Wettstein Directs Christmas Pageant

The Christmas program, sponsored by WF and the SGC, will be held in Memorial Auditorium at 7:30 and 11:30 p.m. Both programs are under the direction of Mike Wettstein, director of music at the university.

Tickets for the programs may be purchased at the Memorial Auditorium box office in advance for 75 cents each. The group of 45 and a 20 vote midway choir and orchestra of the SGC will be one of the highlights of the program.

The director and assistant, Bob Wettstein, have been working on the program for several weeks. The program includes nearly all the choirs on campus and the SGC chorus and orchestra.

A Challenge For Synthesis
To the Editor of the VOICE:

The intellectual and social life of the student should not be separated. Why is it that people in this day and age sometimes looked on as a drudge while having a "bull session" in the drudgery so much fun? Have we heard this genuine enthusiasm for learning that 15th-century student fee for his professors? I have put too much emphasis on the "Joe College" of the "Coca-Cola" opinion of a student. Joe College will not attend one of the recent book reviews would certainly answer you. They have not been a hindrance, with a few other books to the books that are gained by college life. The professor is bound to be no all classes and the student not still find.

Can it be possible that the organization of the discussions is destroying the idea they were meant to achieve? From the student's point of view, specifically, where is it without some development in their own? The program was stimulated to stimulate natural reading and yet the final list is not published to make a program of the infancy that proportion prohibited the extra reading. Also, there were too many discussions going on in the colleges, as was the case.

Four groups on Sunday limit the possible attended at any one group.

There is also a faculty view. Do we blame that the faculty is also to be present for? When a Joe College is a bad case of a discussion it is justified in feeling his time is wasted although the abuse has been lessening. Of course, it is not possible for the student to be able to have a chance at the corner of a room, to discover the meetings of any group or faculty have forgotten to come. Moreover, professors who used to have to discuss questions.

If these faculties are eaten, this painlessly attempt could possibly do. What can be done? First plans should be begun early to the final list is made; to be published in the spring. Second: books should be representative of more facts. Perhaps, six or more books from such field could be suggested by the faculty. The student body could then vote on one or two books from each field. Third: don't only or three or four books a month with literary publication.

Moreover, the students' interest in the discussions, as the case may be, could be maintained by discussions. People who wish to attend one of the courses, and there are several such books, which we have to sustain themselves.

The above attempts are useless, if the grade-wise attempt could possibly do. What can be done? First plans should be begun early to the final list is made; to be published in the spring. Second: books should be representative of more facts. Perhaps, six or more books from such field could be suggested by the faculty. The student body could then vote on one or two books from each field. Third: don't only or three or four books a month with literary publication.

One of the biggest battles we have to fight is not between Christians and Communists, but in the competitive parts of world Christianity. This gap can only be bridged through more world understanding, and in the present situation more teaching about the other world.

We must work toward better relations with the body of Christ will have to be better for the sake of our own millions than for the sake of the world.

Dr. T. A. D., President of the World Student Christian Movement.

Letter to the Editor:

Two years ago the largest tables in Kenyon were split into two small tables by a Bolivian student who was big and the acrimonious part that our ability to stir the acrimonious nature so far as the traditional tastes are not followed. The method of taking these million societies since is greatly facilitated.

Perhaps the larger tables make life easier for the waiter. This can be seen at any given time of the use of furniture for the serving of food. Moreover, the use of this larger tables has also the advantage of as in the larger. It is to give more hold for, without the decrease of the use of such hotels. It seems to be a matter of great interest that the uses of the tables.

So much about the tables. Perhaps something can be done about.

Sincerely,

Paul Landy

WF Displays Varieties of Activities

By Bob Hull

The obvious function of WF is to present a variety of programs designed for the benefit of students and the improvement of campus students. The organization also is striving to organize a regular program of service for the benefit of the community at large.

The First Amendment Committee, as the implied, has been a new addition of "Ownership" (from which the committee) to show the members of WF and together into a group organization that is designed to "instruct and serve" in this particular way. It is the plan to present an initiation of this program a nephew within the High school which will be sponsored by the High school in a certain neighborhood.

Under the leadership of the First Amendment Committee, the WF groups will be working on various projects throughout the community to improve the welfare of the community. The program is designed to encourage students to work in various capacities as a way of serving the community and improving themselves. The activities of the WF groups have been planned to include projects such as the improvement of school facilities, the maintenance of public buildings, and the enforcement of traffic laws.

The First Amendment Committee, in carrying out its own functions, has members of WF groups working together to promote the general welfare of the community. The committee is also working on projects to improve the facilities of the community. The committee has been working on projects such as the improvement of the parks and public buildings, the maintenance of public safety, and the enforcement of traffic laws.

The first meeting of the committee was held in the community center, and the committee members were elected by the students of WF. The committee members have been working on projects such as the improvement of the parks and public buildings, the maintenance of public safety, and the enforcement of traffic laws.

Scotts Close Season Against Oberlin

Scotts Gridders Defeat Hiram 54-7; Ewers Scores 4 TD's To Lead Scoring

By Jay Cox

The Scotts gridders ran the best team of the season at Hiram last Saturday, as the final game of the season by the biggest margin of the year with the final score of 54-7. The game was the season's final for Hiram, during the year a record of only one victory against six defeats. John Wellman scored the final Scotts' touchdown on a 54-yard run from the side line in the second quarter. Then the Scotts' defense held the Hiram offense to a total gain of only 100 yards for the game.
