Richard Directs Women Choraliers on Eastern Swing

Traveling east next weekend, the Concert Choir, under the direction of Eve Eoinne Richardson, will present five concerts in Indiana and Williamson, Pennsylvania, Greenwich, Connecticut, and Wilmington, Delaware.

Starting Thursday, Feb. 19, the choir will begin its three-week eastern swing. During the trip, the choirs will perform at five churches in Indiana and the Central Covenant Church in Greenwich, the church of the Rev. William B. Williams, pastor of the University Church of the Wilmington Presbyterian Church in Wilmington.

Waggener and Virginia Bates, whose choir will be singing in the Central Covenant Church, will receive an honorarium of $100 and pay $100 to the University Choir for its trip. Mrs. Williams, however, has not paid for the choir's trip to the Central Covenant Church.

Waggener and Bates will also receive a $100 check from the University Choir for the trip to the Central Covenant Church.

Touring the University Church of the Wilmington Presbyterian Church in Wilmington, Delaware, is the University Choir's final concert of the trip.

Co-Editors Seek Varied Material for THISTLE

A second THISTLE, the new edito-ry library magazine, is in the making.

Co-editor Bill Lomax and Sue Babbie have announced a March deadline for all copy. The issue will be published for the Color Day celebration. The issue will contain at least one short story and a poetry section.

Poetry and fiction articles should be submitted on the following topics: "The Light of the World," "The Light of the Day," "The Light of the Moon," and "The Light of the Sun." Poets and writers are invited to submit articles on these topics.

Students Escape For D.C. Term

Juniors Marilyn Burns, Robert Bates, Barbara Bryan, and Barbara Johnson have consented to present the Wooster campus of the American University in Washington D.C. this semester.

The program centers around the Washington Semester Seminar, a three-hour course, in which students are to present, participate in mini- mum, and participate in student-organized field trips to various places of interest. Students who engage in independent research will receive credit in a research paper fulfilling the seminar's requirements.

Students engaged in independent research research will receive credit in a research paper fulfilling the seminar's requirements.

Sitting on the floor of the American University, the students are to present their ideas and participate in the seminar's activities. They are to attend the seminar's activities, they are to attend the seminar's activities.

The seminar's activities include a seminar on the opening of the Lincoln Memorial, a seminar on the opening of the National Gallery of Art, and a seminar on the opening of the National Archives.

Towards Better Lighting

The library of the College of Wooster is insufficiently lighted. Although the Diesel generator that supplies light for reading rooms has been made by the VOICE, and compared with reading rooms in the Wooster Library, the standard does not measure up.

Prescribed lighting value for a library reading room—20 foot-candles of illumination. Readings from the desks of the main reading room here show foot-candle range varying from only 12 to 16-foot candles. Readings from the foot-candle meter of the Department of Physics show that at night the dictionary located at the west window have only five foot-candles or less.

Recommended foot-candle power for ordinary theme or church auditoriums is five to 15 foot-candles power. Only in the basement and on the ground floor has an adequate amount of light. In the College Library lighting provide more than this. A reading at the main desk measured 30-foot candels. This is one of the spots which should be average power in a library reading room.

Wooster students, faculty and townsmen have endured this poor illumination for some time, and the burden of a true fellowship student. However, a remedy for inadequate over-speed lighting is likely to come. The Buildings and Grounds Committee would do the College a great service if it would supply our most important building with enlightened lighting.

Four Years At Stake

In five hours the work of four years is tied in one neat little bundle... or is it? Should this much stress be placed on any examination? The faculty obviously believes that it should be. The junior year last seniors were not graduated with their class because of examination failure. If this policy is continued, one third of all students have not only been accepted to graduate school but also their senior year of college is indicative of low course grades. Yet the Handbook states that students should be able to pass this examination without cramping.

Examinations are good things, the purpose being to provide the student with an opportunity to relearn. Ideally, this independent study, major course-related courses in other departments general examinations designed in this frame to the first years.

By stipulating passage of this examination as an arbitrary requirement for graduation, the faculty has indicated the great weight placed on COMP 100. If examination policy should be to use the fact that the survival of four years effort should not hinge complex on one examination. Examination scores should be an integral part of the College's program and as such the faculty of advising medical realizations is recommended.

On the other hand, if a single examination is to be so critical in determining the student's graduation, examinations should be as equal in degree of difficulty and re quirement for the student. Should (B) time should be allowed the student for concentrated preparation.

At the present time examinations administered by the various departments are of every type. Competences should be as equal in degree of difficulty and re quirement for the student. Should (B) time should be allowed the student for concentrated preparation.

Differences exist in the field of Comp 100 and examination policy. The purpose of the student is to be prepared to pass a five-hour exam covering all courses in their major, some of which were taken in their freshman year, with a greater deal of review. Work that was four years of at stake certainly one day is minimum required.

Purchase, you have heard, how the New York Yankees are the top team in the American League. In the World Series they will face Cooperstown, a small village in New York State. But I am not going to speak about baseball. I am going to discuss the current state of the American League.

The New York Yankees are the dominant team in the American League. They have won the World Series a record seven times, and they are widely considered the most successful team in baseball history. Their success has been built on a combination of talented players, excellent coaching, and a strong organizational structure.

The Yankees have a long history of success, dating back to the early 1900s. They were founded in 1901, and have been a fixture in the American League ever since. The team has always been known for its ability to attract and develop talented players, both through the draft and through free agency.

The Yankees have had a number of legendary players over the years, including Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, and Mickey Mantle. These players have helped to establish the Yankees as a elite team, and have contributed to their success on the field.

In recent years, the Yankees have continued to be a dominant force in the American League. They have won the World Series in 1996, 1998, and 2000, and have been considered one of the best teams in the league for much of the past decade.

The Yankees are not without their challenges, however. They have had to deal with a number of high-profile retirements and injuries in recent years, and the team has had to find new ways to stay competitive. But despite these challenges, the Yankees remain one of the most storied and successful teams in baseball history.

If you are a fan of the Yankees, or simply a fan of baseball, you should be excited about the current state of the American League. The Yankees are a team with a rich history and a bright future, and they are sure to provide plenty of exciting moments and unforgettable memories for years to come.

Before they take a look at how the Scots are faring in the conference, first of all, there was the Mid-America 4-2 win awarding them the league title and sending them on to the NCAA playoffs.

The number three對 nouns with a 12.2 per cent margin. Another point of interest is that the Scots are in the team 18th ranking for the underclassmen as in.

The Disco team was to be featured on Saturday night, the spotlight being on this team of nine to nine of league competition. Their first win came on a fork-tail from.

In their other game, fifth had to overcome Third's 25-22, point-wise. Thanks to 10 of Jim McCull's 14 points in the second half, fifth won going away 48-35. High man for the game, however, was Third's Craig Tyler with 15 counters.

Scoring Scales: First's Bill Thomb and Third's Kurt Lake put on a real scoring game, each finishing with 17 tallies, but Third had too much depth. Wins were notable.

Of Denny Dudley's 25 points, one of Jim McCull's 30 points, and one of Jim McCull's 14 points in the second half, fifth won going away 48-35. High man for the game, however, was Third's Craig Tyler with 15 counters.

kitchen science? Besides, boiled eggs are good for you! The Wooster woman is an economic chimp. Did any of you men ever face the confusion of canned goods and bargain shelves at the local supermarket with a girl, sent by her social club to do its shopping? Not only must she spread sandwiches, she must spread the thinnest layer of capitalist over the most impressive-looking deli items to inspire raves—both girls and guys.

Memories room back to the good old days when Freshman women who lived in Wooster College combined Sunday night suppers by preparing their own. Those were the days of little figures and happy dispositions. Many a Valentine cake was baked there for the thankless boyfriend, Midlesex! What a waste to cook when nobody appreciates it how let the boys cook—they've got the kitchen.

Some of us have been in Europe where we bartered with anything—bilingual speaking merchants, and prepared meals over wood-burning stoves. I call that pretty hard labor.

True, there are a few of us who are unfamiliar with the ways of the cookbook, but that is only because Gail's book is a taste of The Worldly Philosophers file of reading. Please don't change the course—let's keep Mothy Dick off the dinner table. A Senior
