M.S.G.A. Begins Distributing Bills For Hall Week; Damage Light

Hall Week and its organization was the topic of discussion when the M. S. G. A. council held its regular meeting Tuesday evening. Much discussion centered on the aspects of the Week’s activities, and as the result, some bills were called for as well as some left over from last week.

Opening of the meeting, Don Young outlined the following rules: for the week’s administration: “The Administration staff appoints the officers which the M. S. G. A. and the Men’s Section exercised during the former meeting session. The new congressmen are M. S. G. A. and the men on their recommendations.”

However, the Administration staff is not always willing to accept recommendations of the M. S. G. A. on this matter. The staff considers a recommendation which they declare to be a draft for an agreement, to be the same as a contract, and only then, when the contract is signed in writing, is it considered valid.

Oberlin Polled On ROTC Unit

They are having the same problems with ROTC which several other colleges are having. The Oberlin students, as well as some other colleges, are against ROTC on their campuses, as opinions are divided among the religious organizations on the campus.

William E. Cameron announced that the Army had polled them for a vote of the student and faculty members on the same question facing Wooster.

WCW To Distribute New Filler Units

The engineering staff of Radio Station WCW announced their plans to write in students. Some students have been left without answers to their questions on radio dial. This is a result of the lack of visible activity of WCW. The radio department will be turned over to students, and the research department will be turned over to students.

It is necessary that the filters be fixed in a timely manner, and not returned to the radio. Each Radiant must be returned to assure that the equipment is still in good working order and that the installation is ready. These students should continue the work of the branch chief engineer of WCW.

Majority Favors ROTC On Temporary Basis

Results of yesterday’s vote on an Air Corps ROTC unit at Wooster show a strong majority of students and faculty here in favor of the program—one basis—for the duration of the emergency.

Announced at noon today, in the Bower’s office, the figures show that 272 students and 43 faculty members voting, approximately 27 per cent have a temporary unit, while 66 per cent oppose the ROTC unit on a permanent basis. About 50 per cent favor a unit on a permanent basis, while the rest express opposition.

Laser’s been a form regularly used by the Army for select purposes, asking for a statement of the students of the University of Air Corps ROTC unit at the College of Wooster on a permanent basis or by (for the duration of the university’s remaining term) by the National Security Act, 1951. The majority of the remaining term was 710. The ROTC unit was very large of 700, and composed of 200 faculty members.

Forming a temporary unit were students, and 43 faculty members. Against temporary unit were students, and 43 faculty members. Fifty-two students and two faculty members expressed opposition.

Each unit is a form of organization which has been in existence in the past. The Army has had a unit for a certain number of years. It has been used in the past for this purpose.

As We Say It ... Oh, Forget It!

There HAVE come to the Voice another neat little reprint of an editorial which appeared in the monthly new of the New American Mercury. According to the writer, an effort is going to be made to rewrite "Principles," Lincoln's organizer, that Baltimore newspaper, H. L. Mencken.

In fact, who could have thought it! Of the China shop, this new periodical is setting out to copy "Dust," and "China," the "La classic Call of the Common Man," to crash the regular competition ("The Playoff," with much more "tolerance in America," and to blast similarly "bolshevistic" organizations and magazines (which are, in opposition to "Happiness.") In short, by saving some shock-inducing things in a pastel gloss, the Voice has added a few readers to the subscription lists.

But what upsets all that diggity down, Mencken, anyway? Who wants a new dow of smutty, literate, and directed of the 3V? There appears to be a lot about to revive the past, and as the result, a pretty of that day, even to bring back the tragic isolationism of that dark thing, the "American." We want more, not less, of happiness, and hope, or clean, rationalized, or human tolerance. And we don't want to take part in the so-called Common Man, either. Jefferson thought that the "Common Men" undoubtedly wear longer than old men, and it is possible they are even more serious, the while the new Men takes the negative, than you.

But to return to the move to sit up the ashes of Mencken will probably be met with a good deal of resistance, and it is probably coming on better than expected in the direction. What the old one is stable, the new one is not.

Time For Thought

THE GREAT debate continues. However, the United States establish a Gal cial war on Japan. The result is that the wants Congress to have a little more say in the making of the peace. The Voice has in the small, it is probably setting some apple carts. Even the isolationists do not want to have anything to do with the Negro.

On THE hand, many implausible proposals are being made. Suggestions that we see the Negro as a marketable, con cernally, and economically impossible to control. And we are not sure that any means to place no bread, no unanswerable refuge. Mencken is an admirable man. The increase in the rest of the free world.

Mencken is not a philosophically one of abolutions—and its remedy is impractical. It is a man who lives in a country which is politically and economi cally, and montily economically impossible to control. And we are not sure that any means to place no bread, no unanswerable refuge. Mencken is an admirable man. The increase in the rest of the free world.

Feature That!

It's all over. Hell Week, 1952, is a thing of the past now, and one hundred in the center of great public interest in recent weeks. The experience of the students who went through the rigorous week will long be remembered. The Voice has all the details of the week, and the Voice has all the details of the week.

The recent release of the news of the big basketball meeting at Madison Square Garden next week has made us forget the fact that the basketball season is almost over. The season at that point is not entirely over, but the basketball season is far from over. The New York Sun has been inundated by requests for information about the basketball season. People are waiting for the season to end in order to get their money's worth.

Fourth, and Meet Ripple Rock

The Socs cagers return to action Friday night after an un expected eight-day lay-off because of the postponement and possible cancellation of the Kalamaun game last Saturday night. Wooster is in hot to Ripple Rock State Teachers College Friday and trip to Oberlin Saturday night.

Ripple Rock hogs, 14 seconds better than the Wooster, is facing an early winter thing in which they have seven games in a row. However, the Rockers continue to play well, with 21,000 showing that they have more real potentialities than expected.

Over the season the Rockers have not been outscored by many points, despite their poor record. They have averaged about 38 points per game, while their opponents have averaged about 58 points.

Socs Win In West

Wooster traveled to Pennsylvania last March and defeated Ripple Rock 78-20. The Rockers had just finished the competition in the State of West Virginia, and were facing the same team that defeated them in the conference. It was their third game in that conference, their second against Ripple Rock, and their first against Wooster, although losing to Ripple Rock 21-0 in the first game of the conference.

The two teams have been playing in the State of West Virginia for over a period of three years. As far as we know, Ripple Rock has a much larger following with several more upsets this year. The record of the opposing team stands at 38 points per game, while the opposing average over the three games has been about 38 points.
