College Listed Unfair By Musician’s Union

Only the last-minute acceptance of a picketing bill by members of the W.S. concert association and the W.S. president to grant the music union its demands during picketing activities this summer will prevent the national American Federation of Musicians—A.F. of M.—from restricting all contracts.

The integrade said: “This is not the last time that we have been on the plant line after November 13, 1940 of the American Federation of Musicians—A.F. of M.—in the Wooster area.”

Despite the fact that not all the music union members have been restricted from participating in picketing activities, the Wooster Symphony Orchestra and the Wooster College Orchestra have both been restricted from playing during this time.

The Wooster Symphony Orchestra is a member of the national American Federation of Musicians, and the Wooster College Orchestra is a member of the local American Federation of Musicians. Both orchestras have been restricted from playing during this time.

Two-Meal Plan Tentative Senate List Of Proposals

After hours of investigation and weeks of discussion, the Senate proposed today that the college move to a two-meal plan for the food service.

This proposal was introduced by President Delbert C. Leam and was accepted by the Senate. The proposal will be put to a vote by the students and will be discussed further during the next meeting.

Army Calls Ling: Goes In January

When the proposed plan was introduced by President Delbert C. Leam this morning, the Army called Ling announced that he had been appointed to the position of Assistant Army Corps. The plan has been inaugurated in order to ensure that the college will have enough personnel to meet the needs of the students.

Newcomers on the campus this year include Mark Allen, vice-president; Michael Libbey, president; and John Smith, secretary. Other officers elected include Lila Pringle, treasurer; Lila Schaefer, secretary; and Gordon Bauman, editor.

Student Views Of Unfair Listing Change With Size Of Group

What with the near failure of last weekend's Christmas Carol and the somewhat more successful service held after Christmas, the future hanging over the success of the year's remaining campus events, the student body has its second chance to expand and resolution toward the union's union's act of blacklisting the college. As the situation appears now, the union will not recall its action until the college will agree in 1946, good behavior from all of its social groups, to add a change in the plan for the new college year. The administration is no longer possible, and the college is now looking toward the completion of one of the four groups of hand that has been established as well as the options that the college has under the new plan for the new college year.

Among the most popular of student suggestions is the proposal that the college make a change in the plan for the new college year. The administration is no longer possible, and the college is now looking toward the completion of one of the four groups of hand that has been established as well as the options that the college has under the new plan for the new college year.

Student Service Committee Chairmen

On the campus there are several different viewpoints on the problem of group size, but they are expressed in the large groups and small groups. Some students and faculty members believe that the college should not be divided into large groups, while others believe that it should be divided into small groups.

When the new plan is put into effect, the students will be able to decide whether they want to continue with the old system or if they want to change to the new system. The administration has agreed to allow the students to vote on the issue and to implement the results of the vote.

On Friday, the Student Service Committee will be meeting to discuss the matter and to make a decision.
As We Say It

If Not Merry . . .

_"Merry Christmas" turns into a puny serenade this year in American language but if we can't quite put it that way in prose, there's Keenan Christmas this year—in the highest way we believe. It's about the only thing that hits home with every person and every age through nearly 2000 years. So don't be so chary of a chummy reminder to those of us who are tempted to wish "Scrooged Christmas." So if NOT "Merry" and "Happy" this year, have a薄膜 Christmas, a Thoughtful Christmas and a Con sciences 1941.

---

Feature That!

_by Jim Wallis_

These are gun days, by saving degrees, we all realize it. The troubles are in Europe and Asia. In U. S. it is in the days and little time that they do not include all of life's petty woe. We don't feel that we have the luxury of keeping purely calm women's thoughts. Instead, we're going to go from a very wise man who we know—\(C\)hristmases to come, for he says—\(C\)hristmas through the years. Cashing out: \(C\)hristmas.\(C\)

World News Roundup

In South East Korea opposite of the 6th Corps have fought their way out of the West. It was a 1900 defense perimeter around the city of Huksan, Korea. The people there could not be removed. There should probably be cleared for evacuation by the First or Second Arm, 1000, the Second or Eighth Arm.\(C\) 1002 soldiers in the area.

BUT, people are moving and Christianity is growing in the area.\(C\) hut is moving and the Chinese army is moving.\(C\) of course, we have a church for a dollar.

---

Interoffice Memo

Dear Mrs.,

Being a Bosnian I suppose helps to explain unusually altruistic disposition of high level political, but if you could not understand me, I noticed in the paper Tuesday that Wester Tafel, boot, with 50 other boot we'll play there! I'm sure you'll program to aid to China.\(C\) veryoccus few picture of your picture is.

How come they did this? With all their compassion about the Santa Claus administration in this country we can see how they would want to play to Santa to the Chin. And the fact of the matter is there isn't any long term gain to any military advantage from changing the group in the East, more than that. It seems to me that they think: Why can't we pay bonds to see how they make it? We would be for a change of government.\(C\) it is a matter of opinion: U. S. was forced to work, or even they.\(C\) That's the other thing, you know the man who is making the right thing.\(C\) it and lose by our side, but I don't understand it.

Yours,

---

Jenny Relates Memories Of Christmas With Grandfather

It was my grandfather's and one of my father's Christmas, when the train and cars brought all the relatives from "abroad." From the hill which lies south of our city and across the Boston tracks, the trains had fallen only a few days earlier; it reflected the unusually bright name of the city. That year our Christmas tree was set up and the infants of our family mingled with the sound of the Christmas carols. It was this way they heard Mrs. Snow bring in some stories.

The President is considering the decriminalization of a state of natural persons, that the President's office is at

---

WOOSTER VOICE

---

Tom Felt Editor

Paul Chalfon Business Manager

Bob Clark Sports Manager

Rob Hardy Entertainment Manager

Jean Sperner Managing Editor

Enchanted Edition: Nona Neese
WOOSTER VOICE SPORTS Page Three Thursday, December 11, 1950

The Bob Sled

By Bob Clark

Wooster sport fans last goodly have the opportunity to witness the two basketball games that took place at the Wooster gymnasium on Saturday, December 7, and on Wednesday, December 11, both of which were on-air matches. The Wooster gym should have been packed solid, but the weather was so cold that many fans decided to stay home rather than braving the weather to see the games.

The bright spot of the two basketball games was that the fans did get a good opportunity to watch the games. The games were exciting, and the fans were thoroughly entertained by the action on the court.

The game on Saturday was a close one between Wooster and Amherst. The game ended with a score of 87-79, in favor of Wooster. The game on Wednesday was a much closer one, with Wooster winning by a score of 86-82.

The Wooster team played well, and the fans were thoroughly entertained by the action on the court. The Wooster team was led by their star player, Jack Holt, who scored 30 points in the game. The Amherst team was led by their star player, John Smith, who scored 28 points in the game.

The Wooster team played well, and the fans were thoroughly entertained by the action on the court. The Wooster team was led by their star player, Jack Holt, who scored 30 points in the game. The Amherst team was led by their star player, John Smith, who scored 28 points in the game.
Poll Sums Up Band Problem

The golden era of college band music is believed by many to have ended in the late 1940s, but the efforts of some students to bring back that era continue today. A recent poll of students at the University of Tennessee has revealed that a majority of students favor the return of the college band tradition.

The poll, conducted by the Student Activities Committee, consisted of 250 questions distributed among randomly selected students. The results were as follows:

- 70% of students surveyed expressed a desire for the return of college band music.
- 25% of students reported having attended a college band performance in the past year.
- 15% of students indicated they would consider joining a college band if one were re-established.

The poll also revealed that the majority of students believe that college band music is beneficial in several ways:

- It provides an outlet for musical talent and offers a chance for students to develop their skills.
- It serves as a means of fostering community spirit and unity among students.
- It offers an opportunity for students to gain valuable experience in organization and leadership.

The Student Activities Committee is currently considering steps to revive the college band tradition at the University of Tennessee. A meeting is scheduled for next week to discuss the feasibility of re-establishing a college band.

Navy Taking Grads As Corps Officers

The Navy has announced its plan to take 4,000 students out of college and train them as officers. The program will run for five years, beginning in the fall of 1956.

The students will be selected from high school graduates and will be placed in the Navy's Junior Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC) program. They will receive six months of basic training at a Naval Academy camp and then be commissioned as ensigns in the U.S. Navy.

The program is designed to meet the increasing demand for naval officers and to provide young people with an opportunity to serve their country.

EVT Announces Teaching Exams

The Educational Testing Service has announced that the National Teaching Examinations will be held at various centers throughout the United States on Saturday, February 17, 1956.

The examinations are designed for individuals who wish to qualify for teaching positions in secondary schools.

The following schools have indicated their willingness to conduct the examinations:

- New York University, New York City
- Harvard University, Cambridge, Massachusetts
- The University of Chicago, Chicago, Illinois
- The University of Southern California, Los Angeles, California
- The University of California, Berkeley, California

The examinations will consist of two parts: a written test and an oral interview. The written test will cover general knowledge and teaching skills, while the oral interview will assess the candidate's teaching potential.

The deadline for registration is February 1, 1956. For further information, please contact the Educational Testing Service at 160 Halsey Street, Princeton, New Jersey.

Straton Accepts Iowa Position

Dr. Douglas Straton has been appointed as the new Director of the Iowa State University Foundation.

Straton was previously the Director of Development at the University of Illinois. He has been praised for his ability to increase philanthropic giving and to build a strong alumni network.

The appointment of Straton is expected to bring new energy to the Iowa State University Foundation, which has struggled in recent years to raise funds for the university's programs.

The Iowa State University Foundation is responsible for overseeing the university's endowment and soliciting donations from alumni and friends. The foundation supports a wide range of programs, including scholarships, research, and community service initiatives.

Dr. Straton's appointment is effective immediately, and he will assume his duties on January 1, 2016.