Notes on file boxes

There are 46 folder boxes in the collection. Within each box is a folder containing a legal pad or, in several instances, notes and clippings. The boxes are numbered 1-46. The folders within each (about 10-12) are numbered using the old number system (John Murphy's) - 1.1, 2.1, 2.2. The old numbering system does not correspond to the new boxes, so Box 4 might contain pad number 2.1, 2.2 etc.

The pads in Box 1 begin with legal pads - notebooks. The notebooks run chronologically through Box 33, year 1978. There are more notebooks which have been donated to the collection (by Richard Wood) and these go back to 1950. They are not filed chronologically, and are contained in boxes 40-45. There are other miscellaneous gifts in these boxes - mostly mimeographed sections of notebooks donated by other students. Typed papers and typed class notes are contained in Boxes 34-38. (i.e. what had been numbered 7 & 8 by Murphy).

Box 46 contains letters, clippings, miscellaneous items, an edited version of the Locke Lectures with an historical introduction by Ronald Hustwit (myself), and a cassette tape of Bouwsma reading from his notebook on Wittgenstein.

An unmarked file box contains the gifts of Harry Nielson. Five uncatalogued boxes called UNCAT contain miscellaneous gifts added to the collection. These include Bouwsma's annotated copies of Finnigan's Wake and Ulysses, three boxes of pocket notebooks from the period 1925 – 1956, and letters (including several from Wittgenstein) and miscellanea.

In addition to these boxes, there are 5 reels of microfilmed copies of the 1925 –56 notebooks. Restrictions on these notebooks have been lifted.

MICROFILMED JOURNALS: FIVE REELS

These are dated and run from approximately 1925 - 1956 (with gaps). There are five reels and approximately 5,000 pages. All pages are on the same notebook paper - small narrow pages with two holes in the top. The entries run consecutively, unlike the later legal pads which over-lap in dates. The entries read more like a personal journal than the legal pads. (The legal pad notebooks begin, more or less, in 1950 and these microfilmed journals dwindle to nothing after 1950). The entries are of books that he reads - mostly for classes-discussions with colleagues, sermons, thoughts on government, education, personal reflections on himself, family, and friends. The following descriptions of contents are random jottings made by skimming through the microfilm rolls and stopping occasionally to read and jot down only a few topics.
