter High School under the tutelage of one Coach Phil Shipe and made a very impressive high school record. After graduation in 1939 he went to Michigan, but his stay was shortlived for Uncle Sam called in his services. Backlund returned to the Michigan campus where he had three games football season-1946, 1947, and 1948. The members of the present 1949 squad from Michigan Band Gene noting his lack of season drop in places. Although the line coaching would rather work in the pharmacy, he prefers being here as he has nothing else on his job, but there are several problems to solve.

The opening season game Michigan to remain in the backfield, cleaning up the line. Both are the line coaching, something is a little coaching would rather work in the pharmacy. The present 1949 squad, having worked off.}

"Racky" Young And Nine Others Return Following Absences

To the freshmen, sophomore and junior classes at Wooster, Ralph A. Young is a new face of Men. Returning from a two year leave of absence, "Racky" Young is actually only taking up where he left off as assistant professor of religion and Dean of Men. Johnson L. Root, instructor in political science and acting Dean of Men for the past two years, was called into active service with his radio unit in the Air Corps. He will be stationed in Czechoslovakia.

Nine other members of the faculty have returned this year from military or research leave. Kathleen L. Lawrence has been writing her first book as the Bible in Europe during the years of the war in Europe. The book, expecting a wide circulation, will be written in the field of religious education. Mrs. Johnson L. Root, instructor in political science and acting Dean of Men for the past two years, was called into active service with his radio unit in the Air Corps. He will be stationed in Czechoslovakia.

This year's group of freshmen includes results from various groups as well as new students from the departments of economics, psychology, and business administration. The college offers a wide range of courses, from basic subjects like English and Mathematics to more specialized fields such as accounting, marketing, and human resource management. Students can choose from a variety of majors, including business administration, marketing, and accounting.

Galpin Operator, Dial Phones, Free Due Soon

A central campus phone installation will be completed soon. This system will be linked to the central switchboard, allowing students to make calls without leaving their dormitories.
