8th Wims Serenade Contest; Second, Third, First Runners-Up
By Fred Thorne

Eight Section, under the able direction of Ellis Clause, won the first place in the Song Contest for the second consecutive year last Friday night at the chapel. The Members of the Eight Section sang "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," a song of unity and harmony.

Second place was awarded to the Second Section, directed by Bob Hughes, The Turtles, who sang "The Long and- Winding Road," written by Bill McGraw, "Members of the Turtles," with a solo by the director.

Third place was awarded to the Third Section, who sang "Naked Face Down to the Drum," a song of determination and purpose. They were unanimously given honorable mention for their three humorous selections: "Poor Jenny," an amusement; "Boarding House Pattern," a comic; and "5:30 A.M. and a- Nightingale" sung by the band. The Eight Section Singers were given the third place award for the best paper in the over 100 school song contest.

Students Vote Next Week On Senate Representation

The drop in the enrollment of the college has had its effect on the membership of the Student Senate. The representation of the student body, each class is entitled to an additional senate seat for each 150 students. The total number of seats for each class is one less than the number of classes in the college. Each class is entitled to have one representative from each academic discipline.

The Student Senate is the governing body of the college and is responsible for the policy and procedure of the college. It has the power to enact or amend rules and regulations of the college.

Voluntary Religion

After much deliberation, we have decided to withdraw our usual editorial criticism for this week and use this space instead for the Senate to submit a series of questions relating to the issue of compulsory church attendance. The results of this poll will be significant enough to indicate an overwhelming consensus against any form of compulsory or even the recording of attendance, as regards the religious matter.

The questions and the results of them are as follows:

1. Do you favor compulsory church?
   - 52 — Yes 79 — No

2. Do you favor the present system of compulsory church at Wooster?
   - 82 — Yes 69 — No

3. Would you favor a more rigorous enforcement of the present system?
   - 37 — Yes 116 — No

4. When you attend church do you sign the cards?
   - 119 — Yes 61 — No
   - 8 — Sometimes

Probably the most surprising fact is the small number of students who sign the cards. This indicates more than the usual tendency to play it by ear and be uninterested in the church. They will not be permitted to enjoy attendance.

As numerous students pointed out at the SFC meeting, the fact that students do not sign the cards does not indicate any general feeling against church attendance. There is a trend in the college catalogue which reads, “Attendance at daily chapel and Sunday church services is required of all students.” It is probable that such regulations will be amended with a healthier attitude if they are not being used under the stigma of compulsory.

Critics point out that the present system is not really compulsory. Attendance at the services is required; however, the college catalogue which reads, “Attendance at daily chapel and Sunday church services is required for all students,” will be changed so that students will attend church services during the week.

At present, action on compulsory church is pending before the faculty. It is not to be expected that the faculty, in making its decision, will be guided solely by the results of the poll. They must look at the issue in the light of the long-range facts and objectives of the college in developing in the individual student a sense of the values of Christianity. We of the Senate feel that in proposing the abolition of compulsory church attendance, we are not violating the Christian principles for which Wooster stands. In order to be meaningful and effective, future action on compulsory church attendance will have a profound influence on the church members and will assist in their development.

We, the Senate, have no doubt that this is the wisest decision, and we sincerely hope that a definite decision will be made.

To the Editors:

The Steering Committee of the Republican Mock Convention which was scheduled to hold on May 13th to elect a slate of candidates for the Republican Mock Convention in order to give the students an opportunity to express their true wishes, was faced with a difficult decision in the aftermath of the poll. The student council and the administration had to decide whether to hold the convention or not.

In light of the results of the poll, the administration decided to hold the convention. The candidates were elected and the new slate of candidates was announced.

Baseball Nine Faces Albion Saturday; Winning Streak Extended To 3 Games

When the Scot football team takes the field against Albion on Color Day they will be carrying a three game winning streak with them. After a rather dismal start, Johnny Swift's nine has won three straight for Kenton, Akron, and Mount Union. The Scot's scored two runs to each of their opponents in each of the last three games.

The story of the game begins against Keenos, who had defeated Wingers in the tenth inning in an earlier game this season by a 2-0 score. This game also went two innings, and the final score was the same. Carl Fleming opened the tenth with a single and went to second on a wild pitch. Brad Bunt grounded to the shortstop, who threw wildly in an attempt to stop Fleming who was all the way around to score. Dick Milligan, the winning pitcher, drove in Bunt with a single.

Last Saturday Keith Sheather threw a three-hitter at Akron, and Wingers took a 3-0 decision. After five wins and two losses Bob Macleod started, and scored two runs on an error by Jim Foster, the Akron shortstop. In the seventh Bob Macleod tripled and scored on Bunt's single.

Tuesday the Scots combined seven hits for walks, and three Mount Union runners got all off to a fast start with two runs off Milligan in the first inning, but missed on Enos, Milligan, and Melvin singles, but only one run was scored on poor base running of the rally short stop. In the fifth and sixth innings eight Winger batters scored off two innings, but though only Bunt and Cliff Elliott scored, the sixth bunt hitter, J. H. Murray, and two errors pulled the rally in long. Milligan went the whole way for the victory.

Before the Scots found their winning ways, Ostrander and Mockingham headed leaders in the victory. Mockingham was 5-1, though Sheather scored only five hits. However, Winger scores handled his pitching return. Bill Foster led the Scots hitters with two hits in two official stops to the plate. Ostrander, scored by three bunt runners, swung the Scots for a 1-0 victory. Ostrander got off to an early four run lead and could not be held. Byrd and Jenkins each collected two hits.

Second And Fifth Lead In Softball

As integral softball entered its ninth week of play, two teams in a first place dead lock. Leading the league, each with 4-6 and no losses are Second Section and Fifth Section. The two leaders were set to meet next week, but the game was postponed because of rain.

Net Team Wins; Defeat Akron, Penn

On Tuesday afternoon the Scots defeated Akron, Penn 2 runs to 1, and defeating Wingers with two more runs to 1. Unofficially, Pete Thompson, Dave Angerup had a .700 batting average. Six runners were successful during the match, but Dick Deibler, and Dave Angerup scored the most runs.

Last Saturday the hill top players gathered their way to a 155 to 66 victory over Wingers. The Scots scored their highest number in the match batting and were successful in several runners. Pete Thompson, Bob Dick, and Tommy Scott, and Tommy Scott scored the most runs.

During the week the Scots won, and the next home match will be on Color Day against Heidt's.
Committee on Discipline Recommends Faculty Residents In Kenendey House

does not have power over the actions of the students, which are governed by the student body and the student government. The committee's recommendations are made to the faculty, not the students, as a way of improving the living conditions of the students.

The committee recommends the establishment of a student government, with the right of appeal to the President. The Dean of Men has indicated that he is not in any disciplinary action in which the students do not set. The committee generally agreed that the current system of discipline from the SRFC was not effective. At its May 1975 meeting, the faculty approved the revision of the SRFC constitution, which made all resident students responsible for the enforcement of certain regulations. The Dean of Men issued a special directive to the enforcement of some rules by faculty members, but the committee felt that these changes have improved the handling of discipline.

On the issue of student government, the committee states, "It is necessary to establish a system for handling grievances that are not failures and are not unscientifical on the part of students, but which fall into the category of misbehavior on the part of faculty members, students, and the Dean of Men known to the committee. The necessity of such an organization is evident to the committee that the faculty's responsibilities are not just those of discipline, but also of education, and the faculty should be held accountable for their actions.

The committee recommends a system of checks and balances to ensure that the faculty members do not abuse their power. They propose a student-appointed board to oversee the faculty, similar to the system in Germany, but without the right of appeal to the President. The committee believes that this system would improve the handling of discipline and increase the accountability of the faculty.
