Honest Abe Leaves Petastol, Long Gone

Keith Henry Hits National Releases With Club Kaper

Word has finally leaked out and reached the public on the Keith Henry Kaper. Henry, as you may remember, swept into office in the Congressional Club by a surprise move at the beginning of the semester. This questionable election was held following an uprising perpetrated by the same Representative Henry. All the news at the present that is available seems to point to the fact that Henry, in an effort to throw out the traditional set-up, pulled his machine together and succeeded in convincing the somewhat apathetic members that something was rotten in Denmark.

Sore Bunions

When the Henry Report was called for by the suave, sophisticated Speaker, J. Myron Lord, there were immediate shouts of disapproval from the Democratic side of the house. The Republican wing responded with a barrage of erasers and paper clips directed toward their elder brothers. When the dust had cleared, there stood Henry at the podium dropping names on Dave Dungan's bunions causing no little amount of consternation.

Midway through the report Democrat Richard Watts stood up to make a motion. There was a brief 10-minute recess while Watts cleared his throat and addressed the speaker. When he finally got started it turned out that his motion was for a 10-minute recess and he was immediately booed out of the meeting amidst cries of "I go Pogo," and "There's a Ford in your future."

Henry Does Battle

Back on the rostrum, it was evident that Henry had prepared himself for the battle. He was armed with the signatures and letters of approval of such notables as Samuel P. Finchely, well-known plagiarist and Arnold Oglethorpe, president elect of the United Association of Pancake Turners.

In the back of the room, John Muir and Hubert were playing

Modest Propositions Die on Floor; Artificial Respiration Found Useless

The SFRC met the second Monday of this month instead of the first Monday, since it was pointed out that no one would be here the first Monday. A vote was taken among the members as to whether or not they should meet on the second Monday in consideration of the fact that no one would be here the first Monday, and unanimously carried. The secretary asked who made the motion, but no one could remember, and it was credited to Anonymous.

You Do Something Wooster Hue, Cry

"Something should be done about it!" This was the hue and cry of the typical unidentified Woosterian as he talked about the campus lighting situation. Asked for some "for instances," he gave the following. "Every night at 10 o'clock I walk past the sociology professors officers in Lower Kauke. Inevitably there is a soc prof working in his office. What I would like to know is why the college should discriminate? When this lone soc prof puts the light on in his office, the switch only turns on light in three additional offices."

Need Christian Spirit

"Why couldn't the light in Mr. Barrett's office be connected with this switch? In a Christian College is it fair that we should discriminate? Why, Mr. Barrett coming into his office at night would have to turn on his own light."

Volunteer Lib Light

The VICE photographer, accompanying our reporter on this searching probe, was unable to take pictures in front of the women's dormitories due to the dim light. It was the opinion of many of the students found in the Lib (particularly in the basement) that the dormitories could use some of the Library lights. Stated one of our erstwhile scholars: "After all, we are still able to see the outline of the page."

Ken Plusquellec, chairman of the salaries committee, then announced that his committee had decided that more students should have salaries, and put on the floor a motion that instructors' salaries be cut in half to make funds available. The motion lay on the floor for awhile and then died. Charline Whitehouse tried artificial respiration, but it was no use.

Subsidiary Branch

Dr. Chittum then announced that the bookstore committee had made arrangements with Brent and a subsidiary branch in Wooster. The branch store will be temporarily located in Severance Gymnasium. Mose Hole was asked to come to the meeting and comment on this.

End to Chapel Chiseling

Dean Taeusch then proposed a new system to end chapel chiseling. Under this system, turnstiles similar to those in New York subways would be built into all entrances of the chapel, and set with a time mechanism that would allow them to go the other way after 10:10. Thus anyone entering could not get out again until chapel was over.

Interference

This suggestion was greeted with enthusiasm by many members of the committee, but Bob Schubert had reservations. He mentioned that he got caught in a turnstile once in New York and couldn't get out for three hours. If this were to occur, he pointed out, it would interfere not only

Anonymous Operator Spots Quiet Exit; Green Father Takes Dearborn Position

Abraham Lincoln, well known local, moved from his petastol and is long gone. The college telephone operator, who wishes to remain anonymous, saw the quiet, uncelebrated exit of the great green father as she was returning to Galpin Hall from the vicinity of the Shack following a brief coffee-break between calls.

Truman Divulges Whistle Methods

"Don't look now," stated Joe Bindley, "but the Institute of Politics has asked Harry S. Truman to deliver a speech on the technique of whistle-stopping." Mr. Bindley believes that Mr. Truman could contribute much to the repertoire of the average Worchester male student.

What Next?

Mr. Truman is well-known for the finesse of his criticism of music, especially Washington music critics. Having failed at the haberdashery business, Harry decided to try his hand at the presidency. Having failed at the presidency, Truman undertook the job of writing memoirs. At the time the paper went to press, it had not been disclosed what Mr. Truman would do since the failure of his memoirs.

Prominent Musician Toots Mouth Organ

Dr. William Idelphonse Schreiber, nationally known musical artist, will appear in Memorial Chapel tonight. Dr. Schreiber is sponsored by the Wooster Boosters, alumni lecture committee. He will play several selections on the mouth organ and ask the audience to accompany a few of these with singing.

Wanders with Gypsies

Dr. Schreiber was born in Madrid, Spain, a few years back. The son of French parents (in exile at the time), he soon developed a fondness for a tribe of wandering gypsies. He ran away with the tribe and lived with them for many years. Just when he became accustomed to wearing loud clothing, the gypsies became influenced by a group of Prussian Mennonites. In active disapproval of the custom of bundling, young Schreiber again ran away.

None Like Him

In an attempt to overcome the experiences of his insecure youth, Dr. Schreiber pursued the study of the mouth organ. There are few mouth organ players in the world, and fewer still are of the caliber of Schreiber.

His life today is well rounded. His interest in bringing more foreign films and plays to small college campuses and his support of such historical activities as trips to Schoenbrunn and cheese festivals are equally as great as his musical ability.

It is with a great deal of pleasure we are looking forward to the appearance of Dr. Schreiber tonight.

Dr. Lowry, in an exclusive interview with a member of the VICE staff, explained that "Abe," as he affectionately called him, has accepted a petastol in Mr. Ford's Dearborn Village, Dearborn, Michigan. The Daughters for the Preservation of Remains of Distinguished American Leaders has graciously donated the necessary funds for the one-way ticket to Dearborn.

Good Riddance

Mr. Logan, obscure descendant of the noted Indian Chief, stated: "I am personally elated that old Lincoln has finally left this campus. Superstition has no place in this here college who's ideals stress the Liberal Education. Four many years play casts have thrown pennies at the base of that monstrosity to seek 'good luck.' Good riddance to such unliberal actions!"

Source of Income Gone

Mr. Craig, Head of the Department of Speech, commented that the removal has eliminated a source of his income. He refused to elaborate on this statement.

The unidentified Head of the History Department has been heard muttering something about favoring the elimination of conservative Republicans. "Mr. Lincoln's brink of war speeches have left something to be desired," stated the historian.

Complaints

Complaints have been registered in the President's Office by the Young Republican Club, American Foreign Legionnaires, Veterans of Bull's Run, and Keith Henry.

Ferris Venture Revolves Wheels

The Fine Arts are coming into their own at the College of Wooster. Spurred on by the success of the recent faculty lecture by Dr. Ferris, the faculty has designated Saturday night as "Fine Art Night", at which time a program will be presented in the chapel by faculty members devoted to the arts.

The program will begin with a brief introductory talk by Jack Behringer on "The Place of the Arts in Wooster Today." This will be followed by a trio of modern dancers representing the Russian Revolution. The trio will be composed of Miss Dunham, Miss Kaslo, and Miss Drury. They will be accompanied by Dr. Lowry at the piano.

Gregorian Chants

Mrs. Golder will conduct two Gregorian chant selections, which will be sung by Mr. Gore, Mr. Carruth, Mr. Winters, Mr. Ling, and Mr. Parmelee.

Mr. Moore will speak on what

Moron On Ivory, Etc.

This campus is cursed with student APATHY. Moreover, it's an IVORY TOWER. Besides that, the FACULTY is AGAINST US. Also, the TOWN and GOWN RELATIONSHIP is TERRIBLE.

Let me illustrate: The other day I was wandering through the library, and came across a copy of Sadlier's Excursions in Victorian Bibliography.

It had not been out of the library since May 13, 1908. This is an obvious indication that students are INTELLECTUALLY LAZY.

Furthermore: yesterday I overheard two students whispering in hushed tones about John Calvin. They didn't agree with his doctrines.

Two uniformed policemen came and took them away. Proof positive that this campus is an IVORY TOWER. We should have discussions on Calvinism and cocktail parties in Andrews Lounge every Sunday afternoon before dinner.

Moreover: last week I heard directly from a person who overheard another student tell someone that his IS advisor had told him that the faculty was voting to do away with all extra-curricular activities. This would, of course, include the VICE. The faculty is AGAINST US.

Last month I took a bus to town. I went into a store to buy something.

I was not waited on for fifteen minutes. This was because they knew I was a COLLEGE STUDENT. TOWN and GOWN RELATIONS are putrid.

Besides that, they served Swiss Steak for the third time this week in Kenarden.

Also, the sidewalks get slippery when wet.

And there's static in my radio.

How long is the ADMINISTRATION going to allow this?

—X. Z.

Airplane Clubbers Return from East

According to president Jack Armstrong, the Airplane Club had a very interesting time during their recent trip to Israel. Arriving at the time of the recent shooting, they were able to lend aerial support to the rebels.

The club flew some 200 sorties in their souped-up Piper Cubs and were extremely valuable in blowing up several ammunition dumps, sinking a battleship, and downing a few enemy planes by dropping bricks through the cockpits.

Said Armstrong, "We had a mighty fine time."

Saint-Millicent III Is Conquering Hero; Panty Raids, Tea Parties Top Uprisings

Bedlam broke loose in the Quad last night when the newly crowned national champion Wooster College Chess Team arrived in their Volkswagon Bus from New Haven, Connecticut, where they had walloped an overconfident Yale outfit. On hand with the 1,000 wild, ecstatic students were the big bands of Benny Goodman and Count Basie who agreed to lend support free of charge.

Adolescent Outbreak

The campus was in chaotic uproar as they welcomed back the first national championship team in the school's history. All night "tea" parties were held at Babcock and Compton while the Douglass boys helped the Korner Klub men stage successful panty raids on several other women's dormitories.

The height of the riotous celebration occurred when several pyromaniacs set fire to the president's house. Immediately, the on the defensive with the first move. With this a cheer arose from the other members of the Wooster squad among whom are the cagey Monk Jay; the phlegmatic Feebie Timothy, Sr.; and the aggressive Terrance Tracy. These men, all veterans, had played key roles in earlier tournament successes.

Bulldog on Run

Worjawitz saw the first move predicament and smartly defended himself with a K-7-3 drive to center. This, however, did not foil the clever Saint-Millicent who retaliated with a vicious SJ52K7. A ruthless exchange of queens followed before the Pup entry severely bit the Bulldog with an unexpected IS counter.

The wily Worjawitz, however, forced the gloomy and sepulchral Saint-Millicent to order a glass of honey milk when he attacked with a disdainful ABC rook check. The strike was similar to Tracy's strategy when he tripped Renwick Ellsworth of Havud.

Pups Leave Tonight

Yes, the Pups are Champs-of-the-U.S. anyway. At a Press Club meeting afterwards, they were invited by a group of prominent Communists to represent America in a big tournament in Russia. They'll be leaving tonight in their souped-up Sabre Jet with high hopes.

With all that Russian Vodka and pretty girls as well, it should indeed be an interesting and worthwhile voyage.

News Flash!

The Wooster College Sailing Club has encountered a hurricane and may be forced to withdraw from the Collegiate Regatta in the Caspian Sea.

It is reported that all chance of victory is lost as their boat, "The Bonnie Scot," has apparently gone under due to damage suffered several days ago in a disagreement with a Russian battleship.

Stay tuned to your wrist radio for more news.

Wooster Gives Up Football, Basketball; Department Adds Hockey and Ping Pong

Wooster College, recently added to the Big Ten to replace Ohio State, made a startling announcement last Wednesday. It seems that due to the lack of football and basketball players from the marts of Akron, the athletic department was forced to permanently cancel the sport.

Instead, two new sports, ice hockey and ping pong will be added. This is obviously due to the great abundance of applications from Canadian professional hockey stars, many of whom are ex-woodsmen attracted by the freshman course on Walden. There are also a number of crack ping-pong players seeking admittance from Mexico and Siam.

Any day now, the applicants will make a visit to the campus to commence a grueling two-month practice session for their winter campaigns. As yet, however, there is some concern over a hockey rink. Observers feel that the huge pit between Hoover and the Union could be flooded but there would always be the danger of drowning. Several others have mentioned the Holden Hall courtyard.

Will Truman Run?

As a number of members of the girls' boxing team have already volunteered to play this rough, new sport, the season should not only be hard hitting but have a taste of spice as well.

Since there will be no more football in Severance Stadium, the yard lines and goal posts will be removed in favor of a maze of ping-pong tables. Construction will soon begin on additional bleachers which will surround the field.

The capacity of 50,000 has not been over-estimated for the administration has already sold 15,000 season tickets to Wooster High School, the Cleveland Zoo, Iceland, and several other countries. Practice, already in session, is headed by Mange Mitchell, a former grid star.

Although there has been much controversy among Big Ten officials, it is expected that girls' rules will apply. The fact that male members might feel self-conscious in female togs is being taken into consideration.

Not all opponents are from the Big Ten, for the schedule includes such perennial powerhouses as Alaska and The Siberian Home (continued on page 15)

The Ornithology Club took this shot at 20,000 feet.

Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Air Force appeared on the scene to quell the demonstrations.

When the Scotpups headed east last Saturday immediately after Hell Week, many observers felt they had little chance against the powerhouse aggregations of Arkansas State Teachers, Kalamazoo Tech, Sing Sing, Harvard, and Yale. Soon it became evident, however, that the Pups were up to their old tricks when they quickly moved to the finals with first round and semi-final triumphs.

The star and captain of the high flying chessmen was 15-year old frosh prodigy Wilhelm Saint-Millicent III, who is believed to be the recipient of one of the largest athletic scholarships. The bespectacled, 85-pound strongman, clad in his purple pegged pants, pink shirt, and black suedes, edged Yale man Edmundo Worjawitz with a series of brilliant, flashy moves before an overflow throng at the Yale Bowl.

Alumnus Discovers New Tax Deduction

Blugiene Hall recently was given a $30 grant by a former student who at one time or another had resided there. The money was given with the intention that it be used to paint patterns on the ward walls. It was thought that this might prevent the exit of so many patients from Blugiene to Apple Crick.

Goal Not Reached

Originally it was hoped that the campaign for money would be more successful. Mr. Lecoop, '01, announced that he was sorry more of the $12,000 goal set had not been raised. However, since contacting hemophilia here in 1899, he has been good for nothing.

24 Tokens of Appreciation

The Staff at Blugiene Hall in expressing their appreciation for the gift sent Mr. Lecoop two dozen boxes of the well-known medicine Hygien Cure-alls. The Cure-alls were made in 1919 as a partial fulfillment of an IS project by a forthright Severance chemistry major. They were made in such quantity that Blugiene Hall has enough to last until 2019.

Next year the well-known name of the Cure-alls will disappear and a new name, P.P.P.P.P. (Pink Pills Phor Pale People), will be given the remainder of the stock.
