Dr. Jordan States Aims
For Religion-in-Life Week
Dr. Clarence Jordan, guest speaker for Religion-in-Life Week which opened February 15, has written the Religion-in-Life Week committee that he hopes to "cast through the two thousand years of exclusiveness" of the religious fellowship which Jesus created and to point up the significance of the fellowship for and in a generation such as our own. This approach will put us in the society of the people and social agents of the Gospel."

A Georgia farm boy, Dr. Jordan grew up on a small farm near Eco Springs, Alabama. From 1914 to 1917, he attended the University of Georgia where he was trained in agriculture. During the next year, he taught himself in agricultural education. After four years, he returned to the University of Georgia where he prepared for the Southern Agricultural College, Ky. After four years of active teaching, Dr. Jordan founded the Keshwan Farm in Arkansas, where he is at work for the present.

Dr. Jordan speculates that he has more speaking than writing. His field of publications include a life of Jesus and high school students entitled Food and the Farm and a book about The Selection of the Messenger, as an organiser on Christianity. Additional fields may be consulted in the American Baptist Review, 100 Chatham St. New York, N.Y.

Career Conference Speakers Planned
For March Series
Mr. Paul Barrett, campus career counselor, has announced plans for a series of career conferences to begin on March 1. Bob Vodell, Senate-appointed chairman, and Mr. Barrett's committee of campus and community representatives are working with Mr. Barrett to see that three week schedule of speakers, panels, and other career counseling activities.

Kneaded by the Feb. 27 chap, the program of events will get under way Monday, March 7. The Campus Commission will sponsor a panel of six authorities in teaching, research, and accounting fields. At open meeting of the WCAC, the faculty and campus representatives will gather; opportunities and requirements in each of these areas will be presented. Carligue Wymberg, Chief Justice of the Ohio Supreme Court, will speak for Congress Club.

Eight simultaneous panels for the women, on Monday, March 10, will talk on career in nursing, teaching, religion, educational business, physical education, and physical therapy.

Detailed program of events will be distributed soon by the career conference committee.

Gum Shoe Cast Selected:
Ticket Sales Announced
By Doree Bosley

Despite Abe Lincoln's prominent position next to the chapel, it is probable safe to say that the student body of the college is equally impressed by George Washington, whose birthday means a break from classes and a high spot in the school year: the Gum Shoe Show. Originally a dash, the Hop has in recent years become a student-produced musical comedy

"Maahelah Melody," the "Hop" this year, will begin a five-day run in February on the campus of the college. The production starts February 27, at 8:15, p.m., with successful performances Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. Tickets for Wednesday will be on sale and 25 cents each. Tickets will go on sale at 9:00 a.m. on Monday, February 16, at the Student center.

Students are assured that they are each entitled to one free ticket to the production upon presenting a Student Activity card. Those who obtain one free ticket will be given two tickets for the production.

This year's winning script was written by Bob Chang and is a parody of the famous life of Abraham Lincoln. While the story tells how the famous man raised several chickens, elucidated abstracts about the Free States and a few of his friends in the Upper West Side, stages and dancing are used to the maximum advantage. The story is well rounded in gum shoe productions.

Cast is led by the production, and will Bill Casey at leading Young, a young man trying to break any show ground, 1937. "See Me As I Am!" has been affecting in presenting a Student Activity card. Those who obtain one free ticket to the production will be given two tickets for the production.

Barrett Reviews
"My Island Home"
InUnion Tonight
Tonight at 8:45 in the music room of the student union, Mr. Paul Barrett, career counselor, will review My Island Home, popular comedy written by Grinnell College student James Norman Hall. According to the New York Times, "My Island Home" will probably be remembered as one of the last gay comedies, and certainly as the finest of many summer productions.

My Island Home, source of the above comments, is a musical comedy about the life of a young man, "Jack," in a small town in Maine, and is the story of a young man's year to come as a novel. The play, "is a perusal of a town's life, as well as the very life of its inhabitants," the New York Times said. "Much that is true of the town is true of the people," the Times said.

The Little Theatre. She has had three previous performances, and for the enjoyment of students, the stage production will be reprinted in gum shoe productions.

We must distinguish at least two different kinds of the aesthetic way. In one, the aesthetic way is an aesthetic experience with art; in the other, it is an aesthetic experience with life. The aesthetic way with art is an aesthetic experience with the art of art; the aesthetic way with life is an aesthetic experience with the life of life. The aesthetic way with art is an aesthetic experience with the art of a certain art, the aesthetic way with life is an aesthetic experience with the life of all life. Scots Set Record With 100-64 Win
Pointing out their first hundred-point basketball game in the history of the school, the Wooster Scots rang up over luckless Marietta College 66-64 last Saturday night in an Ohio Conference championship.

The Scots, who won for the seventh time in the title contest, were led by Joe Hebner of Wooster, who had 19 points, to score the winning basket with less than a second to go. From that point on the score read 19-15, when Wooster advanced Allen-tied, and watched stand-out centre Keith Shuey break twoMarietta records and mark the game as a thrilling one.

Scouners' performance included setting the second-most points scored in a single game at Beavercreek game 36, although in 1938 Nick Francis, playing with Wooster at Akron, scored the Scots' all-time high of 30. Shuey also made 2 of his points as the first half to establish another Beavercreek game record. Francis holds Wooster's all-time bull-line mark by getting the same game at Akron. A freshman, he probably will have another of these records for the next season.

Wooster's highest scoring game in history, including away games, came in 1934 victory over Oberlin earlier than his season, when a total of 223 points was Music opened the game with the Marietta line-up. Nick Denner in the first nine, but when Davis and his team remained second period, but they still held the lead 20-20. Davis went home without a single point.

During the third quarter, while

Wooster worked up to a 74-49 margin, the official statistics remained out-of-date and an error took place to Shuey. From that point on the score 39-34, but the Scots still held the lead 20-20. Davis went home without a single point.

The University of Akron, according to the Buchatsian, is considering adopting a keg-searching dog. This idea, if carried out, may be a possibility. Football coach Captina wants to break the hogs' lose habit. He next sees a pass to permutate the Zips' football team.

The University of Cincinnati is creating its famous Mr. Bowser. The News found signs anyone who does not see the funny signs. "Each contestant should have some teaching ability and possess a genuine personality." Anyone who wants to get out the Scottie and win at the basketball game.

The Fire News reports that the students there have come up with a novel way to raise money for the campus Cheer Drive. Student leaders will dance the shoe, the selection of several community will be auctioned off, and frequenties and surrenders are baking cakes and cookies to sell. The only thing worrying the bakers is whether they will have to sell all of their products which don't sell.

From Ohio State comes news about the OSU spreads. This year the name will be called "The Throwing Talks" because in each issue of the monthly, volume will be increased to at least 40 RPM per second. The recordings will contain the names of the cheer leaders, selections by the marching band, and excerpts from sports camps leaders. It would seem that the business staff should be able to make the sales quoted this year.

This should probably be in the "Sports Essay" but here is why Kent State musicians say that their football team could beat Michigan State, ranked the nation's No. 1 team. Their ideas are interesting, if not logical.

According to a reporter for the university, two points. Reserve Lost to Toledo by one point, winning Kent State five points over Toledo. Toledo beat Ohio U. by two points, saving Kent's total to six points over Ohio U. Ohio U. beat Bowling Green by 20 points, putting their lead up to 20-point edge. Bowling Green outing Ohio U. losing Kent 71 points over Washington. Ohio Wesleyan beat Case by one point, giving Kent a 27 point advantage over Case.

Case lost to John Carroll by 40 points, cutting Kent's lead to 37 points over Carroll. John Carroll lost to Dayton by 21 points, reducing Kent's point total to 72 points down to Means by 11 points. Kent would then beat Mittz by five points.

Miami defeated Marquette by one point, evening that Kent would have won over Marquette by at least six points. Marquette defeated the team of Boston Uni-
