As Others Say It —
Chapel Cut Question
To the Editor:
Last Monday evening I was present at an open meeting of the Student Senate, where I witnessed an astounding display of student government to address some of the problems. The main concern of the student body is the lack of adequate representation. The student government seems to be controlled by a small group of influential students, and the majority of students feel ignored.

A major concern is the lack of involvement in campus events. Many students feel that they are not being adequately represented in student government decisions. Some students have even suggested that the student government is not effective and should be abolished.

The Student Senate is also facing criticism for its lack of transparency. Many students feel that the Senate is not doing enough to address the concerns of the student body.

The Student Senate needs to take action to address these concerns. It is time for the Senate to listen to the concerns of all students and work towards creating a more inclusive and effective student government.

Kalamazoo Sting Based On Split T And Star Passer

This Saturday in Newmarket Laboratories is a 7:45 feature, 1) the opening football game of the year, 2) the opening football games of the year, 3) the opening football games of the year, and 4) the opening football games of the year. The numbers 1, 2, 3, and 4 represent the thoughts of the whole student body on the topic of the Scotts. The big opening for the split will be the Homecoming game of Kalamazoo College in Michigan.

Kalamazoo has played seven football games this season and comes to Western with a 6-1-1 record. The 7-2-0 record of the Scotts would have been very good conditions for the Scotts, but the result was not safe as the score would indicate. The thought of the incomparable of the nine teams was certainly in the minds of the Western fans as well as the Kalamazoo fans when the ball was kicked off for the first time.

Another thing that was in evidence during the aforementioned scrimmage was the fine conditioning of Jack Brehmings forward wall. The best front wall present made a real memory in any great attack this season and much of the credit will be due to Brehmings "get-in-shape" philosophy.

Throught the games the defense will catch the attention of a lot of the sport fans around the nation, good old Mr. Football will find it pretty tough to crack the blocking of the nine players in the front wall, National League. Philadelphia’s Phipps Football is just going through the motions along making that defense a dominant one. But it is sort of like the pulling work will be finished until the final outing is set in the junior loop with the New Yorks, Athletics, and Senators. Reducing that the Yankees are out in front, the present write, two and one-half games, I'll have to go along with the Phillies and Giants in the West Seats, even though I've been pulling for the Tigers all year. Only time will tell if it could be an all great season might be a bad year after all.

Campus Gets Face-lifting From Ramey's Repairmen

Employing paint brushes, wall paper paste, carpenters' tools and the know-how of the professional, E. Zorl Ramey's main-tenance crew has spent a fair bit of extra time on its face-lifting program for Wooster's buildings and grounds.

Especially noticeable among the newly refined walls, now re-painted two tone dove grays and others, the familiar brick sidewalk. The walls from Galpin Hall to Kake and from University Secret to the practice house and the Shark are among those which have received a facelift path, worn from Erie Street's to the basement to University Avenue and Kake, is now being given a new look in front of Galpin and Prankins.

New cherry were built into the women's dorms of Miller, Westminster, Sost and Bowman. In Keswick, Mr. Kake has had planter and paint applied to the three, dining hall, and elsewhere. The lounge is also sched- uled for a new coat of paint.

Hesper Cottage has been cleaned, painted, and the outside of Hephsy House and the inside of North Avenue have had a new coat.

In the Kake, the maintenance department has installed new sinks for the band, the new oak floor in Cooperante Paul Bates, and new laboratory equipment for Professor W. L. Kettler's data-science equipment.

"In my opinion, I'd advise the public that are interested in taking a look at the church that is up at the University of Salzburg, down in the Austrian Alps, where the World is interested in the events that are going on."

Mr. Bill Holbrook of the Wooster Post Office expressed his opinion in a letter to the editor, saying that the church is a beautiful and historic structure.

Holbrook, a longtime employee of the Post Office, has been working at the center for over 20 years. He said that the church is a popular destination among tourists and locals alike.

"It's an amazing structure," Holbrook said. "The architecture is truly stunning and the views from the top are breathtaking."

Holbrook went on to say that the church is an important part of the community's history and that it should be preserved and maintained for future generations.

"The church has been a symbol of hope and strength for many years," Holbrook said. "I'm glad that it's been taken care of and will continue to be for years to come."

The church is located in the heart of the city and is easily accessible via public transportation. It's open daily from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., with admission fees ranging from $5 to $10 depending on age and group size.

Holbrook encouraged everyone to visit the church and experience its beauty for themselves.

"I urge everyone to take the time to visit the church and see what it has to offer," Holbrook said. "I promise you won't be disappointed."
