Eleven Bands, Freshman Lads, Tosses To Parade For Day Celebration

Pipes and bands, home-town fans, and McLeod clans will add enthusiasm to tomorrow's traditional Parade day celebration with the Scots' home gridiron opener against Denison.

Eleven bands strong, the parade portion of the day's festivities will get under way at 1:00 a.m. led by the woofing notes of the 16 visiting musical groups which will head south on Broadway in the extreme southeastern section of Seneca Square. The remainder of the parade route will follow the usual University and University Streets.

SRFC Considers Class Attendance

The Student Faculty Relations Committee held in the informal school meeting of Monday afternoon and evening showed high attendance as the principal topic of the meeting.

Keith Weeks, Student Senate president, presented the proposal which would permit the attendance of SRFC members to be excused from the attendance requirement. The proposal would permit those upper-class men and women in SRFC to attend meetings with the understanding that theSRFC officers will be excused from the class attendance requirement. A discussion of various methods of accomplishing the policy did not take place at this meeting. The SRFC officers are of the class as an essential part of the SRFC program. Weekly Weeks to appear before the Student Senate to present this offer and to give the Student Senate officials a study of a class attendance policy of other colleges and universities. The Student Senate president, Howard Lowery said yesterday that he was aware of the possibility of a summer reading program. The books included in the program would then be included in the SRFC literature.

Frosh To Cheer Migration Day

Dear Fellow Frosh:

I wonder about the Sphinx and Pyramids of Egypt. I mean, I've heard about them, you know, but I can't really imagine them, you know, because they're so old.

Parmale Reports That Oil And Revolt Keynote Times In Saudi Arabia

by Sally Parmale

Dhahrain, Saudi Arabia — This is the town that oil built. Originally it was a waterless patch of sand on the Persian Gulf that no one wanted until shortly before World War II they discovered that it was literally floating on oil. Then things began to happen.

Successful Venture

A group of oil companies, with the permission of the Saudi government, got together and began drilling for oil. The venture was successful and soon the new Arabian American Oil Company found itself making so much money they had to spend it.

Some of the money was spent by housing the people who were drilling the oil. Three cities named Bas Terdana, Al-Jawf, and Dhahrain, were built about 30 miles apart along the Persian Gulf.

The company also needed people to keep the cities running. Thus doctors, dentists, teachers, lawyers, and many others appeared on the scene. That's where we entered into the picture. My father is an air-conditioning engineer, a n.d. along with others, it is his responsibility to help make living bearable in a land where the temperature can get up to 120 degrees. For the past three years our family has been living in Dhahrain, Saudi Arabia.

The Concert Choir Plans Active Year

Dr. Joseph T. Guat announces that the Concert Choir is making plans for an active year of public performance.

The annual Christmas Concert will be presented on December 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the glee club room at Wooster. A guest soloist, whose name will be announced at a later date, will also participate. Included in the program will be selections from "Dona Nobis Pacem," a cantata by the late English composer Ralph Vaughan Williams. The program will also be performed at the Christmas Eve service.

During Spring Break the choir will travel to Oak Park, Illinois, where it will sing at the Presbyterian Church. Later in the spring, the choir will travel to New England for a tour of several cities.

In addition to these concerts, the choir will also be invited to perform at various local events.

The choir continues to grow in numbers and repertoire, and continues to travel all over the country with the students.

A new idea in smoking...

Sales refreshes your taste

- menthol fresh
- rich tobacco taste
- modern filter, too

Refrishing! Yes, the smoke of a Salem is as refreshing to your taste as a dew-kissed Spring morning is to your spirit. It's a new dinner for comfort. Through Salem's pure-white modern filter flows the freshest taste in cigarettes. You take a pull ... it's Springtime!

Spieth Studies In Australia; Tells Of “Land Down Under”

Terry found Australians to be very “good-natured, jolly people” who take life easy. Their attitude toward sports is illustrated by the fact that tennis and swimming are taught to eight-year-old children. Cricket, rugby, golf and squash are also very popular. The country’s best teams are those composed from students since the universities put little or no emphasis on sports. Terry feels that the political system is quite possible by the unusual one copyright.

Leisurely Weekends

In Australia there is a law that requires that all business establishments close their doors at noon on Sunday. Families spend the remainder of the day at the beach. Saturday evenings mean movie time, and Sunday found many at the race track.

The Liberal Attitude of the country is exhibited by the fact that a 1953 Communist party exists there.

As long as he is comfortable and content, a typical Australian will do as he pleases. He is not overanxious to worry about the past or the future. He has an easy satisfaction in his effect on his work and industry, and most men refuse to give up their leisure time no matter how high the wages.

This is one reason for the typical Australian attitude is that the Americans worry about it. Australia is a poor-wet in her history as a nation and is not equipped to take an active part in world affairs.

Americans Too Haughty

While Americans like to consider themselves haughty, the Australians are slightly antagonistic feeling towards our nation as a whole. Terry feels that this may result from jealousy of this “new land” of ours. The idea of the roughness of America and its people has sprouted as one of the chief reasons and propaganda which continue to flood Australia. While they respect American abilities, the island dwellers feel that people in this country waste their lives by hunting and fishing.

This island continent where women for some number is counted as the only country in the world which is seeking population. Only now are we finding that the answer is Che- ral immigration. Italians cannot be the largest group of the “New Australia” until there are so-called “Americans” numbers of Americans are applying for Australian citizenship because they like the people, the climate and the atmosphere of relaxation.

Runout, “Bag Rush” Entertain Frosh

by Larry Wear

It happens every year.

The Class of 1962 became a part of the famous, or possibly infamous, Wooster tradition as they participated in the famous main runout. The frosh are now eagerly anticipating a chance to score the point at the bag rush. The fun, held in the early hours of the Saturday morning following the SCA format, provided the newest element at Wooster with some of its first and perhaps most unforgettable experiences of exactly what it means to be a college student. In fact, the runout, under the direction and supervision of an understanding four platoons, gave the entire school some unforgettable memories. It might interest the freshest to know that compared to the initiation given in other colleges and universities especially those in Europe, whose educational system we hear so much about, they get off very easy.

Europe is Worse

In the European university the initiation usually begins with a newcomer having his head shaved. This occurs with the need for him to wear a dark uniform period lasts for at least three weeks and is very rigorous. However, since we may give the sophomores some ideas, maybe we should try no more about similar customs observed in Europe. As a long and glorious history of bag rush, it is not necessary to repeat the 1920’s and now, it was then, the climax of competition between the bag rush and the Frosh. The bag rush is performed by placing a large bag of sand in the middle of the field. The two opposing groups of men then try to remove the bag. As a commoner can testify, this is more of a task than it might sound. Through the years more events have been added to the bag rush, until it includes a tug of war, track events, and several other competitive games.

Activities beginning with the bag rush, links to identify the newcomers, continue with the runout to introduce the freshmen to the sophomores, and climaxing with the bag rush to test the strength and unity of the frosh, comprise a rather unique plan. This plan is to find a way to make the freshmen take part in their class activities and make them feel as if they are important and integral part of the college which of course they are.

Cut the Nonsense
Let's have an end of nonsense and get on with the process of acquiring a sound education as devised, not by multitype students, with a penchant for short changing their own course, but by a faculty and Administration who have devoted their lives, training and talents at a sacrifice for the purposes of stable learning.

I pray for a courageous faculty and Administration who will put a hard foot down on the kind of nonsense expressed in your recent issue.

Irate Alumni—evidence that I didn't have to be an attorney to evaluate.

Unlimited class cutl! It would be a lot cheaper to have a younger set at home for four years and think—no worry about being able of it or have him subscribe to a correspondence course even if he didn't turn in many of the assignments. Also would be cheaper for the alumni, too.

We sent in more than $100,000 last year because we believed, in perspective, that we profited by a sound classroom—teacher—student relationship at Wooster in our day and covered the same for future generations of students. Why can't W. S. President Lowry beat the bushes for kind and generous donors for dominions, classrooms on laboratories? If the students really don't have to go to class? Let's put that proposed Student Union last on the list of desirable buildings. That would provide only an attractive looking place to lure away students who don't just want to go to class. Why Buck Tradition? Or does this "Interested Student" letter reflect something that we parents and alumni ought to know? He says, "This type of simplified class could stimulate instructors to make classes more interesting and worthwhile. Has the quality of instruction deteriorated from my day? If so, it is a matter for administrative attention. If the Wooster faculty has new composed of different, altruistic, and parents ought to know it and the Administration ought to be charged with thorough-house cleaning immediately. We should see no more a reasonable method than the present procedure of a legalized student strike to prove the point."

The quality of instruction at Wooster in the past, even in the last few years, would seem to give the lie to that point—unless something very recent has happened. Wooster Alumni have made distinguished graduate school records. They have a stake in the degree that Wooster offers. Why is it so difficult to convince any one generation of students that they pay for only about half of their education and that the college does not charge them alone?

Even if the "Interested Student" letter alone had not convinced me of the utter juvenileism of some current Wooster students, the editorial about dimming lights in front of girl dormitories for a good night kiss would have turned the trick.

type of man" reviled by the Communist Party. He is characterized by new virtues of a Christian attitude to work, solicitude for the safeguarding and increase of public property, a deep realization of his special duty toward his socialist motherland and subservience for his prosperity, life-giving Soviet patriotism, a brotherly attitude toward working people of all nationalities, proletarian internationalism.

Religion Null
A general interest in religion is definitely lacking in Russia. Many churches have been turned into historical museums and mausoleums.

As Comrade V. Uromsky puts it, "The USSR Constitution gives every citizen of the Soviet Union not only the right to practice any form of religious worship, but also freedom to carry on anti-religious propaganda. Broad education of the popular masses is carried on in the country. The Communist Party by every means helps Soviet citizens acquire the scientific materialistic world outlook which reveals the laws of the development of nature and society and thereby helps to overcome religious survivals."

This statement exemplifies the premises used by the Soviets to accomplish their utopian natures. Upon being asked her beliefs in religion, our guide, Vera Brubkina, calmly and unemotionally replied that there is no God and no afterlife. She is an extreme example. A few people in Russia still believe in religion.

Materialism Dominates
Outside Moscow is a permanent agricultural exhibit—with a building for each republic and its products, and also special buildings for scientific achievements, etc. Music is made of Brave New World flutes; the outdoor air everywhere. I was impressed by this miniature world's fair in the sense that it resembles a religious shrine for Soviet dialectical materialism.

I concede one thing to the Communists—they have an undoubtedly helped the people in a material way. Things must have been pretty bad under the Czars. Slowly the Communists have gotten around to producing more consumer goods and building more apartment houses. Nowhere in Europe did I see more building going on than in the USSR.

However, they have been pushing most of their effort into collectivized goods and heavy industry, so that there is still a big housing shortage, particularly in Lenigrad.

Who Will Win? Russia or the U.S.? One cannot strongly compared on the amount of specific goods produced. Estimates of only a few years ago were given by the Soviets as too long. It will take the USSR to catch us in these specific items. They have a long way to go before they catch us at the quality level. But they do need these in order to conquer the world. Their emphasis has been on items necessary to achieve the latter purpose.

Soviet materialistic Communism is not the answer to anyone's problems. But it is a big, wrong answer that threatens to force the question further. I hope we find a way that we are still in a position to grade the papers when the answers are checked.
