COLLEGE GETS $300,000 FOR MEN'S DORM

Senate Calls Revote On Co-d Dining; Picks Work Crews

Senate standing committees were appointed and a new poll for co-ed dining authorized at last Monday's meeting of the Student Senate.

President Bob Atwell has appointed Dick Brubaker, finance chairman, and Whit Weihe, movies chairman, for the year. Marcia Harper, chairman, and Mike Winfield are in charge of publicity. Nominations are under Marilu Darone, chairman, and Neil Roller; while Sarie Little, chairman, Sandy Wishart, and Bob Mathewson comprise the elections committee.

Bob Atwell, Whit Weihe, Marilu Darone, John Keitt, Dick Brubaker, Sarie Little, and Marcia Harper represent the student body on the SFRC. Faculty evaluation sheets will be drawn up by Marilu Darone, chairman, and Sandy Wishart.

Social committee consists of Mike Winfield, chairman, Marcia Harper, Bob Mathewson, and Barb Bourns, chaperones.

Dick Morey, chairman, Bob Mathewson, and Neil Roller will handle properties. Working with this crew is the decorations committee; Barb Bourns, chairman, Dave Augspurger, Jim Crow, Joan Tannehill, and Doty Lyon.

Senators voted to take a new poll on the same counter-rotational co-ed dining proposal recently before the student body. In presenting this plan for the second time, the Senate feel that the Senate should represent a majority of the students.

Brainerd Society Elects Officers

The David Brainerd society, a combination of the Pre-Ministerial Clericus, and Student Volunteer Movement organizations, has adopted a constitution and elected officers.

Chosen to lead the new group for the coming year are Dave Westerbarger, president; Richard Doerbaum, vice president; Cynthia Kimber, secretary; George Bender, treasurer; and Lee Marcus, Ardith Spierling, and Dave Searfoss, commissioners.

Dorothy Robins, Wooster Alumna of '42, Returns To Lead U.N. Day Celebration

Dorothy B. Robins of the Class of 1942 will be the keynote speaker when Wooster joins other colleges across the nation in celebrating United Nations Day. Formerly with the American Association for the U. N., she has recently joined the Staff of the Foreign Policy Association.

Miss Robins will give her initial talk on Thursday evening in Memorial Chapel at 8 o'clock. The meeting, sponsored by the International Relations Club, is open to both town and gown. She will also be the speaker in Chapel on Friday morning.

Her background is rich in experience with student work and she is recognized as a vivacious speaker. After receiving her master's degree from Columbia, she became Director of the Education Department of the U. N. and Program Chairman of the College Council for the U. N.

In Europe in 1948, she studied the trends in student thought at first hand, working with students in conference and getting to know their opinions on various international topics. In 1952, she returned to Belgium, France, Germany, Austria and Italy where she visited UNESCO and Council of Europe centers and interviewed U. S. Embassy and Information Office officials. On this trip, she served on the Orientation Staff of the Council on

by Bill Whiting

Any casual visitor to the campus last Friday, October 10, would have known that there was something in the air besides falling leaves and an autumnal crispness.

SCC Surpasses Halfway Mark In Fund Drive

Tom Hughart, chairman of the Student Christian Council Fund Campaign, reports that $1449.25 had been collected as of Tuesday night. The goal is $2850 and tomorrow, Saturday, is the deadline. Top honors in the campaign go to solicitor Sandy Siegfried who received contributions averaging $6.18 apiece from 100% of her Hoover group. Runner-up is Judy Jones who turned in an average of $3.88 for the ninety per cent of her group who contributed.

Other leading contributors, as of Tuesday night, are: 3rd floor Holden, solicitor Ann Hill, 86% contributing, $3.40 average; 1st and 2nd floor Hoover, Mary Evans, 83%, $4.27; off campus group No. 18, Ted Fredley, 80%, $4.62; Spanish House, Alice Demmler, 75%, $5.77.

The largest item on this year's SCC budget is the Wooster-in-India project by which Wooster students support a graduate teaching at the Ewing Christian College, Religion-in-Life week, Westminster Fellowship, the YWCA, and the Sunday morning forums, receive a share of the total budget.

Any surplus contributions will be given to a student-approved project such as the Foster Parent Program. An average of three to five dollars per student is needed if the campaign is to go over the top, according to Hughart.

Verzocchi Art Collection Shown

Twenty paintings by contemporary Italian artists are now on exhibit in the Josephine Long Wishart Museum of Art in Galpin Hall. This Giuseppe Verzocchi collection has been brought to America by Time-Life Incorporated, and circulated by The American Federation of Arts.

Verzocchi, a business man, commissioned painters offering them publicity and a salary. His only stipulations were that the paintings should deal with the subject of work, and that each should include a brick bearing his trademark. This brick often turns up in the most unexpected place in the picture.

These paintings are the product of a new tradition—the sponsorship of art by business for social purposes.

However, there were very few casual visitors on the campus last Friday. Visitors there were, but all with definite purposes. Some were alumni returning to their old haunts; others were families and friends of students. The campus was bathed in gemütlichkeit—this was homecoming week-end!

Homecoming got on its way officially Friday morning when President Lowry introduced the Board of Trustees in chapel. From then on, events moved with increasing swiftness. The afternoon saw the unveiling of the portrait of Prof. Emeritus Neill O. Rowe in Merz Hall. That night there was the pep rally in Babcock Field, a performance of the homecoming play, "The Swan", and the Queen's Ball for a few select individuals in lower Babcock.

Saturday was homecoming at its height. The morning dawned clear and cold, in answer to the prayers of the football fans. Chrysanthemums blossomed in large yellow splashes on every female within a half-mile radius.

By now there was virtually electricity in the air. The time for the Big Game was drawing nearer and nearer. Students and alumni, visitors and townspeople were swiftly filling the Severance Stadium, and soon in the distance the rhythmic beat of the Kiltie Band could be heard. As it grew steadily louder, the band came into view over the crest of the hill, resplendent in the McLeod tartans. After the band had taken its place, on the field, the Freshmen escort, representing the graduated classes, filed across the field, followed by the cheerleaders and finally the Queen herself. Then the opening line-up was given, (Continued on page four)

Scots Muskingum Bound Tomorrow

Tomorrow is Migration Day, a high spot on the fall's social and athletic calendar.

Six busses carrying about 225 students will travel the 80 miles to Muskingum in New Concord. In addition, it is expected that a number of students and other Wooster fans will go by car or hitch-hike. Those riding by bus will leave Wooster in the mid-morning. The Food Service department will provide a box lunch for the noon meal; the busses will stop on the (Continued on page four)

The plans for the new building are being drawn by the same architect that designed the Otelia Compton Dormitory, which is also to be under construction this spring.

Services Held Monday For Dr. Ver Steeg, Faculty Member For Nearly 30 Years

Funeral services were held Monday in Westminster chapel for Dr. Karl Ver Steeg, professor of geology and head of the geology department at the College of Wooster, who died of a stroke a week ago today. Next year would have been Dr. Ver Steeg's 30th at the College.

Born on March 10, 1891, in Pella, Iowa, Dr. Ver Steeg attended high school and Central College in Pella; he majored in chemistry and received his B.S. in 1914 and his Sc. D. in 1946. He obtained his Ph. D. in geology from Columbia University in 1930.

Dr. Ver Steeg began his teaching career as principal, science teacher, and athletic coach in high schools in Pella; Preston, Minnesota; and Neenah, Wisconsin. In 1919 he moved up to the university teaching level as an instructor at the University of Idaho. Later he became the head of the department of geology at the Wisconsin School of Mines and Technology in Platteville, Wisconsin.

In 1923 he came to Wooster as assistant professor of geology and geography. By 1926 he had been promoted to professor and head of the department. During his first years here, Dr. Ver Steeg carried the full teaching and laboratory load himself.

As a result of his interest in athletics, Dr. Ver Steeg was elected chairman of the faculty committee on athletics, then vice-president of the Ohio Athletic conference in 1947, and president in 1949.

Professional research was also a part of his work while at Wooster, geomorphology, especially of the Appalachian area, being the major field. A bibliography published in 1948 lists sixty-five of his publications.

Dr. Ver Steeg has been written up in four Who's Who publications: Who's Who in America, Who's Who in the Midwest, Who's Who in Engineering, and Who's Who in Education. Articles about him also appeared in Leaders in Education, American Men in Science, and Hollanders Who Have Helped Build America.

OUR VOICE

A Living Memorial

LAST WEEK, the college, the community and the student body suffered a great loss through the death of Dr. Karl Ver Steeg. No editorial which we could write could adequately express our sincere regret.

WE DO NOT BELIEVE that Dr. Ver Steeg would want the customary eulogies, nor do we believe that this man's greatness needs a testimonial. We do not feel that we are adequate for the task of expressing our feeling of loss.

NO GREAT MONUMENT will probably ever be erected in his honor, but Dr. Ver Steeg has one of the greatest memorials possible. His memorial is a living one, for it is to be found in the hundreds of students who will never forget.

You Could Be Proud — A Guest Editorial —

Would you help fight a fire raging in your home?
Would you share your lunch with a hungry child?
Would you save a life if you had the chance?

Of course you would.

Will you give a pint of blood when the Red Cross Bloodmobile visits the campus?

Well, maybe.

That is the attitude of many students on the hill who do not realize the tremendous importance of the National Blood Program with which the Women's Athletic Association on campus is cooperating in conjunction with the Wayne County Red Cross Chapter. This is a lifesaving program providing whole blood and blood derivatives to benefit servicemen, veterans, your neighbors and friends, yourself.

When you make a gift of blood through the Red Cross, a skilled physician and registered nurses will be in attendance, although there is no pain or discomfort in the actual donation which takes only a few minutes. Then your blood is quickly sent to a laboratory for testing and typing, and rushed to the hospital blood banks needing it—ready to save a life in an emergency. If the blood is not used within 21 days, it is returned to the Red Cross center or to special laboratories where it is made into plasma or fractions which can be used by private physicians or hospitals for patients needing them. The Red Cross has nothing to say about who shall receive the blood—that is up to the individual doctor or hospital—and there is no charge for replacement fee for the blood contributed voluntarily by some one else.

This is how to give the most unselfish gift of your life for which the only payment is the personal satisfaction of helping others, and maybe the reward of a cup of coffee: prospective donors should sign up in the Union on Monday and Tuesday nights, October 20 and 21, between the hours of 7:30 and 10. Before this scheduling can be done, however, students between the ages of 18 and 21 must obtain written consent of parent or guardian. On Monday, October 27 the Bloodmobile unit will be set up in Lower Kauke from 10 to 5.

After giving blood you will receive a "Thank You" leaflet in which may be found these lines:

"You can be proud all of your life of what you have done today. At least one other person will be grateful for it all of his life. For to him or her, this pint of blood that you have given can mean the difference between life and death."

Pictured above are four of the famed Dublin Players who received warm applause from Wooster audiences Wednesday and Thursday nights. Drawn from the world-renowned Abbey and Gate Theaters in Dublin, and the Old Vic Theater in London, the company presented Shaw's PLGMALION, Wilde's THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING EARNEST, and Synge's one-act RIDERS TO THE SEA.

Other . . . . . Voices

by Pat Blosser

When, and if, Wooster runs out of famous alumni who can return to the campus to star in some function, we can follow the example set by the University of Akron. In a recent issue of the Buchtelite front page news was made by a guest straight from Hollywood, Bonzo the Chimp. Bonzo is now touring the country for Universal-International pictures and he stopped off in Akron to be the added attraction at Akron's get-acquainted pep rally for their football team and coach.

Heidelberg has its own version of the bag rush. There the added something is a greased pig named Suzie. Freshmen and sophomore men vie with each other to catch the pig. Another feature which must make the affair very interesting is that the area of combat is fenced in on three sides only. The spectators themselves must form the missing fourth side.

If that doesn't sound appealing maybe you'd go for a "watermelon bust." This is an annual tradition at Miami, sponsored by the Sigma Chi fraternity. This year 3,500 pounds of watermelon were served. The evening was climaxed by a watermelon fight and the selection of Miss Watermelon Bust of 1952. Her prize was a 30 pound squash and her runner-up received a two pound bag of Vigoro.

The class of '56 should take heart from the plight of the Wheton College frosh. They also must wear their beanies for a while but in addition they must address all sophomores as "Mr." and "Miss" and tip their beanies. Penalties for not doing so result in such jobs as shining door knobs, picking up leaves and cleaning steps. Tradition here celebrates the removal of the beanies by a huge bonfire. The fuel supply is ? you're right—the beanies.

Just to prove that not all people think alike, the freshmen girls at Denison have been agitating for the "privilege of wearing beanies." This fall an enlightened WAA board took action on this problem and now the Denison frosh coeds have the latest in collegiate headgear. The beanies will be worn until early in November when they will be removed following an intra-mural contest between freshmen and sophomore girls.

Here's a timely item for the seniors: The Royal Purple, the yearbook at Kansas State College, is likely to be royally sued by an irate senior. He posed for his yearbook picture in a wig, high stiff collar and pince nez.

The yearbook refuses to print the picture on the grounds that his garb isn't what the staff meant by "normal wearing apparel." The senior maintains that he has paid his fee and labels the action "discriminatory." Right now he's hinting that he'll sue the yearbook if it doesn't use the photograph. Any hardy Scots, class of '53, care to try a similar "test case"?

YOUR VOICE

A Weekend Unsurpassed

Editor, The VOICE:

In the many years of Homecoming celebrations on our campus, it is fair to say that none excelled, if ever equalled, the series of events in '52. From the first night of the play on Wednesday until the organ recital on Sunday, the alumni and friends of the College had many opportunities to enjoy themselves. And we know that literally thousands of them did just that. Fine weather, a big crowd, and a great victory all combined to make the weekend memorable.

To all who participated as members of the play cast, the team, the band, decorating committees, queen's court and parade, to the cheerleaders, broadcasters, and musicians our special thanks; and a salute to Queen Marilu Darone, Senate President Bob Atwell, and General Chairman Bob Martz and their associates in the festivities.

Greetings From India

To the Editor:

Greetings from Ewing. The three months since graduation have passed very quickly, with the Outgoing Missionary Conference at Hartford June 9, then down to New York for another week of orientation, home for a few days to pack, and back to New York for a few days with the UCLA students being briefed for their tour of India. We sailed on July 9th on the "City of Chester", carrying part of a starvation relief cargo to Pakistan and South India. It was interesting to see this cargo being unloaded in Karachi, where freight cars stood directly along the wharf to receive bales and bales marked "Old Clothes". When we arrived in Bombay, seven days later, on August 6, Mrs. Pandit and Mrs. Chester Bowles (wife of the American Ambassador) officiated at the unloading of the American wheat to relieve parched villages.

A twenty-four hour trip upcountry from Bombay got me into Allahabad. Students, faculty and friends met me with traditional flower garlands and good wishes, though the train was early. Really, it was a very warm welcome.

It has been a little over a month now since I arrived — and the routine of classes, committee meetings, and informal chats is on. Here are some first impressions (I go cautiously here, being green). Students at Ewing work against many difficulties. Classes run straight from 9:45 to 4:05 p. m. without a chance for most to get a mid-day meal. Classroom fans give only partial relief from the hot damp August weather. The hostel rooms built for one student now hold at least two. This is necessitated by the great demand for education, exceeding the facilities, and by the high costs involved in running the school. The cost of living has gone up over 400% since the war, in comparison to about 170% in the U. S.

Text books and library books are difficult to obtain, because of the limited budgets of students and the college. I have found many readers for the books I crated along with me. Don't throw any of your books away or sell them too cheaply. We need them here!

Sociology is not a "recognized" academic subject at Allahabad University so I have been assigned English and psychology classes. Fortunately for me there is not the need to go into fine points of literary criticism. Standards in English have gone down in India; I spend most of the class time in trying to explain the rudiments of the language. They find "American English" very difficult to understand, and I in return find "Indian English" sometimes difficult to grasp. These Indian students can usually speak two or more Indian languages, though, plus English in varying degrees of ability.

Charlie Croghan has left a good wake for me to step into, being very well liked by both students and staff. They especially remember his singing voice and sense of humor. I have sent along the farewell address of the students to Charlie so you all may see it. One of the glorious things about this job is the tradition that gives the Wooster man such immediate acceptance in the Allahabad community.

Ah, homecoming! There was the traditional maze of unknown and known faces, the five minute handshakes, parents at the Union, alumni in the Shack and that questioning thought—"will I ever come back once I'm done with all this work and worry?"

First, Second, Fourth, and Eighth Sections opened their residence during the dance intermission Saturday evening. These open-houses handle nicely that "what do we do now" intermission feeling.

Fourth Section had an alumni breakfast 9:00 a. m. Sunday at Galpin Park. At the same hour the Imps were giving a breakfast for Imp alumni in Lower Babcock. The Sphinx also had a social gathering for their alumni at Shippe's home on Saturday afternoon.

The choir was dismissed early for the choir social October 14. Both the Sunday and concert choir members were invited to Lower Kauke for entertainment and refreshments.

WOOSTER VOICE SPORTS

Scraps of Joy

by Ivan Preston

IN THE FINAL ISSUE of last year's Voice we made a group of predictions for this year's Scot football games, and last Saturday we got the first indication that we, like many other prophets since 1948, were to face the inevitable fact that we should have kept our guesses to ourselves. Of course we're not sorry that Wooster beat Denison; we just didn't think it would happen, and said so. We thought the Scots could be expected to win seven games this fall and lose two, the two being Denison and Muskingum. We were wrong about Denison and now we're not so sure about Muskingum, either, for if there's anything we are sure of it's in our own boys' confidence as they enter tomorrow's game.

THE DENISON BATTLE was a combination of very good work on the Wooster side and very bad work on the part of the Big Red. Although the Scots were working more smoothly and capably than they have in other games this year, they still may not have won without several glaring lapses in their opponents' attack. The most obvious was Dave Maurer's long pass to End John Billingsley, who dropped the ball with a clear field ahead after he had outrun the Wooster pass defense. Also evident was the failure in pass receiving of All-Ohio end Don DeJong and the inability of the Denison blocking to shake loose its fine runner, Bob Vogt, who got little chance to show what he can do beyond the line of scrimmage. Denison also missed the running of Bob Billingsley, injured and out for the season after leading the Big Red ground attack in its first two games.

LAST SPRING DAVE ALLISON concluded an outstanding track and cross country career at Wooster by making a trip to the national Olympic trials in California in June. Just for the record here's what happened to him out there: At Berkeley on June 13 Allison entered the first of the series of eliminations in the 10,000 meter event, a race of slightly less than six miles in which only the top six men would qualify for the following trials. He placed fourth at Berkeley, and was entered in a race at Long Beach on June 19 in which he needed at least a third to qualify.

THE RACE at Berkeley was open only to scholastic runners, but the competition at Long Beach included all eligible amateur runners in the United States who wished to enter, and in this contest Allison was eliminated with a ninth position finish. His time, 32:3.5, compared favorably with the 30:33.4 posted by winner Curtis Stone. A standout athlete at Wooster and holder of numerous records in the one mile, two mile, and cross country events here, Allison was highly respected in Ohio Conference circles and in the several big-time meets he entered while a student. Unfortunately, though, he found the biggest goal of all for the world's amateur athletes just a little too high an obstacle for him to hurdle.

ALLISON'S TRIP to California was loyally supported and made possible by many of the little speedster's friends. The expenses for himself and for Coach Munson, who accompanied him, were defrayed by $200 from the college Men's Association, $150 from a campus collection, and $150 from his home town friends in New Kensington, Pa.

ONE OF THOSE new Freshmen fellows we introduced you to a couple weeks ago is rapidly establishing for himself an outstanding reputation on the Wooster gridiron, and has more than justified the faith showed by Coach Shipe in giving him a starting job in the season's opening game. Burly Dick Stefanek, defensive center and one of the best of Jack Behringer's linemen, has broken the spirits of three of Wooster's opponents this fall by blasting his big frame through their punt formation line-ups to block kicks at very timely moments, and has contributed tackle after tackle in tightening the center of the line against a ground attack. In the Denison game, with Maurer attempting one pass after another in trying to get back in the game, Stefanek led the charges into the Big Red backfield to nail the passer or cause his throws to be hurried and inaccurate.

THE UNUSUAL THING about Stefanek's blocking of punts against Hiram, Ohio Northern, and Kenyon, is that he was not set up for the job by assistance from his teammates. On many teams a potential kick blocker will have his way cleared by going through a hole which is opened for him by two of his own linemen, each of the men holding off the opposition from opposite directions while the blocker simply races through untouched. The majority of kicks blocked in college football are accomplished in this way, but Stefanek doesn't know anything about such help. He just goes.

Muskingum Faces
Undeclared Scots
On Migration Day

Wooster's undefeated Scots will be after their fifth victory as they travel to Muskingum tomorrow in the annual Migration Day game. From all reports the Muskies may prove to be gridders' toughest opponents this year.

"They're like cats," claims Coach Phil Shipe, "they take advantage of every break they get and every mistake their opponents make." He adds that the Muskies are a lighter team than Denison's Big Red, but are definitely faster.

Two Muskies that Wooster football fans will remember from last year are Halfback Bob Stokes and All-Ohio Conference Fullback Ralph Sharrer. The pair accounted for three touchdowns in the Scot Homecoming game, which went to Muskingum, 31-8.

Paul Barrett, who has seen several Muskingum games this season, reports that they have excellent running and passing plays and are difficult to stop in either. "Their coach, Ed Sherman, seems to be very defensive minded, and their defensive unit hits hard," he warned the gridders.

The Muskies have long been known as a tricky team, with quick kicks, reverses and other deceptive plays at their disposal. This season's record now stands at three wins and one defeat; they downed Mt. Union, 20-12, Heidelberg, 28-21, and Slippery Rock, 27-7, and lost to Ft. Knox, an Army team, 47-26.

Since both teams in tomorrow's tussle are unbeaten in Ohio Conference play this year, a victory may mean the conference championship. Besides Mt. Union and Heidelberg, Muskingum has conference contests with Denison, Marietta, Ohio Wesleyan, and Otterbein.

Muskingum, since joining the conference in 1922, has a record of nine wins, seven losses, and five ties with Wooster. This is the only rival the Scots have who is ahead of them in total wins and losses in their series.

Third Holds Lead
In Kenarden Loop

Still retaining undisputed first place in intramural football is Third Section after winning by forfeit over Eighth last Wednesday. On the same day Fifth beat Seventh 18-0. Fifth scored on a pass from Fran Nagy to George Kim, a run by By Morris, and an interception by Mark Bayer. Fifth also made three other touchdowns that were called back because of penalties.

On Tuesday of this week both games were forfeited, with Second taking a give-away victory from Eighth and Fifth a win over First, the forfeit scores being 2-0.

In the first of Monday's games league-leading Third Section downed Seventh, 24-0. Once again Bob Anderson was the big gun in Third's attack, throwing three touchdown passes and running the other across himself. Anderson connected on scoring passes to Jack Wakely, Bob Kurth, and John Keitt.

In the other game of the day three TD passes by Carl Fleming paved the way as Sixth beat Fourth, 24-2. Don Leber received two and Vern Netzley one of Fleming's tosses. Sixth's fourth score came on a run by Jim Baroffio.

On Thursday of last week Fourth won over Eighth, 18-6. Gordie Clark was responsible for all three Fourth Section touchdowns. Clark ran for two scores and passed to Tom Peters for the third. Also on Thursday Seventh gained a forfeit decision over First.

Big Red Downed
In Upset, 28-14

by Bill Hauschild

The Wooster Scots, in their best played game of the season, gave a capacity Homecoming Day crowd a 28-14 victory over the Big Red of Denison last Saturday afternoon. This victory, the fourth straight this season, was colored by several sparkling plays both by the offense and the defense.

Coming from behind for the fourth time in as many games the Scots tied it up in the first quarter 7-7 and went on to score three more touchdowns before the Big Red scored its final tally in the closing minutes of the game.

The game began with Don DeJong taking Ned Martin's attempted on-side kick on his own 27 and advancing to the 41. Ten plays later, after a Denison punt and a Wooster fumble, the Big Red drew first blood on a fourteen-yard pass from Maurer to Vogt in the end zone. Deeds split the up-rights and Denison led 7-0.

Wooster tied the game up in a very few minutes when Denison's Vogt fumbled on his own 24 and Darrell Ewers, recovered for the Scots, Behringer scored Wooster's first tally five plays later when he plunged over from the two, after having set up the score with a nineteen yard run on a double hand-off. Hershberger converted and the score was tied 7-7.

Late in the first period and early in the second period Denison started and sustained a drive that took them from their own 17 to the Scot 16. Jim Ewers then intercepted a Maurer-to-

Vogt pass in the end zone for a touch-back. Wooster took possession of the ball on their own twenty and in a drive that was broken only by an exchange of fumbles moved to the Denison two where John Siskowic scampared for the Scots second T.D. This march was highlighted by a seventeen-yard pass from Ewers to Siskowic and the consistent running of Behringer and Siskowic.

No further scoring was done until the opening minutes of the fourth quarter when Siskowic broke off tackle, cut to the right through the secondary, and scampered forty-four yards for his second touchdown of the afternoon. Siskowic's performance was repeated a few plays later when Hershberger, on the same play, galloped thirty-seven yards for six more points. Pete added the conversion and the Scots led 28-7.

With about one and a half minutes left in the game a Maurer-to-Billingsley pass from the 30 to the end zone scored the final tally of the game. Deeds again converted for the Big Red, and Denison kicked off to Wooster. The Scots then stalled for the remaining time and the game ended seconds after Martin punted to Vogt.

Faculty Members To Assist WCW In Weekly News Summarizations

This year WCW will continue its policy of presenting news from the economic world as well as a condensation of the week's major happenings.

In the economic field, Dr. Hans Jenny takes the air each Tuesday evening at 10. Dr. Jenny was educated in Bern, Switzerland, where he received his doctorate in economics. He spent some time at Yale where he finished his dissertation on the American Anti-Trust Laws, and then came to Wooster and began teaching. In the past three years he has risen from instructor to assistant professor in the department of economics.

One of his major interests is counselling. This year he is living with freshman men in the Douglass Units, and is also active in job counselling for economics majors.

On his fifteen minute program Dr. Jenny aims to create more interest in contemporary economic problems by suggesting their ramifications and possible solutions.

Each Thursday evening at 10 Mr. Joe Bindley will present a summarization and condensation of the week's highlights in foreign and domestic news.

Mr. Bindley graduated from the College of Wooster and then studied at UCLA. He has just completed his Ph. D. thesis and is now doing a study on voting behavior of Ohioans.

His special field is American politics and he is also very interested in the local political scene.

Mr. Bindley plans to report the main news events of the week and also to discuss some of the less known factors that have been over-looked in conjunction with these events. He will place special stress on election and political news.

President Lowry will discuss some pertinent facts about Wooster on Monday evening, October 20. The time is 7:00 p. m. and the place Scott Auditorium. All are invited.

Costs for the trip will include $1.50 for the round trip by bus and $1.00 for a ticket for the game, Chairman Don Hartsough has announced.

Although Wooster is as yet undefeated and Muskingum has one loss against three wins, the coaches expect this to be the toughest game of the season for the Scots. Last year's game with the Muskies, then Ohio State champions, netted a 31-8 defeat for Wooster on her Homecoming Day.

Homecoming

the whistle blown, and the Wooster—Denison tangle was on!

The outcome of that game is now just a matter of history. Suffice it to say that Coach Shipe was justly proud of his boys that day, for it was the first homecoming day to be won since he has been here.

During the intermission, the winners of the dorm decorations were announced. Douglass walked off with the men's prize, Holden with the women's.

Following the game was a reception for alumni in Babcock, where old classmates met old classmates, some for the first time in years, others for the first time since the last homecoming.

By now, everyone was in a very happy frame of mind, and in fine condition for the Homecoming Dance in Severance Gymnasium. For those who didn't care to dance, the Speech Department put on the final performance of "The Swan", with Broadway actor Joseph Boland of the class of '26 in the leading role.

The last official homecoming event was the organ recital by Mr. John Carruth of the music department, which met with great enthusiasm from students and townspeople.

So homecoming, like all good things, came to an end. The widely-scattered alumni are, by now, again widely scattered; and all the friends and relatives of the students who were fortunate enough to come have now returned to their homes. The decorations are gone from the dorms; the black and yellow crepe paper blows in the empty stadium in small pieces, or near incinerators in smaller pieces; withered chrysanthemums are in waste-paper baskets. Homecoming is over. But in fifty weeks, it'll be time for another.

run seven days a week, dress and trial run period stipulations could be modified. Dormitory students who eat off campus might be able to vote in this new poll because it is felt that under another dining system they might be eating in the campus dining halls.

The college is still on a closed shop policy concerning union bands, Bob Atwell pointed out. No campus organization may hire a band not on the approved list of the Mansfield local branch of the National Federation of Musicians (A.F. of L.). All band arrangements should be checked through the Senate, Bob added. Senator Bob Mathewson is in charge of a Frosh Pep Day on November 1. Freshmen will lead the pep rally preceding the Allegheny game, and participate in the half-time Sadie Hawkins Day ceremonies which precede the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance. The day is designed to make use of the freshmen enthusiasm and to instigate more class competition.
