Wooster Women Conduct Annual Dance Elections

Dormitory affairs have been elected to help hold activities for the women's dormitories during the year of 1938-39. In charge of activities for the senior women of Bobock, Murrie, Rice, and Mary, the president, cranberry, and dormary, Mary Dunham, social chairmen.

The French House officers are Cornelia Carminati, dormitory president, Irene Mass, treasurer, and Susan Smith, social chairman.

The junior women of Wagne have Caroline Cole as their dormitory president, Jane Borgo as their treasurer, and Happy Brown as their social chairman.

Judy Connick is the dormitory president at Compton and Ellen Hamilton and Margie Guer- ne are treasurer and social chairmen, respectively.

At Hoover the sophomore dormitory president is Deed, the treasurer, Julie Johnson, and the sophomore, Liz.

Freshman women's officers are Pat Townsend, president, Linda Lee Myers, secretary, and Bert bank, vocalist, social chairman.

Dormitory officers of Holden and Helen Ann are temporarily appointed by the juniors of these dormitories. The officers are Marilla Ram, president, Jane Hanners, treasurer, and Nancy Awbery, social chairman.

Petitions To Go Out For Various Offices

Petitions for female and Student Senate posts may be obtained at the office of the Dean of Women for 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The petitions may be picked up at the Senate office, open five days a week, and must be handed in Friday, October 16, 4-6 p.m.

The Senate officers to be filled are: Freshman women senator, Freshman men senator, Sophomore women senator, Sophomore men senator, Junior and Senior male senator, and Junior and Senior female senator-at-large. Each class will elect one to each of these posts, and the Senate officers will serve on the Senate until the end of the term.

All petitions must be signed in the presence of the class members, and it is recommended that they sign the petition and enclose the one-inch quote by name of at least four people in the class they intend to represent, and the list of people will have the opportunity to run. Candidates for the Senate positions are required to be at least 17 years of age.

MA Favors Changes; Men To Vote October 16

Last month the Men's Association Cabinet met behind closed doors. They unanimously favored changes in the constitutional by-laws affecting the behavior of the men on campus. The proposed alterations in the constitution may help to improve campus responsibility on the sections, and to change the length of Hell Week.

The changes by-law pro-

"World to" the following: "a the use and possession of intoxicating liquor on the campus or unwisely behave on campus due to drinking."

would no longer be automatically sub-

and MA penalties. At present the MA must fine violators $250 and each one involved on probation for one week. The Senate would vote with succeeding offenses.

This can have no effect, and if imposed, would take the place of the men's by-laws.

To summarize, these alterations would delimit no penalties. When a section president is of the activity, he must act within three days. In addition, he must within six to ten days after the first report of the offense, theDean's Office may exercise author-in his or her section.

Discipline to Sections

"The sections may want to pass on very serious offenses, but if it is in the interest of each to control their section with ade-sions to the by-laws. If a member is declared Genie Boy, MA president, he will be expelled from the Senate, and the Senate must take the place of the by-laws." The 8-0 vote indicates that the Senate does not want the choice.

But the MA cannot be enforced, the MA will drop the "no-smoking" rule. The Senate does not want the rule. If the Senate votes to make the "no-smoking" rule in effect, it will be impossible to enforce it.

Social executives will be added to the law prohibiting possession of alcoholic bev-ages for the first offense with fire-

ing of the second offense.

The fire chief's and Fire Department are being on the fire alarm system.

Firecreators will be added to the fire alarm system. There is a noticeable lack of spirit in pledges and activists and prolongation of necessary hard feelings is harmful to the section.

The MA cabinet proposes a return to a three-day Hell Week. It is set for the first weekend of the semester and will last from Thursday to Saturday.

All men will have an opportunity to vote on the new pro-proposals during Chapel, October 16.

Baker Reviews "Right To Work"

Just what is the "Right-to-Work" movement? This controversial political and economic subject will be discussed by a panel of the College of Wooster business under the chairmanship of Mr. John Baker of the Department of Political Science and a Canton business.

Right-to-work legislation has been controversial for several years this year and four other states will vote on constitutional amendments concerning the issue.

Senate Presents "All About Eve" Tonight In Scot

Inscendent Scoots will have the privilege of seeing "All About Eve" tonight at 8 p.m. in the Auditorium.

Beating butter Davis, Anne George Sanders, and Celeste Holm, the Academy Award winning drama is shown under the auspices of the Student Senate. Since the running time is 138 minutes, only one showing will be possible. The customary fee of 10 cents will be charged and all students are admitted free of charge.

Student Views Washington Program

The Washington Semester Program is a co-operative plan between many independent colleges and the American University, Washington, D.C. Each semester approximately 100 students from all over our country travel to Washington to take part in this program. Last semester forty Wooster students took advantage of this opportunity to study government at close range—Jim Edgar, Roy MacMahan, Bill Van Tuyl, and myself. We represented four different major fields of study, political science, sociology, political science, and speech.

We took all of our regular courses in the evening so that we could have our daytime hours would be free for I.S. and the Washington Semester Seminar course. The semester will be spent studying our governmental system by hearing speeches from important government officials.

I gained many insights into our federal government. I learned that the President is supposed to be the most powerful person in the government, but that most of the time, the public is completely unaware of him. The President has the power to make appointments to the Cabinet, the secretaries, the Supreme Court, the national parks, the military, and the armed forces. He has the power to make appointments to the federal government, and to the diplomatic service. The President is the only person who can make appointments to the Senate, and the Senate must confirm these appointments. The President is also the only person who can declare war, and to make treaties.

CUT Classes

To the Editor:

I wish to bring to the subject for the first GRC meeting announced as being held on October 15. Rule No. 15 of the College, the following plan of classes is submitted to you:

I believe that some faculty members will agree with me in the opinion that the same is too broad and that a more specific plan would be beneficial. Therefore, I have included a supplementary plan for those classes that need a more specific breakdown.

Sincerely yours,

Classwork

To the Editor:

I would like to bring to the attention of the College of the following plan of classes, which I believe is more beneficial than the current system:

1. Literature: Four classes
   - Literature of the Middle Ages
   - Literature of the Renaissance
   - Literature of the 18th Century
   - Literature of the 19th Century

2. Science: Three classes
   - Mathematics
   - Chemistry
   - Physics

3. Social Sciences: Two classes
   - Economics
   - Politics

I believe that this plan will be more beneficial to the students and will help them to better understand the material covered.

Sincerely yours,

Up and Down THE ROCK

By Gretchen Van Mier

I suppose that every college has its legends which their students are fond of hearing. However, I think it is important to pass on these legends to the younger generations. As a student at UW, I have heard many stories about the Legends of the University, and I believe it is important to keep them alive.

First of all, there are two types of legends associated with UW: campus lore and campus superstitions. While campus lore can be amusing, the campus superstitions are more mysterious and keep the campus engaged.

Today I would like to share with you a legend that is associated with the Legends of the University: the Rock.

The Rock is a large boulder that sits on the edge of the Lake del Lago in the campus of UW, and it is said to be haunted by a witch who used to live in the area.

During the 1960s, it was common for students to gather around the Rock to use it as a place for parties and parties. However, over time, the Rock has become more of a place for students to gather and have fun.

There are many stories associated with the Rock, and one of the most famous is that of the Rock's ability to grant wishes. It is said that if you make a wish while sitting on the Rock, the wish will come true.

Some students have claimed that they have made wishes while sitting on the Rock, and some have claimed that the Rock has granted their wishes.

In conclusion, the Rock is a legend that is associated with the Legends of the University, and it is important to keep it alive as a part of the campus lore.
Undefeated Scots Crush Kenyon, 33-0

Dingle Darts 75 Yards On Punt Return; Williams Stumps Fee: Defense Dazzles
by Tom McConile

Gory "Stumpy" Williams, Wooster’s hounds-nosed little halfback who faithfully resembles a fireplug, demolished a huge Kenyon line as he paced the Scots to their second straight shutout victory and before a crowd of about 1,000 at Wooster Bowl in Gambier last Saturday.

Tom Dingle teamed up with the Tiny Territor and the "Stumpy Twins" to rifle the line’s two tackles, a pisaugan. Dingle again was employed mainly as a de-

Do You Think for Yourself?

Undefeated in two games, the 1958 Scow football team travels to Muskingum, Indiana, to face Ball State Teachers College tomorrow.

The Scots taped out of a narrow lead to take an important first-round victory over the University of St. Thomas in the Championship Regatta, West of Wooster.

Defending Champs

°Wooster is defending champion of Ohio College competition. The Sailing Club will take part in a full schedule of regattas both this fall and next spring.

The club, which celebrates its fourth anniversary this winter, is a self-supporting group. Any student is free to join. Over 60 students attended an organizational meeting last week. Experience is not necessary.

From all indications the Stumanship of Cardinal coaching staff is keeping quite happily on several of the returning lettermen. Nevertheless, the whole 40-man two young men were quite anxious to meet Mr. Quid. Their friends had advised them to wear a particular style of clothing that they surrounded to be the height of fashion. Indeed, they had been warned of the risk of being attacked. They tered the Rock and saw Mr. Quid. He was dressed in a suit of grey, a style he was quite fond of. His friends were pleased with his appearance and complimented him on his choice of clothes. He took them to a nearby coffee shop, where they all sat down to chat and share stories.

not used to thinking in those terms.

Our extra-curricular activities consisted of attending movies, concerts, plays, ballets, and museums. We even attended a lecture by Bennett Cerf. It was enjoyable to dive into the many different kinds of activities that are available in Washington, and to attend church services at different churches. Sightseeing and visiting museums constituted much of our "spare" time. I shall never forget my experience with Yip.

Many New Experiences

Sociologically, the semester was a wonderful experience all around. Meeting students from all over the country with similar interests, learning about other colleges, and acquainting ourselves to Washington living was an invaluable experience.

Psychologically, I gained much from my Washington Semester. I think I have gained a little more patience, a little more awareness of my own insignificance, and a little more ambition for my career as a teacher. I have gained a deeper appreciation for my own college and for my own little home town of Rimman, although I love Washington very much. I think I have gained a new perspective of the world in the US, and I feel that this is indeed a worthwhile accomplishment.

Over the years, as I recall my Washington experiences, I realize that Washington is a mecca for friendships, and as I take my place among the voters of this country, I will forever be grateful for my wonderful semester in D.C.

A low Lord defender remorbed out and Dolge deftly dropped of him, almost taking the Hubbard football out of his arms. At No. 1, T. D. flew past him to complete a 75 yard pay-off.

The final Scoot score came with four minutes left to play as Querknamer 8:11, Washburn handed to Ron Lyons and the chunky fullback plunged one yard over right guard into pay-
